Marion Township Junior Police Distribute Association Letter

By Joel Snyder

The junior police of Marion Township have been enlisted to aid in the distribution of an open letter to all residents of Marion Township introducing the Marion Township Citizens' Association. In addition to making a plea for more members, the letter announces the MTCA meeting on Jan. 12 to be held at the Marion-Franklin High School which will be a high spot in the current program schedule.

Pictured above is a portion of the junior police group organized about eight months ago by Constable Elwood Webb. Numbering about 60 members, the group is growing, adding new members to the roster each month. With the coming summer months, the boys are looking forward to building a Little League baseball team and have already secured some sponsors to help furnish the equipment.

In the picture in the front row are the constables who are donating their time in a supervisory capacity. Kneeling l. to r. are Elwood Webb, Marvin Olney, Arthur Morrison and Alan Courtright. Not present when the picture was taken were Boyer and Tony Buccilla, brothers, who have agreed to act as athletic supervisors for the coming season.

The junior police have elected a chief from the ranks in the person of Daniel Ray, a student at the new Marion-Franklin High School. Acting as assistant chiefs in charge of the various school groups comprising the organization are Bob Dean, Melvin Olney, Odell Marcum, George Paugh and Robert Williams.

Among the usual duties performed by these future Sgt. Fridays is handling the parking problem at the various public gatherings in the township, such as school athletic events, festivals or other occasions resulting in large numbers of autos where additional help is needed.

Termed a success by the officers in charge was the effort made by the club to curb vandalism during the last Halloween days. Destruction was at the lowest ebb in recent years last October and the constables are quick to give the credit to the youths in the junior police who appointed themselves as personal guardians of their neighbors' properly by discouraging vandalism at its source whenever possible.

In helping to promote the Jan. 12 meeting of the Citizens' Association, the boys are assisting the drive to gain new members and strength for the comparatively new organization which has begun to act as the voice of the people in Marion Township during recent months. As a service to the community the Association has undertaken a fact-finding study of the advantages and disadvantages of incorporation, and annexation which will take the form of a public forum at the high school at 8 p.m., Jan. 12.

Featured at the meeting, which has been moved to the new Marion Franklin High School to accommodate the anticipated large attendance, will be Dr. Harvey Walker, department of political science, OSU, and Virgil Dassel executive secretary of Citizens Research, Inc., which only last year completed a report on the status of Marion Township. In addition to these two distinguished experts who will sit on a panel to discuss the pros and cons of incorporation and annexation, there will be two other individuals from other fields relative to township government, and a well known moderator will round out the forum.

At the end of the allotted time given these guests, a question and answer period will follow, allowing the audience an opportunity to participate. Careful attention has been given to assure an unbiased opinion from the invited speakers. This is a meeting that should be attended by every adult resident of the township, as recent rumors of new moves to incorporate have been heard and the Citizens Association does not intend that the voters go to the polls without being in possession of all information available if

A South Side soldier's wife was dead last Wednesday after she had received a shot of penicillin for a cold at Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

They explained the cause of death as anathylactic shock, a condition caused by extreme allergy to the introduction of a substance into the body. They added, however, that Mrs. Lambert had previously received several shots of penicillin without showing unfavorable reaction.

South Sider O. J. Fillinger Gets Nod For Presidency Of Council

Dr. O. J. Fillinger

Nomination and election of Dr. O. J. Fillinger, 228 Thurman-av, as the new president of Columbus City Council was one of the principal orders of business at the Monday night session of that city body. Dr. Fillinger's name was placed in nomination by Dr. Daniel J. Whitacre.

Decision to install the South Side dentist as the spearhead for the council was reached late last week at a session of Councilmen Jerry Spears, Jr., Roland A. Sedgwick, Walter R. Snider, Dr. D. J. Whitacre, Albert B. Gregg, Joseph R. Jones, and City Treasurer Arch J. Warren. The meeting was held in the offices of County GOP Chairman William Schneider.

A practicing dentist on the South Side for the past 35 years, Fillinger was next in line for the council presidency from the standpoint of seniority, having served as a councilman for the past nine years. He succeeds Joseph R. Jones.

Fillinger was first appointed to council Apr. 3, 1945, elected to the post in November 1945, and re-elected in 1949 and again last Nov. 3. He sought the presidency of council on the basis of his seniority and his definite expressions that he could well discharge the duties of the office.

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicke

Got your New Year's resolutions made and broken already? Things are back to normal then, after the holidays. Isn't it a chore to get back on schedule again? Well, it's gotta be done, so come on weary bone, start activating.

Ken Wycoff had a busy Christmas season for he journeyed up to Michigan with his son, Roger, and daughter, Susie. Then his mother made the return trip with them. She spent several days in Ohio. Mrs. Floyd Taylor is Ken's mother.

Two January 4th birthdays are bracketed together in the notes, so we'll just report on them together in the column. Sharon Martin is one and Leroy Webb is the other.

The holiday season of 1953 will be a memorable time for two brothers, for it will mark the time they had tonsilectomies. The two boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Robison Jr. 834 Wager-st. At last reports they were getting along splendidly. Jerry and Ronnie are students at Livingston School.

Congratulations are in order for Clovis Nogawick, 751 City Park-av, recently appointed as the executive secretary for the board of purchases for the city. Ye Gadabout remembers seeing Mr. Nogawick at Central Evening High when she took some courses there, so it's like extending a hand to an old schoolmate. Good luck, Clovis, we know you'll be doing your very best.

Grant Hospital has played host to two male members of our community recently. One is home and the other was expecting to be home yesterday or today. Ralph Macioci, a Barrett Jr. High student, is now home and Pat Stewart, 242 E. Jenkins-av, is the one who is hoping to be home. Ralph lives at 158 Barthman-av. Cards would be a very appropriate thing for both gentlemen.

The big day for Rosie Fuchs and Edmund York is almost here. "M" day for the two is January 9, at St. Mary's Church, 9 o'clock. After the wedding, the two will set up housekeeping at 925 Macon-st. We wish the young couple the very best possible, for they certainly deserve it.

Had Rosie decided to have the wedding a day sooner, she would have been sharing her sister's birthdate as a special day. Ann Thomae, 830 S. 17th-st, will be one year older tomorrow. Happy birthday, Ann, and scads more of 'em.

Saturday marks a big day for Karen Hansen, 727 Jaeger-st, for it will be her ninth birthday.

It won't seem the same around Wilson-av now with the Eberhards no longer a part of the scene. Peg and Edwin utilized the Christmas vacation to move into a spanking new home at 2725 St. Joseph-av. It's a dream come true for them, so the South Side's loss is the West Side's gain.

If you have some get well cards available, here's a very deserving person to send one to. Joe Donahoe, 226 Southwood-av, is the one who has been ill and we know he would appreciate a cheery message at this time.

A late December birthday was celebrated by Alice Leonard, a Barrett Junior High School student. Alice lives at 1822 Bucher-st.

Trudeau Guild 10 holds the first meeting of 1954 at the home of Mrs. S. A. Dicke, 1411 S. Sixth-st, Wednesday, Jan. 13.

We heard of a cute little incident that the bustling holiday season brought about. A harassed mother of four children bought gifts for the teachers of her brood and wrapped them beautifully. Her youngest son came home with a scowl on his face and she asked him the whys" of same. Said he accusingly, Mother, you forgot to put the gift in the box!" Sure enough it was lying serenely on the table where she had left it. Well, we're going to take this column "off" the table and get it down to the Leader office. With all the organizations starting up again, maybe GA. 1051 will be a little busier. Here's hoping!

SOUTH SIDE SETTLEMENT

The South Side Settlement once again sends New Years greetings to all in the South Side of Columbus who have helped us and those whom we have helped. We had a very busy holiday season with parties and gifts for our children and young teen-agers.

We delivered 59 Christmas baskets, 29 of which were prepared by students of South High School, several from church groups, and one family was taken care of by the 801st Recon. Techn. Sq. at Lockbourne Air Base.

Twenty five requests for baskets were turned over to other agencies after being cleared through the Central Christmas Care Exchange.

The Council of Social Agencies asked us to act as an outlet for the Marine Toys for Tots. There were 65 families representing about 325 children who received toys here. Many thanks to the Marines for this service!

Now we are ready to start our mid-winter programs. Our boxers have been getting some ring training in preparation for the Golden Gloves tournaments which will start soon.

Our first aid classes were not too well attended, due in part to the time of year. Any who would be interested in such classes please call GA. 2115 and if a sufficient number want it we will try to arrange for another series of classes.

Mr. Shawn will resume her adult art class at 7:30 each Wednesday evening. There is room for more in this group and if you have not been here before you will be welcome.

QUERY

She scolded her little boy for making deep footprint hollows in her new concrete walk while he was innocently playing.
Showers came . . .
Tired little birds, drank water from the hollows.
Is it true that our errors in life give succor to endless followers?

Carrie Lee Patton, in Talaria.

Mail — From the mother of three: "Now that Santa Claus has come and gone, I'm ready for that padded cell. When S. C. brought those drums, roller-skates, horns and other noise-making toys I knew he had rocks in his dear old white head, but I guess one of the joys of motherhood is listening to noise. If they are quiet I worry, but sometimes I'd rather worry a little" . . . From my favorite shut-in: "Oh, for the eloquence of Swinburn or Shakespeare or somebody, to see me through all the thank-you notes I have to write. I've tried to write them—but I waste more stationery that way! Have written and destroyed about a dozen or so" . . . From a relative in Arizona: "Our first Christmas away from Ohio wasn't as bad as we thought it would be, or as lonely. People in Arizona are amazingly friendly" . . . From Korea: "My first Christmas away from the good old United States wasn't as bad as I thought it would be" . . . From another friend who spent Christmas far from home: "Christmas wasn't as bad as we thought it would be. After all, I suppose Christmas is like life—you get out of it what you put into it." (I'm glad that Christmas "wasn't as bad as they thought it would be" for at least three of my friends and hope it was good for everybody else.)

A few things I don't have the I.Q. to understand: Why people think a doctor should never be ill (I have Dr. Miles' word for it that they do think so) . . . Why little babies sleep all day and are awake all night . . . Why television stations carry only Catholic services on Christmas Eve . . . Why nobody will admit he slept a wink all night . . . Why some of the tv and radio "comedians" are considered comedians.

I think that I shall never see anything as lonely as a cast-off Christmas tree.

After watching A. Godfrey's Talent Scout show last night, I know I'm not the only grandparent who considers a grandchild a V.I.P. (Glad I wrote about mine, and called him that before Tae Godfrey said it, so I can't be accused of "copying."). But it proves that grandparents are pretty much the same, whether they are great like Godfrey, or not great, like me/I.

From somewhere — A little boy was laboriously drawing a picture and his mother asked what he was drawing. He said "I'm making a picture of God." His mother reminded him that he could not make a picture of God because nobody knows what God looks like. The little boy replied, confidently: "They will after I get through."

Apparently no words were wasted in the old west, either orally or written. A tombstone carried the following inscription: "Low intelligence. High stakes. Low cards. High tree."

This old world goes round and round;
Some go up and some go down;
Some aren't important, and a few
Get their names in "Who Is Who."

Some get rich and some stay poor—
Earthly things do not endure;
After death, they're neck and neck,
So what the heck, kids, what the heck?

Suppose, for a moment, you were up here tonight, on the flying bridge of a large ship plowing through icy North Atlantic waters. Nothing to worry about, even though the seas are running high.

Suddenly, an engineer appears on the ladder, hurries across the rolling, pitching deck and reports to the Captain. There is excitement and fear in his voice. "Sir—the rudder's gone!"

Of course, such an accident is next to impossible today. Big ships just don't lose their rudders anymore.

Yet many who cannot think of such an accident without a chill of fear passing down their spine have managed to lose another rudder without giving the matter any thought. These people have lost the rudder of religious faith—and many of them lost their rudders when they ceased to attend church regularly. Only when disaster looms ahead will they regret their loss.

Churches don't fashion rudders. But they do enable a man to make one of his own that is stout, strong and indestructible. Sometimes there is nothing a man can fall back upon but his faith in his own dignity and his faith that God is with him. His church is his stout keel. His faith is his sure guide.

That man is not afraid of his future—for he sails forward with God.

Red Cross Financial Report Lists Expenditures For The Past Year

Helping the troubled man in uniform, his family back home, and the helpless veteran patient cost the Red Cross nearly 40 percent of its total budget last year, John P. Biehm, chairman of the Franklin County Chapter announced last week.

This was revealed, he said, in a financial report to Red Cross members listing total expenditures of $86,041,583 by the national organization and its more than 3,700 charters for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953. Of the total, Red Cross services to the armed forces and veterans cost $35,147,147.

In its major program, the Red Cross helped 232,200 servicemen and veterans each month at military installations and VA hospitals and 133,000 of their families each month at Red Cross chapters. Included was aid in solving personal and family problems, financial assistance in emergencies, help with communication between servicemen and their families, recreation in military hospitals, and help in applying for government benefits.

Of total Red Cross expenditures for this program, $17,525,171 was spent by the national organization and $17,621,976 by chapters. In Columbus the Franklin County chapter spent $57,830 in handling 8,998 cases.

The Red Cross Blood Program faced with emergency demands to supply gamma globulin to fight measles, hepatitis and paralysis from polio, cost the organization $12,879,362. This covered the collection of 1,791,650 units of blood for the treatment of civilian patients, the procurement of 2,329,600 donations for national defense, and the production of gamma globulin for distribution by the Office of Defense Mobilization. The national organization spent $6,692,253 on this program and the chapters, $6,187,109. In Franklin County 25,437 pints of blood were collected and the program cost $47,006.

For disaster preparedness and relief the Red Cross spent $6,776,077. the attempt should be placed on a ballot.

A concentrated drive for membership in the association will bring a "knock on every door" by various members who are anxious to make the MTCA a representative organization, including members from the extremes of the township area. It will be pointed out that the group will work for the good of all, not just for a specific neighborhood.

I attended the ceremonies at the township hall Jan. 1, to witness the installation of our new trustees. Inasmuch as the hour chosen for the event was 10 a.m., the morning after the night before, the mere presence of the newly elected officials attests to the fact that the voters didn't go too far wrong . . . Earl Lupfer was elected chairman of the board and Bill Fornof, vice-chairman. I could hear fairly well, but I still wouldn't go so far as to call it a public meeting, since there are a lot of conversations that take place at the officers table that could just as well be carried on from the floor.

It is hoped that in the near future the officials return the courtesy extended them by the voters who elected them, and let them in on the entire proceedings. We are sure that this has not been done purposely, and that it has just been an oversight. Perhaps in the past, the citizens have neglected giving the proper attention to these trustee meetings and a gradual decline of attention has been afforded them in return, with the trustees feeling that the public has lost interest.

With the advent of the Citizens Association, however, a growing interest is bound to evolve from these civic minded neighbors.

The 1954 Ford passenger cars and trucks, now on display at the Potter-Gager Co., 888 Parsons-av, feature the following Ford exclusives in the high volume field, according to officials of the South Side Ford agency:

An entirely new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 engine with overhead valves.

A new 115-h.p. I-block Mileage Maker Six engine, noted for economy.

New ball-joint front suspension which Ford engineers call the greatest advance in front suspension in 20 years.

The Skyliner — an eatirely new hardtop model with tinted, transparent plastic roof over the driving compartment.

A smart new Ford Sunliner convertible with an unusual transparent plastic panel inserted in the top over the front seat to provide overhead visibility.

Four new power-operated driving assists: power brakes, power steering, 4-way power seat, power-lift windows.

Fordomatic transmission.

In its 1954 passenger cars, Ford again is offering three lines — Mainline, Customline and Crestline —with 14 body styles. Three new body types added this year are: the Crestline Skyliner with the transparent roof and a Crestline Fordor Sedan, featuring luxurious interior trim formerly found only in costly limousines .. new Customline two-door station wagon similar to the four-door Country Sedan in trim and interior appointments has been added to the three Ford station wagons previously available. This is called the Customline Ranch Wagon.

Officials said that this year for the first time, Ford is offering buyers a choice of either its V-8 or six-cylinder engines in all models—a total of 28 models for 1954.

To maintain Ford's modern style leadership, the 1954 Fords are coming off the assembly lines in 156 exterior and interior color combinations with 13 single-tone body colors, 10 of which are available in 13 two-tone combinations. Twenty-three upholstery patterns, selected for their charm as well as durability, have been chosen by Ford stylists to assure harmonious interiors.

The 1954 Ford passenger cars are readily distinguishable by their new grille with its characteristic center spinner, recessed parking lights and jet-type air scoop. There is a new Delta-wing type hood ornament; an increase of half an inch in the height of the crown of the front fenders, and a new diagonal slant to the headlamps. Combined with the single strip of chrome running the length of the car, these give the new Fords a longer, speedier look.

New Administration Starts With Note Of Sincerity

If you were in attendance at inauguration of Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner on Jan. 1 or if you heard or saw the ceremony by radio or TV you certainly must have been impressed by the sincerity in every word he spoke. There was a reverberation all over city hall with the comment that was in unison: "He is sincere in what he is saying."

One main qualification has been uppermost when a name has been presented to him for consideration to an appointment. He has first asked "Is he honest?"

It is a refreshing situation to have a man in public office who does away with the double talk, is not afraid to speak out, who will stand up for the things he believes in and all the time he is hard at work has time to see the fun in the job at hand.

We've said it before and we'll repeat: If given half a chance Jack Sensenbrenner will make a fine mayor, and Columbus may well be proud of him.

Schiller Participates in Plans For World Brotherhood Week

World Brotherhood Week will be observed in 1954 starting Sunday, Feb. 21 through Saturday, Feb. 27. Sponsored on a nationwide basis, the President of the United States serves as Honorary Chairman.

During this week attention is directed to the need for improving intergroup understanding.

Last year in Columbus a number of youth-serving agencies joined together in sponsoring a special "Youth for Brotherhood Rally." The purpose of this observance for teen-agers is that it gives them an opportunity to study and appreciate one of the most basic of our democratic concepts — the dignity and worth of each individual.

This year plans are already under way for Brotherhood Week. Two of the officers of the Teen-Canteen at Schiller Recreation Center are members of a committee of teen-agers who met at the YWCA on Jan. 7 to plan a city-wide youth observance of Brotherhood Week.

The Schiller representatives, Terry Caito and Peggy Glaze, are working on committees which will handle the program and publicity for the observance.

The high scorers for Roosevelt were Ronnie Miller and Harold Ward. Each had 10 points. The leading scorer for West was Clappsaddle.

This afternoon's schedule pits Stewart vs Beck, Southwood vs Deshler, Siebert vs Livingston, and Heyl vs Lincoln. Greenlawn draws a bye.

The Gra-Y and Fifth Grade Leagues are supervised by Ed Cherryholmes and Jerry Honaker of the South Side YMCA. The Gra-Y club advisors, who serve as coaches are Beck, Charles Cooper; Deshler, Philip Courtad; Heyl, Earl Kelch; Greenlawn, Edgar Hancock; Lincoln, Louis Albers; Livingston, Raymond Kain; Siebert, Allen Trottman; Southwood, George Fisher; Stewart, Ray Kuehner.

The emphasis this year is being placed on sportsmanship, with awards being made to the best sport on each team and an award to the team showing the best sportsmanship.

Roosevelt Jr. Hi-Y Holds Camp Out

The Roosevelt Jr. Hi-Y club of the South Side Branch YMCA held an overnight camping trip at South Y-Park on Dec. 29. Eleven boys assembled at the school from where they were transported to the park. They spent the afternoon in building fires, making up bunks, and taking an exploratory hike. In the evening they gathered around the fire and played games. After retiring for the night, they kept a fire watch going all night.

The next morning the boys were served a delicious breakfast of bacon and eggs, prepared by Tom Nealeigh, faculty advisor of the Junior Hi-Y Club. Before returning home the boys engaged in a rugged touch-football game.

Panel Experts Advocate Present Government Form For Marion-twp

More than 300 Marion-twp residents Tuesday night attended the meeting called by the Marion-twp Citizen's Association at the new Marion-Franklin School to hear the panel discussion by a group of experts on the various problems of annexation, incorporation or retention of the present form of township government.

The general consensus of opinion by the panel headed by Dr. Harvey Walker of Ohio State University School of Political Science is that annexation or incorporation of the 10 square mile area which comprises the township, would solve no problems that cannot be met under the present township form of government.

The panel consisting of Walker, Ralph Snyder, Roscoe Walcutt, Virgil Dassel, executive secretary of Citizen's Research Inc., with moderator John McMann made recommendation to the residents of Marion-twp that they work diligently to improve current conditions by joining actively in the present form of township government.

Boy's Athletic Club Is Organized

This club is open to all boys from the fourth through the ninth grades in school and will be held every Saturday morning. The Schiller BAC is one of seven clubs held in various parts of the city sponsored by the Columbus Recreation Department.

Only One Week Remains To Get Dog Licenses

With only a small portion of the county's 41,417 dogs licensed, the Humane Society of the City of Columbus urges dog owners to obtain their dog licenses before the deadline date of Jan. 20. After this date a penalty is added.

If you cannot get to the Court House, Auditor Fred C. Dunn will mail your license on receipt of your application giving a full description of your dog and accompanied by the correct amount for the tag: $2.00 for a male, spayed female or female dog, and $10.00 for a kennel license.

Rev. A. A. Sebastian, of South Church of Christ, will be the guest speaker and has chosen as his topic "A Challenge Of The YMCA To The People Of The Community."

The South Side Branch YMCA, founded in 1917, in 36 years has developed from a spoke to the hub of a great wheel of services in South Columbus and Marion-twp.

The policy of the South Side Branch YMCA has been to unite and work with constructive forces in the community, such as churches, schools, business, fraternal organizations, civic organizations, industry, city and county officials, to secure many improvements for a spiritual, healthy, happy and growing society.

Other sections of the city of Columbus are desirous of the fine Community Spirit prevailing in South Columbus. The continuance of this healthy attitude on the part of organizations and citizens in the community demands leadership, vision, industriousness, and community support.

The South Side YMCA Staff, aside from its many programs for youth and adults, always strives to inspire and train the youth of the South Side and Marion-twp, not only for leadership but to be good followers as well, accepting their responsibility in maintaining and strengthening the policy of "A Better Community For All."

Representing the Southeast Lions Club this week is Lion Louis Whitacre, a charter member of the group.

Together with his wife Dorothy, he runs the flower shop and greenhouses at 158 Southwood-av.

Lou, besides being an active member of the Lions Club, is a member of the Allied and Columbus Florists Associations, a past chairman of the Council of South Side Organizations, a member of South Gate Lodge, R. T. King Chapter, OES, and the Craftsmen Club.

As a member of the South Methodist Church, he sings in their choir. However, his main hobby is his boys, Johnny 7, and little Tommy 8, and his two girls, Mary Beth, age 11, and Louise, 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Falter, of 238 N. Warren-av, became the parents of a son on Jan. 12 in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

It was written years ago that an individual should have a comfortable bed and shoes, as an entire lifetime is spent in them. But as for me, and proving an exception to this rule, I'll take a comfortable Linotype chair.—Holyrood (Kansas) Gazette, Leonard Sekaver.

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicke

To paraphrase a line from the song "Little Old Lady", "little bit of newsie here, little bit of newsie there." It looks a "little bit" more normal to see several scraps of paper in front of me, instead of the single sheet that has sufficed for oh too long.

Two of the little Black sisters make our notes today. Joyce because she celebrated a birthday on Jan. 5, and Barbara because she was a "guest" at Grant Hospital for an operation on her hand. She is doing nicely, at the last report.

A big family celebration marked the 83rd birthday of Charles Mohr, a South Sider for many years. Mr. Mohr is a retired C&O man. Seven daughters, three sons and 20 grandchildren took part in the family festivities on Jan. 6.

Several late December items should be chronicled before they become too obsolete. Little Gene Schrader had a birthday in the waning days of the old year. Mrs. Oscar Jenkins and her granddaughter, Sue Ellen Jayne Ross, spent the New Year's week-end in Willow Wick, O. Sue Ellen was thrilled, for it marked her first train ride. Jack and Bea Karch spent the holidays with their Columbus relatives, and are now back in the warmth of their Arizona home. Friends of Bill and Nellie Kaufman will be receiving their 1953 Christmas cards in 1954, due to a comedy of errors on Nellie's part. Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Russell, 1609 S. Sixth-st, celebrated an anniversary the day after Christmas, and today is Mrs. Russell's birthday.

Little Larry Kleinlein, an auto accident victim of two months ago, loves to receive cards. He is still very much confined to his bed and time hangs very heavy on his hands. He is in a cast, so if you have a spare get-well card, how about sending it to 335 Frebis-av? Another person to merit a cheery card is Rosie Mohr, 1560 Elaine-rd, who is battling a severe case of blood-poisoning. As readers may remember, Rosie is the person who sparked our Gifts for Orient drive at Christmas time.

Rev. Peters, of the Gospel Jewel Tabernacle, was surprised on his Jan. 8 birthday with a party. His congregation participated in the festivities. The day after, Jan. 9, marked another year for Paulina Fleckner, owner of Paulina's Delicatessen, 1264 S. High-st.

The James Evans family no longer receive their mail in Columbus, for their new home is in Parkersburg, W. Va.

Little Miss Sharon Rumsey, 222 Frebis-av, will be a year older next Tuesday, Jan. 19. She's still young enough to be excited by the prospect, bless her!

Another parakeet is missing, and his "family" misses him greatly. "Lucky" is the bird's name, and his unhappy owners are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, 401 Sheldon-av. If anyone has seen this little creature with the blue-spotted wings, how about dialing GA. 8-6063?

Long-distance birthday greetings go to a reader in Hermosa Beach, Calif., from Mom and Dad Schneider, 1402 Parsons-av. The recipient of the greetings is Pat Schneider, who celebrates a birthday on the 16th of the month. A resident of the Parsons-av address also has a natal day, and said resident answers to the name of Don Schneider. Don celebrates his birthday tomorrow.

The Ann Judson Mission Circle met Jan. 6 in the home of Mrs. William Johnson, 241 E. Moler-st, for its monthly meeting. The circle is one of the organizations sponsored by the South High Baptist Church and does work for White Cross Hospital. Mrs. Wilbur Michael was in charge of the devotions.

Ever hear of a "tobacco seat"? Neither did anyone else but Sarah Storts. (Translated, it means a piano beach, my friend.)

Ye Gadabout had a scrumptuous birthday last week, and wants to take this opportunity to thank all the wonderful folks who sent cards and gifts. Growing older sure is a pleasant thing with so many thoughtful friends around! One of the nicest things we had to happen to us was the surprise party engineered by our little friends, Mary Beth Whitacre, Sally Paulus, Jill Dean and our own Tomboy planned the entire party, complete with party hats, favors, games and refreshments! It was a thrill, believe me!

All the notes seem to be checked "off" so we'll check "out", but not before our weekly reminder that the number to dial is GA. 1061, if you want to reach . . .

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

So troubled heart, so stormy soul,
He walks the waves when billows roll.
He watches you, He calms the sea,
However fierce your Galilee.

TO A FRIEND

The cupboards must be cleaned and scrubbed;
The hardwood floors waxed and rubbed;
The kitchen chairs can't have a stain;
No fingerprints on windowpane.

The days depart on eager wings;
Work can dull a heart that sings,
But a moment with a friend can be Treasured till eternity.

Mrs. Gilbert F. Thompson, 1472 W. Sixth-av, publicity chairman for the annual cat show, sends in the following publicity; I hope everyone interested in cats will attend this big event. Dorothy (Mrs. Thompson) is entering her own Mari-Sand as a novice, since the cute blonde kitten is only eight months old. When she arrived at the Thompson home, Dorothy sent out clever announcements to her friends, of which I am fortunate enough to be one. But here is Dorothy's publicity:

Mail — From a cousin who lives on a farm in Licking County: "Better come down while we are eating high on the hog. We butchered last week" . . . From a reader (I have one): "Please use more jokes "In Passing" and tell me where you find the ones you do use. Some of them are so old they are new again" . . . From the mother of my namesake: "Your namesake has two sons now, four-plus and two-plus. They keep her very busy and at times are wearing to her nerves but she is a very nice mother. She cajoles them into good behavior, paddles if necessary. Vicks their chests and noses and keeps them as clean as two active boys can be kept, and feeds them well. That is about all boys like that need, except understanding . . . From my favorite shutin: "Now don't get all weepy if your young man takes a dim view of his adoring grandparents, and yawns in your faces. Babies resent untoward familiarity, according to child psychologists. Also, according to them, 'baby-talk' is not good. But I bet they talk baby-talk to their own children and grandchildren, though they probably would never admit it" . . . From a friend: "We women who have to save pennies to buy one dress a year cannot be too sympathetic because the Duchess didn't make the list of the 10 best-dressed women."

Things I refuse to worry about —Whether the Duchess ever "makes" the list again . . . The high price of shrimps, mink coats and chess sets . . . Things I can't help—I think . . . Whether Frankie and Ava try it again . . . How Zsa Zsa acquired her black eye . . . Whether there is "fear" in cigarette-smoking.

Wondering — what ever happened to telephone advertising (haven't had a call for three days, but I'm keeping my fingers crossed) . . . What ever happened to moustache cups . . . If brass beds are coming back, can the washstand with its bowl and pitcher be far behind . . . If the Christmas bills will be paid by the time the Easter Bunny hops over the horizon.

Greetings!

Hm — January is certainly giving us our winter weather! If your house seems gloomy and dull in these dark days since you have taken down your Christmas decorations, try a few flowers to brighten up. Cut flowers on your dining table, or on the coffee table in the living room do so much to cheer us up. Flowers on the table make even the simplest "soup" dinner into a festive occasion. Try it. A fresh bouquet will last as long as a week with care, and will cost you as little as $1.50, cash and carry.

Mr. and Mrs. John Metzel and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cowan are lullabying their new baby daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Pavisch, Mr. and Mrs. Place and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Duckworth all have new sons.

Best get well wishes to little Barbara Black, Ralph Imrich, our polite little Citizen carrier, Mrs. Evelyn Dunnegan, Mrs. Ray Gramlich, Mrs. Anna Messick, Mrs. Elizabeth Ott, Mr. J. E. Powell, Mrs. Brock and Mrs. Clara Hess.

Special birthday greetings to Priscilla (Gadabout) Dicke, and Marge Hoptry, David Whitacre, Mrs. Gordon Gardner, little Buddy Denney, Mrs. Dottie Sharp and Mrs. Henry Stoessel. Anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Knapp.

Randall Reported As "Very Serious"

Common Pleas Judge Cecil J. Randall, 1989 W. Broad-st, admitted to University Hospital Jan. 4 for treatment of a chronic illness, is in serious condition a hospital spokesman said Wednesday.

The veteran, 67-year-old jurist, first elected to the bench in 1930, has been hospitalized several times during the past year, his family said.

He underwent major surgery about a year ago and has undergone minor surgery since.

25TH DIV., KOREA — William L. Weetlee, 21, whose wife, Dora, lives on Reeb-av, was recently promoted to corporal while serving with the 25th Infantry Division in Korea.

Rushed to Korea during the early days of the conflict, the 25th Infantry took part in some of the most bitter fighting on the peninsula. It is now undergoing intensive post-truce training.

Cpl. Weetlee, a cook in the 89th Battalion's Company C, entered the army in December, 1952, and arrived in Korea last June.

Mrs. Pryeu — I never size people up by the clothes they wear on the street.
Mrs. Guyer — Oh, I never do. Give me a line full of clothes every time, my dear.

Scots To Meet At Southern On Jan. 23

The Daughters of Scotland, Purple Heather Lodge, are planning an evening of dining, dancing and song Jan. 23, at the Southern Hotel, when lovers of "Rabbie Burns" gather to meet the clans and celebrate the 195th anniversary of the birth of their beloved ploughman-poet.

R. C. Flynn, British consul at Cleveland, will be speaker of the evening.

Cameran McLean, baritone and interpreter of Scottish songs, and Dr. McLean, born in Rothsay, Argyleshire, Scotland, and Gold Medalist in his native Scotland, will entertain.

An interpretation of Highland dancing and piping by the Heather Highlanders under the direction of Ian McCallum will also be presented.

Following the entertainment the dance will follow in formation to form St. Andrew's Cross, emblem of Scotland. Two hours of round and square dancing will follow.

Butt-Insky

A fellow took his wife to the movies but couldn't hear because of the conversation going on in the row in back of him. When he could stand it no longer, he turned around to the fellow behind him.

"Excuse he, but I just can't hear a word," he said.

"Oh, you can't hear a word, huh? Well, listen mugg, whose business is it what I'm telling my girl?"

Ouch!

Tom was astounded that the judge permitted the apparently guilty man to go scot free.

"How did it ever happen?" he asked a court attendant.

"Because he was deaf," explained the other.

"What has that got to do with it?" demanded Tom.

"Didn't you know," asked the attendant, "that you can't convict a man without a hearing?"

Bad Start
This nail got off to a bad start.
An amateur might have yanked it out as scrap.
But in the hands of a skilled carpenter, this nail will be used again. Perhaps it it did get off to a bad start. But it can and will be straightened out—and next time driven hard and true, to hold fast throughout the life of the wood.
This little nail stands as a symbol for many lives. These lives also get off to a bad start. And unless checked in time, they will someday end up in the courts and newspaper headlines—unless the church has a fair chance to step in and help.
No church can ever force a man to "begin over" before it is too late. No church has any law. That power is the word of God, and if heeded by those who need it most, it can redeem the most unpromising career, and salvage the most hopeless prospect.
Perhaps, in your own life or in the lives of your friends, you can detect danger signals that stand for a "bad start." If so, do not delay. A God-given remedy for the assistance all men need can be found in your church, which counts the lives of all men and the salvation of all souls as its sacred duty and its sacred trust.
Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses.

This Is Not The Smell Of A Flower

This past week we had a call from a Hilltopper who works for the city and reminded us that Mayor-Sensenbrenner had stated back in the campaign that no one would have to shell out for the customary "flower fund" that has been operated around city hall for so many years.

It was a fact that the mayor did make such a statement and in our papers.

And it is also a fact that no such flower fund is being operated at city hall or any other department of the city government, in the knowledge of the mayor.

This same informant advises that workers have been told that the usual 25c a week that has always been assessed has now been upped to 50c per week and workers have been told they must either "pay up or else."

If such an order as this has been issued, the mayor advises, it is without his authorization. He firmly states that no city employe will ever be forced to contribute to such a fund.

It would therefore seem that if today and yesterday contributions were made to a flower fund such city employes should look into the matter for themselves. The odor that will come out of such an affair will not be from flowers but from a source of rottenness that takes on racket proportions.

Irving M. Ives, U. S. Senator from New York: "The American people do not desire a Mr. Republican or a Mr. Democrat, but a leader who truly and deeply understands their hopes, aspirations and fears."

The two crackmen had been toiling for hours at a tough safe. They were about to give up when one of them rose and moved toward the telephone.

Barrett Jr. In Third Cage Win

Barrett Junior High School's basketball team won its third game out of four tries by defeating Franklin Junior High School 30-28 at South High School.

Barrett played a good defensive game. Franklin's Sharp, who had averaged 21 points for the season, was held down to 12 for this game by Barrett's tight defense.

Barrett's offensive was spotty. During a Franklin drive in the third quarter Barrett lost possession of the ball three times.

George Devlin led the scoring for Barrett with 10 out of Barrett's 30 point total. Crow made 9 points for Barrett and the other 11 points were contributions from the other team members.

Sharp and Comer made 12 points each for Franklin.

Both teams were needing this game — Barrett to move up and Franklin to keep from slipping back.

Besides Devlin and Crow Henkle, Kochensparger, Wiegerig and Edwards were on the floor for Barrett.

Junior Church Basketball Loop Opens

The South Side YMCA Jr. Church Basketball League got underway Tuesday, Jan. 5 with Emmanuel Lutheran, Central Community and Washington-av EUB emerging victorious.

Emmanuel Lutherans' smooth working team took the measure of a young and scrappy St. John Evangelical and Reformed team 36 to 3. Jerry Hill's 18 points was tops for Emmanuel Lutheran. Richard Evans was the only St. John boy able to sink a basket.

Led by Dick Schumacher's 16 points, Central Community outlasted St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed to gain a 22 to 17 verdict. C. Onley and P. Sickel were the big guns for St. Paul.

With Wardell hitting for 9 points and Quincell for 8, Washington-av EUB defeated Ohio-av EUB, last year's champs, 22 to 10. Moore, with 5 points was high man for the Ohio-av team.

Schedule for next week — Central Community vs Ohio-av EUB; Emmanuel Lutheran vs Washington-av EUB; St. John Evangelical and Reformed vs St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed.

Hear, Hear!

A charming southern belle named Tandie was being courted by a rather stern young banker. When queried by a friend about the prospects of a matrimonial alliance, Tandie said flatly: "If that stuffed shirt pr poses, I'll give him nothing but a deaf ear."

But less than a week later Tandie was wearing the young banker's diamond. Her friend commented, " I thought you said you'd be deaf to any proposal from him."

"Yes, I did," Tandie admitted, looking at the great, gorgeous diamond in the engagement ring. "But I didn't say I'd be stone deaf."

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. J. A. Otten and Ralph White on the death of their brother, Donald Bish. Mr. Bish died in Mt. Carmel Hospital Jan. 3. . . . Eight-year-old Carolyn White returned home last week after a serious kidney illness, and is now convalescing.

Gwendolyn Roberts, daughter of Richard Roberts was seven years old on Jan. 12, and gets to visit Sally Flowers Show . . . Happy birthday, G. . . . We extend sympathy to Alois Bangert of Lawrence-dr on the death of his father, Sunday.

I would like to thank the very gracious woman who collected these many items for me this week, while I spent my time visiting my wife, Gloria, in the hospital. Although she is extremey busy, herself, she took time out to make the necessary calls to accumulate all the data you have just read.

She wouldn't allow me to mention her name, but I am tempted to anyway as it takes more time to gather these things than you might imagine. It is only out of respect for her sincere wish to remain anonymous that I do not divulge her name. But her initials are L.M. . . . There, Loretta . . . You should do this all the time.

South High School To Graduate 82 Seniors At Wednesday Commencement

Marion-Twp. Sidelights

By Joel Snyder

No one was more pleased than I to see the auditorium virtually full, at the Citizens Association panel discussion last Tuesday night. Braving near-zero temperatures the throng that responded proved that civic interest is anything but dead in Marian township.

The anxious crowd approached the meeting with a "What's this all about," perspective, and, during the next two hours, found out. Whether to incorporate all, or part of Marion Township, whether to annex to the city, or whether to remain under the present township government, was the problem studied and reviewed by the expert panelists invited by the Citizens Association.

The distinguished members of the panel were Dr. Harvey Walker, of the department of political science at Ohio State University; Virgil Dassel, executive secretary of Citizens Research, Inc.; Ralph W. Snyder, city manager of Westerville, and Roscoe Walcutt, former state senator. Acting as moderator was Attorney John P. McMahon.

As the first speaker, Dassel pointed out that the population has increased more than 50 per cent since 1940. His detailed study made a year ago of Marion Township was distributed among the audience, showing the figures on the schools, property evaluation, transportation, utilities and services such as garbage and refuse collection.

One of the most reverberating notes struck was the fact that the township's $38½ million evaluation was comparable to the $37 million claimed by Bexley and the $41 million by Upper Arlington. This fact indeed put teeth into the association's premise that it was high time the situation be sized up.

Dr. Walker explained the possibilities of each of the alternatives under consideration. If incorporation is considered he advised that the rural areas not be included but be attached to an adjacent township. Incorporation would, he said, grant additional powers but in doing so, the township would also lose some of the services now being performed by the county.

Former Senator Walcutt was admittedly in favor of township government but stated that any type of government depended largely upon the citizens themselves taking an active interest, which hit some of us rather hard. He thought it was foolish to assume that any change in TYPE of government would improve our status, as if "someone waved a magic governmental wand."

The opening remarks of City Manager Snyder were prefaced with congratulations for the large turnout. He expressed the wish that the people in his own community would respond in like manner.

"I have not seen so many people at a public function since we held a hearing on a dog ordinance," he quipped.

Snyder noted that many citizens in these fringe communities have moved there from the city, and are demanding similar services that were received in their previous locations.

It would seem, by virtue of the opinions expressed, that there are additional potentialities that we have yet to explore, as a township. We could, very profitably, even make better use of the functions that are now being performed. We have not yet exhausted all of our possibilities, but the decision is squarely on to the residents. At least the information given them Tuesday night in the beautiful auditorium will help the people make up their minds. It will take a lot of thought. Nothing new should be attempted without months of careful consideration, and planning.

No doubt those in attendance were awed by the modern appointments within the auditorium. The colorful back-drops highlighted by the latest in lighting fixtures, were typical of the other innovations which have been provided our students. If there is any one thing which deserves out utmore pride, it is Marion-Franklin High School.

With a membership of 400, the Citizens Association can look to the future with a more encouraging point of view. While this is far from being sufficient, it is a start we need everyone to join with us

Beck Gra-Y Team Wins In Opener

Beck Gra-Y uncovered a potent scoring machine to crush Stewart Gra-Y 23-0 in the opening game of the South Side Branch Gra-Y Basketball League. In other league action, Deshler trounced Southwood 16-8, and Siebert edged Livingston 12-10; Lincoln shaded Heyl 11-9.

Beck threw up a stonewall defense against an outmanned Stewart team, and scored nearly at will. Behind the scoring of big Gerald Hollingworth, Beck scored 17 points in the first half and coasted the rest of the way. Hollingworth was high point man for the day with 13 points. Leonard Byrd chipped in with six points.

Southwood saw red — red-head that is, as red-headed Don Zauderer paced his Deshler team-mates to a 16-8 victory over Southwood Gra-Y. Deshler led all the way with Zauderer contributing 10 points to pave the way to victory. Will Kirby and Doug Pritt were outstanding for the losers.

Siebert built up an 11-4 half-time lead and then withstood a late rush by Livingston to gain a 12-10 victory. The scoring was equally divided for Siebert with Terry Campbell's 4 points being high. Bobby Edwards carried the load for Livingston with 5 points. Eight players figured in the scoring column in this game.

Lincoln and Heyl put on a fine duel to end the days action. Heyl started fast with a 4-0 lead, and maintained a 6-5 half-time lead. The turning point came late in the third period when a basket and two foul shots by Garland Pinson put Lincoln in front to stay. A late rally by Heyl failed to overtake Lincoln as they came off the floor with an 11-9 win. Pinson was top scorer with 7 points, followed by George Crow of Lincoln and Morris Jordan of Heyl with four points each.

Referees for the games were Charles Grey of Roosevelt Jr. Hi-Y Club and Dan Bayes of Barrett; scorekeeper was Dick Federer, also of Barrett. Play will continue each Tuesday afternoon at Schiller Park gym.

By Nancy Tinton

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicke

No doubt what season of the year is currently with us, eh? Well, we were due for cold weather so we can't complain. Not much news again, sorry to report.

We were glad to hear that Mrs. Raymond Gramlich is back home and recovering nicely after her stay in Mt. Carmel Hospital. Cards would be an appropriate thing to send to 181 E. Markison-av at this time, and we want to wish Mrs. Gramlich a quick return to health-land.

Two little sisters and a neighbor think January is a pretty nice month for it brings a birthday to them. Of course one of the girls doesn't know too much about birthdays as yet for she will just be one year old, but the other two know what to expect. The young miss who attains her first year is Wilba Ann Sherman, whose birthday is Jan. 24. The day after, Darcella Louise Sherman will be four years old. 481 Jenkins-av is the home address of the Sherman sisters. Right next door at 483 Jenkins-av, Diane Burdiss celebrated her birthday this past Tuesday, on Jan. 19. (Don't you think Wilba and Darcella are two "different" names?)

Wonder if anyone else thought there was a lot of static electricity around on Jan. 13. Ye Gadabout was "shocked" three times that day and two guests in her home also experienced it. Wonder what causes it, etc.? Did anyone else notice it particularly that day.

Earlier January birthdays that should have been mentioned include those of Miss Lacey of Southwood School, Elwood Dawson of 123 E. Welch-av and Harold Martin, piano virtuoso of South High School.

Sorry we don't have the addresses of these ladies, but if you know them perhaps you'll give them a cheery hello via Uncle Sam's postal workers. The women are Mrs. Joel Snyder and Mrs. Pat Stewart.

The death of Joe Dobbins came as a great shock to many Columbusites, the Gadabout included. We'd worked with him at the Seneca in the Frank LaRue orchestra, and if ever there was a person imbued with a love of life, that person was Joe Dobbins. Life can be a pretty puzzling thing at times, can't it?

Now here's something we're really happy to report. The American Legion award at Barrett Junior High School was won by Marilyn Metzger and Rudy Wiegerig. Nice going, kids, and keep it up.

Friends of Ruth Karch just have time to get a birthday card in the mail, for her birthday is this Saturday, Jan. 23. The address? 272 Southwood-av, indeed.

Another of our South Side schools is due to oper its doors to reveal how nicely it has been remodeled and redecorated. The school is Livingston Avenue, and its open house will be an event of Jan. 26. If you have a child attending school there, won't you plan to be present at 7:30 p.m.? The PTA is hoping that lots of folks will attend the meeting, for there will be a bake sale and two editions of a musicale to be presented by the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. And if you have any sales tax stamps you don't need, they'll gladly take them off your hands. The women are raising funds to buy radios and draperies, so all their profits from these projects will help them toward this goal. The Room Mothers will act as hostesses that night, incidentally. Don't forget the date—it's Tuesday, Jan. 26.

Trudeau Guild 10 members had lots of fun and made some moola for the guild's coffers at the same time yesterday, when they attended the Penny Pruden luncheon in the Grand Theater building. Some of the ladies made it a complete "day out" by going directly to the tea at the governor's mansion, which was held for the "Mothers' March on Polio" workers.

Two of my neighbors have January birthdays, so greetings at this time to little Mary Cataline and Elmer Tanner. May your natal days be happy ones!

Stella McAdow is mending nicely after her recent operation and is in Room 802 at University Hospital. Another convalescent is Donnie Poe, now minus his bothersome adenoids.

The slip of paper informing us of the exact date is "missing", seems like, but we know that David Winchers, 236 E. Moler-st, is about due for a birthday, so we'll give him our "mostest of the bestest" wishes in this edition.

Cleo Canter has been on the ailing list recently, and that we don't like to hear.

Seems like we're fresh out of news, so we'll quietly exit but not before we remind you that dialing the phone number, GA. 1051, will find you talking to . . .

Mrs. George Leslien, president, will preside at the meeting. The auditing committee will give its 1953 report, followed by the election of 1954 officers.

Happy Birthdays Are Fun, Easy Too!

BY EDNA MILES

YOUR child's birthday party is always a memorable event. Probably you'd like to spend a great deal each year in order to have things just right. And most likely, your budget won't allow it.

Without a large expenditure, you can have party accessories with a custom look. To make place mats, napkins and bibs, you need only some drill or other sturdy fabric and several packages of the new adhesive denim patches that can be ironed onto the fabric. (These will withstand frequent launderings.)

You'll want to work out your own contrasting color schemes, of course. For four place mats and four napkins, you'll need one and one-eighth yards of fabric. Begin by cutting out four rectangles 20 by 13 inches and four 10-inch squares.

Fringe each edge of each piece by pulling threads so that you get a one-half-inch fringe. A row of machine stitching around the inside edge of the fringe will keep it from fraying when it's laundered.

Now, trace your child's favorite animals onto the denim patches and cut them out. Place the cut-out figures on the mats and napkins and iron into place.

For the bibs, make a pattern from brown wrapping paper for each bib. You can do this by tracing around a bib you already have on hand.

Bind the edges of the bib with narrow bias tape which you can buy in the five-and-ten. Stitch it around the edges of the bib on the right side, then turn it to the wrong side and hem. Continue the bias strip at the neckline to make the ties at the back of the neck. Turn in the raw edges of the tie and slip-stitch.

As before, place the denim patch figures on the bib and iron them into place. It's as simple as that.

These gay circus figures look bright and pretty on place mats and napkins for a birthday party. Decorative cut-outs are made from new adhesive patches in bright-colored denim. They are ironed on, will adhere perfectly and will launder indefinitely.

Hello:

If you want to try to keep your Poinsettia which you received for Christmas, put it into a dark place in your basement when it has lost its blooms, and water it occasionally until Spring. At that time, cut it back and sink the pot into the ground in a sunny spot in your garden. Remember to water it and bring it into the house again early in the Fall. Be sure the artificial light does not fall on it so that it has a short day, and it may bloom again for you next Winter.

The Saxon Lodge will celebrate its 44th year of organization with a party on Saturday, January 23rd. Anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Plotnick and a happy birthday to Mrs. Henry Pogue and Mrs. Louie Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Riggin and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clapham are two couple very proud of their new baby sons.

Our very best wishes for an early recovery to Mrs. Ellis Cron, Mrs. Roxie Chambers, Mrs. Helen Hedges, Mrs. Katie Vening, John Wimmer and Juanita Dick. Turn On Your Porch Light Next Thursday

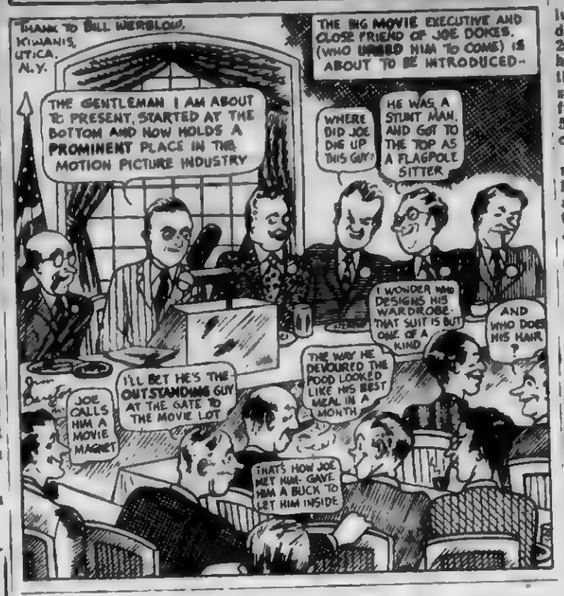
Let the Mothers' March on Polio worker in your neighborhood know that you want to join in the fight against infantile paralysis by giving to March of Dimes. Turn on your porchlight promptly at 7 p. m. next Thursday evening.



At that time, nearly 13,000 women will visit every home in the county where the porch light signals that the family living there wants to help. The dimes and dollars you give that night will help care for the new polio victims we will have in 1954 as well as to continue the treatment of patients from former years.

This year, you can take great pride in knowing that your dimes and dollars will help bring the blessed day of total victory over polio much closer. Through your financial support, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will be able to continue its research into the prevention of polio by field testing the newly-developed polio vaccine. It will also provide all available gamma globulin for the protection of persons who have been exposed to polio.

When the volunteer Mothers' March on Polio worker stops at your home next Thursday night, be as generous as you can. It will take 50% more in '54. Your gift to the March of Dimes will help a child walk again—and surely you can think of no better investment than that.

Remember the time—7 o'clock next Tuesday evening—turn on your porch light for the Mothers' March on Polio.

Letters To The Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters, however, must be not more than 400 words in length and all must be signed by the writer. The writer's name will be omitted if requested.

Editor:

Since the new mayor of the city has seen fit to put his finger on one of the sorest spots concerning the city's future growth, wonder if it isn't time to hear what the people in the surrounding territory have to say about Columbus' future expansion.

Much of the territory and the people immediately adjacent to the City on the north and west might be very aptly compared on their governing habits) to the Indian tribes who used to possess the same areas, and follow the same small disorganized governing methods, until they are as extinct as the Dodo bird.

The Indians, whether from a lack of proper future discernment or from just plain ignorance, followed the same pattern as the people of today are trying to emulate. They never believed that they should, in order to survive, get together with their neighbors and organize for their survival. Even the example of the stronger tribes seemed to mean nothing to them, and they continued to try to get along alone until the very time of their extinction.

So it is with all the different little cliques — and I use the word intentionally — towns, groups, and the many other little organizations that infest the City of Columbus on all sides. All having small questions of their own, fighting among themselves, petty jealousies clouding every main issue, until in almost every case they are working against the very thing that allows them to survive. The imaginary illusion that they may survive individually, even in the face of the facts that they can never hope to be self-sustaining and independent of the City. Under the present trend of high and higher taxes, at the local level, and in the face of all examples of history that they always will be dependent on each other, how long will they be able to continue their vapid imaginings.

The idea of ANNEXATION to the City of Columbus, which feeds the very life blood into them seems to be very repugnant to most of them. They, in the majority, depend on the City for their incomes, their water supply, their sewage, and indirectly, almost everything else they possess. They keen on kidding themselves, year after year, continuing administrative duplications, increasing taxes to support small town expenses, their debts and operating levies requiring more and more each year. Their educational plants never sufficient to handle the ever increasing number of school age children.

ON THE OTHER SIDE, the City sits idly by, twiddling its thumbs, chattering endlessly of high powered planning, slum clearance, progress and still more progress, of the ideally planned future metropolis, wearing itself to a frazzle trying to WINDJAM itself into believing that it really is the berries in its planning for the future.

All the while this endless City Chinmusic is being broadcast about the future beautiful city, the many developments, unplanned except as to the returns in hard cash that they will produce for their owners, and myriads of small towns are steadily encircling the City, catch as catch can projects are springing to life overnight, slowly but surely choking off the future planned development of the metropolitan area.

If it wasn't serious, a real belly laugh would be the result of many of the verbal antics, and the super ideal imaginings of many City yappers, while area after area is being allowed to grow into another hodge podge of accumulated planning mistakes, for some future City Planners to yak about and finally eradicate at public expense.

Can an ideally planned metropolis be produced by allowing the City to spread out in the shape of a cross, sprawled to the four winds, while in each corner, virgin residential territory, which any well-planned city must have, is deteriorating into more hodge podge developments, planned for the dough it will produce, with never a thought from the promoters of providing for school, police or fire protection. Yes, they put in streets and water and sewers, because they cannot sell them without, but these charges are paid by the sucker who buys them.

How many years has elapsed since Clinton-twp was disembowled by the City and left to try and survive with the head on one side of the City and the tail on the other?

How many years has it been since peanut politics and community Osmosis set in on Perry-twp, resulting in bite after bite being taken out of it until nothing remains completely intact, except a little strip around the Belly Button?

How long will the residents of Sharon be able to carry on their own extremely high rate of taxation?

How long would any of these three Townships and the small towns they contain be able to survive without their incomes, their water, their sewers, etc., which are provided by the people of the City of Columbus? — About as long as it takes the people to get out.

When, Oh When are we all going to decide that there is safety, economy, protection, etc., in numbers?

When are we going to decide that ONE set of administrators for all would be more sensible and economical?

When are we going to quit penalizing many of the children with the puny 1917 educational setup?

When is the City going to wake up and take what they should have to provide for the future rational growth? Or stop serving them with necessities until they do wake up?

When are we going to quit playing Indian Tribe and get together with the City for better educational facilities, better adminstration, safety and Economy? Most of us are willing, how about you?

We hope it is now, and we are glad to hear the new Mayor has thoughts in that direction, and at the same time, hoping that more progressive intestinal fortitude is contained under the belt of Sensenbrenner, than some of his predecessors.

E. M. Lantz
1999 W. Henderson-rd

Rising above the false to the true evidence of Life, is the resurrection that takes hold of eternal Truth.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Clearing The Air

City Hall Affects Everyone

Editor's Note: The following article is reprinted from a recent issue of The Clintonville Booster because it points out in all clarity the manner by which distortions of true facts have given misleading information to the public concerning the current city administration. We reprint Mr. Hollenback's article with the hope that it will clarify several situations and reveal to the public, the real truth.

By Rond P. Hollenback
Editor of The Booster and Chairman of the Municipal Civil Service Commission

Quieter Atmosphere

It has been noted this past week that the novelty of making every utterance of Mayor Sensenbrenner a sensation in the newspapers has quieted down.

This can be attributed to a number of reasons.

In the first place Mr. Sensenbrenner made some statements before election that he was going to do some house-cleaning in City Hall, and that in itself was a sensation.

Those he intended to dismiss have been around the Hall for some years, have become friends of the newspaper men, and probably this friendship cuts some ice in the final writing of a story.

Then, too, public employees have some special right to their positions under certain circumstances.

It seemed to be a combination of these conditions which added spice to the stories out of City Hall during the first week of the new administration.

There is another thing, too, that has not worked too well for the new mayor — that is his quick manner of speaking that can be interpreted in several ways.

Some of the interpretations and stories reflected the fact that those who heard the mayor very evidently had one idea and he had another.

Take for instance the employees at the Zoo.

It was discovered in the course of the recent survey of all city jobs that quite a number of employees at the Zoo were being paid off the pay roll of another department.

When the mayor said that the situation should be cleaned up, he meant just that. In fact every person in the city should want this cleaned up. It is foolish to put a large part of the operating cost of the Zoo into the Department of Water, for instance. Surely the pay-roll of the Zoo should show just what that cost is — and it should not be necessary to dig around in other departments to find out who works at the Zoo.

But a story came out in a newspaper, and the word was passed around the town that something terrible might happen to the animals at the Zoo.

This obviously would cause anyone to stop and think. Almost everyone is interested in the Zoo and wants it continued, expanded and well cared for. Further, nearly everyone loves animals and no one wants them to starve, or become sick and die. Some of the stories really reflected much of this calamity type of thinking.

It didn't take long for the mayor to straighten the affair out so that everyone need not worry about the Zoo.

But the incident clearly shows how distorted some reports can get. It shows also that it is easy to distort reports, and some people are not above doing this intentionally.

It might be well for everyone to remember that Mr. Sensenbrenner got a big share of his support from those people who know him personally, and who have known of his operation with Christian organizations devoted to the welfare of young folks particularly.

It hardly stands to reason that a man of this type is going to cause animals to suffer, or die, because of his orders to clean up a political mess that has long been tolerated, and should be straightened out.

There is no evidence of direct financial dishonesty in such a situation. It probably would cost just about as much to employ the people on one payroll, as on another. Of course some favorites always get a little edge somewhere. But the big factor is that the public officials shouldn't "kid" the public. In the long run it's always better to let everyone know "what the score is" all the time.

If Mayor Sensenbrenner keeps on this track everyone will know what the situation is all the time, and then it will be easier to operate the city.

Featured in the show will be a boys' and girls' chorus line. Other participants include soloists, Harry Swingle, Midge Komives, Bob Huskey, Marianne Hammon, Ollie Crowder, Joan Halsy and Carmen McBroom.

Instrumental solos will be given by Sam Bloom, Howard Kimberly, Eddie Balmer, Jerry Melmed and Gene Barban.

Jack Allen will tap out "Tea for Two" and Kenny Karns and Fred Renault will also exhibit their dancing ability. Janis Reese will do a ballet number and "Hall and Robson" will dance their version of the Charleston.

Marion Sidelights—

in taking an interest in our township affairs. If you are not now a member, sign up at the next opportunity. Maybe it would be a good idea if a prize of some kind was given the yet unknown 500th civic minded resident who joins this forward-looking group.

I would like to give a lot of credit to some neighbors who have shown their belief in this organization by working to promote new members. If you know any of these people, tell them you would like to sign up. They will be glad to explain the aims and purposes of the association.

Hugh Kelley, A. C. Meyers, Peter Mock, Elmer and Marie Eichner, Charles Davis, John Nippert, Fred and Loretta Meuser.

Leroy Gerbig, Jack Schoonover, Mrs. Ann Orr, Mrs. Barbara Woodburn, Mrs. Virginia Lanfer, Mrs. Ida Long, Dr. A. H. Imhoff, Carl Kennedy, Mrs. Arthur Smith, William Hackett, Mrs. R. L. Kelley.

Mrs. Dorothy Drake, Zane Mickey, Mrs. Betty Guthell, Fred Manning, or myself.

We would also like to express our appreciation for the work done by the Junior Police in distributing the open letters that were sent to all residents. Also to Constable Elwood Webb and others who assisted in the distribution for us. Without their help, we would have found ourselves sorely in need of the necessary facilities.

Don't forget, the membership fee for the remaining half year, terminating June 1, is only 50 cents. That's the cheapest home insurance you could find anywhere.

Great things are in store for Marion Township.

In observing that the topic discussed on Columbus Town Meeting, heard Sunday over stations WBNS and WBNS-TV was, "Should Columbus annex surrounding unincorporated areas?" we should be proud of the fact that we "did it first, so there!".

We want to express our very sincere sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Grimm, 1754 Oakwood-av, on the death of their son, Kenneth. The 2½ year old youngster befell the perils of the dreaded disease leukemia and his life was snuffed out like a withering candle last Wednesday. These things are difficult to understand but we must believe there is a reason. During these trying days we want Leonard and Margaret to know that they have our heart-felt sympathy and understanding, and that if there is anything we can do to ease the burden that has been placed upon them, they should not hesitate to mention it. Kenneth's death has indeed left a vacuum in our neighborhood, and although he has parted from us, he will always be remembered as a plucky lad who was brave to the last.

We also extend our symnathy to Jack Schoonover and his family in the death of his mother Tuesday, Jan. 12. Jack is president of the Smith-rd PTA.

The Smith Road PTA is holding its first meeting of the year Tuesday, Jan 26, and they are sponsoring a safety program that will be a WOW for a starter. Sgt. Letzler of the State Highway Patrol, will give a talk and conduct the showing of a film . "A Day in Court."

Nite Rays, just recently discussed in the legislature, will be distributed to those who want them. These have proven to be quite popular and of course anything that helps protect our youngsters will be welcomed. All parents, friends and neighbors are strongly urged to attend in the interest of their children and community.

I got a peek at the program schedule for the next few months, and things are booming at the Smith-rd. In the course of coming events, there will be programs that explain the new methods of grading, and teaching, and programs that deal with juvenile delinquency, with competent authorities in both fields invited to present the facts to the audience. Of course there are many other topics to be taken up that will be of interest too, and we're hoping that everyone takes advantage of the privileges presented by the newly organized PTA associations.

A fine person, who shall go down here as Mrs. K. of Oakwood-av, has been doing some good work in the way of collections from her neighbors for very worthy causes. Although she is very sensitive about it and is afraid that she is imposing upon her good friends, she has agreed now to become a collector in the "Mothers' March on Polio" Drive. This, she says, is the last. But since it's such a worthy cause, she just couldn't refuse.

We know of several women that feel the same way, in that they are always the ones who take the jobs of collecting money from their neighborhood, but certainly they should realize that they are in no way being offensive, as long as it's a job that ought to be done. All of these women say that they are surprised at the reception they get from their neighbors who in virtually all cases are more than anxious to do anything to help a worthwhile cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Price Olney were host and hostess to the Olney family reunion held at the Marion Township Hall Sunday, Jan. 17. Fifty-five members were present with the youngest being three months old, Andy Pressler . . . Mr. and Mrs. Logan Livingston and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Moore are taking a two weeks vacation trip to Florida. Carol Jean Boyd visited her little friend, Susie Wycoff, in Columbus, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith celebrated their 23rd wedding anniversary Sunday, Jan. 17. Congratulations, people! Mrs. Nelson Miller reports that her entire family has been laid up with the virus this last week, but are on the mend now.

Flickingers are moving into their new warehouse on Lockbourne-rd. Have you noticed what a nice building it is? Teeters Packing Co. is expanding, too . . . We're a little late in mentioning it, but we want to call your attention to the fact that Hertensteins moved into their new store on Lockbourne-rd just before Christmas . . . Drop in and see them soon.

Dorothy Zapp is helping out in the drive to gain new members for the Citizens' Association. If she knocks on your door, give a listen.

Loretta Meuser announced that all of the March of Dimes workers were invited to an open house tea at the Governor's Mansion Wednesday . . . Mr. and Mrs. "Tete" Clapham are the proud parents of a new baby boy, born Jan. 12. This is their first youngster and it is also the first grandchild . . . Mrs. Clapham is the former Patty Blum.

Pack 105 is presenting a Variety Show at its regular monthly meeting this Friday at the Smith Road School. For parents and friends, the program will feature square dancing, drama, circus acts and pantomime . . . Norma and Tony Digioia have returned from their vacation trip in Florida. She, by the way, was a captain in the March of Dimes campaign. These workers want to remind you to save your dimes for the drive tonight. They will also take dollars, they added with emphasis.

Southwood, Siebert, Heyl, Stewart Victorius In YMCA Opener

Southwood nudged Deshler 7-3 in a defensive battle in the opening session of the South Side Branch YMCA Elementary Fifth Grade Basketball League at Schiller Park. In other contests, Siebert trounced Livingston 22-9, and Heyl took an overtime thriller from Lincoln 17-15. Stewart gained a 2-0 forfeit win over Beck.

Southwood and Deshler put on a strictly defensive game as the score ended 7-3 with Southwood on the long end. The game was cleanly played with only four personal fouls being called. Southwood was led by co-captain Bill Jacobs whose two baskets in the first half gave Southwood a never-relinquished lead. Billy Warren scored all three points for Deshler.

Siebert made an impressive showing in its opener by beating a good Livingston team 22-9. Siebert made good on ten charity tosses to help their cause. Roger Thompson scored the games first two points, and tossed in two free throws for the last two points as the game ended. Thompson tossed in a total of 10 points for the day. Siebert jumped to an 11-2 halftime lead and was never seriously threatened. Billy Kauffman tallied seven second-half points to lead Livingston.

Heyl will probably remember the Lincoln game for many days to come, as they snatched a 17-15 victory overtime win from Lincoln. Lincoln held a 9-7 half-time lead and behind Mike Blake's three buckets built up a 15-11 lead midway in the fourth quarter. Kenny Schumacher sank a bucket to bring Heyl to within two points.

With only seconds remaining Bob Stevenson broke loose and scored a basket to send the game into overtime. Kenny Schumacher became the hero of the day by tallying the only basket in the overtime to give Heyl a hard-earned victory. Schumacher was high man with 10 markers.

Serving as volunteer officials were Tom Swiger, Jerry Cook, Jerry Rhea, and Dan Bayes. Play will continue in the league each Thursday afternoon at Schiller Park gym, under the supervision of Ed Cherryholmes and Jerry Honaker of the South Side Branch YMCA staff.

Butter for Reds?

Two excerpts from a weekend news dispatch datelined Washington, tell a grim tale:

"Washington — Pressures are mounting on the Eisenhower administration to lower some of the cold war barriers so as to permit more trade between the United States and Russia and its satelites.

"Many top officials responsible for international economic policy feel some decisions will have to be made fairly soon. Meanwhile, splits appear to be developing between the interests favoring trade and those wishing to maintain maximum economic pressure on the Communist bloc.

"The issue may come into focus upon an application by Minnesota businessman Dwayne Andreas for permission to export 20,000 tons of butter and 3000 tons of cottonseed to Russia. These are not strategic materials and there is no policy barrier against them except a general policy under which the government reserves the right to bar any exports to Russia contrary to the security interests of the United States."

And:

"If the deal for sale of surplus butter to the Russians goes through, the Soviet government stands to make perhaps 500 per cent profit.

"The Russians will sell the butter through their state retail channels at prices comparable to those charged for Soviet, Argentine and Danish butter now on sale—roughly 30 rubles per kilogram, which is the equivalent of $3.40 per pound.

"Since the butter will presumably have been purchased at the export prices of the Commodity Credit Corp.—40 to 50 cents a pound—the Soviet government stands to make a profit of $2.90 to $3 a pound, minus of course the costs of shipment and distribution.

"Meanwhile the whole thing will have cost American taxpayers from 15-25 cents a pound, since the U. S. government price to American farmers who produce the butter is 65 cents per pound."

Marion-Twp. Sidelights

By Joel Snyder

All the workers are ready and tonight the Mothers' March on Polio will deliver what is hoped to be a knockout blow in the nation's fight against a ghastly cripplor. Although some workers in the outlying districts of the township started early so that they could complete their job in time to finish with the rest, the main haul is scheduled for tonight.

In spite of the recent announcements of successful research, there is still much work to be done to establish a vaccine in sufficient quantities to benefit you and me. If you have any doubt of the good that has been done right here in our own back yard, let me remove all doubts. I know of at least five cases (and there are probably others) in Marion township that during the last year received in excess of $5000 from the March of Dimes.

Think what a help that was to the recipients of the benefits provided by all those who have contributed in the past. Think what it would have meant to each individual and family if there had not been a March of Dimes ready to aid. Think, and then give, when you are contacted by Mothers' March on Polio, here in Marion Township.

The Volunteer Firemen and Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Monday evening, Feb. 1, for the regular business session. The men will serve the refreshments at this meeting . . . The Marion Township Civic Association will meet Wednesday, Feb. 3, so come out and meet your neighbor and have a good time. This is not to be confused with the Citizens' Association, which will have its next meeting (on the second Tuesday of the month) Tuesday, Feb. 9.

The health and safety committees are planning this meeting and will provide an outside speaker, probably from the board of health . . . Those interested in law enforcement (or lack of it) in connection with the board of health won't want to miss it.

Mrs. Helen Jones of S. Champion-av entertained her club last Tuesday afternoon . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lupfer visited with the Leonard Burkeys last Tuesday . . . Mrs. Betty Kaiser attended the sister-in-law club last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaiser . . . William Rabbert is on the sick list, so cheer him up with a card. His address is 3551 Groveport-pk . . . Mr. and Mrs. Don Boyd visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyd last week. Don Boyd will soon be a Lutheran minister as he graduates from Capital University in a few months.

Rowena Walters bowled in the annual tournament at Cincinnati . . . Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Chrismer moved into their new home on Terrace-av Saturday . . . Mrs. W. A. Roberts has been ill for the past couple of weeks but is feeling better now. When she missed church a week ago Sunday, it was the first time in 14 years she had missed, so you can be assured the bug really had her down . . . Sunday will be World Mission Day at the Hope EUB Church and the Women's Missionary Society will participate in the morning services . . . On Friday, there will be a wedding at the Hope Church, with Lois Leedy and William Johnson tying the knot. Lois is the niece of Mrs. Clyde Corfee, formerly of 1276 Smith-rd. . . . He was a good student and citizen and was exceedingly well liked by both students and the faculty. Bob was a member of the Sportsmen's Club at Roosevelt.

In respect to Bob the Roosevelt-Franklin game, which would have been his last game played for Roosevelt, was postponed until Jan. 28.

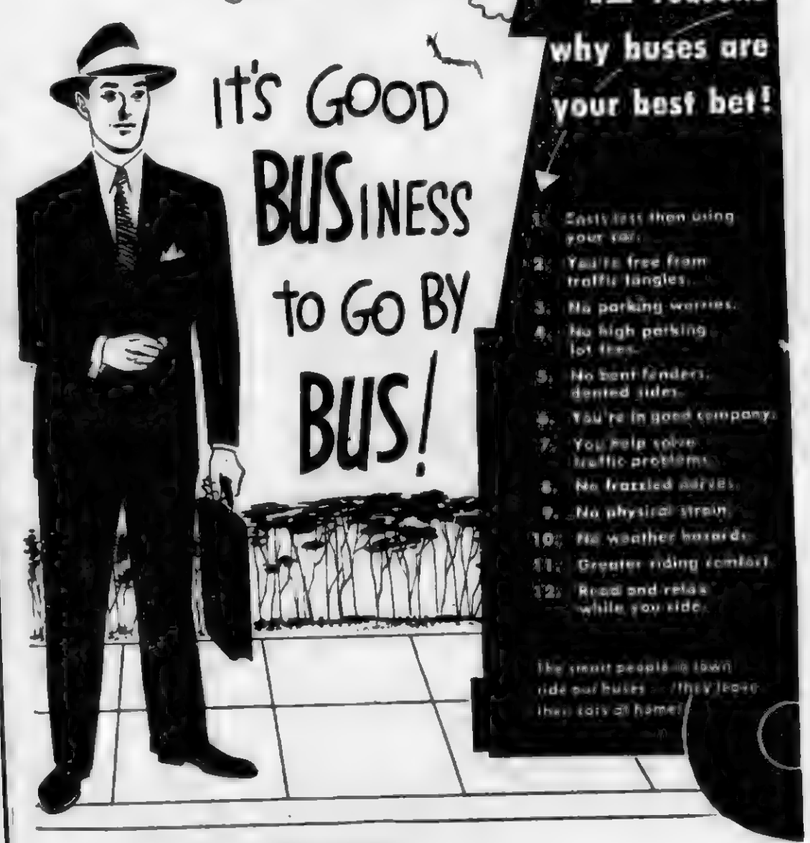
Hello:

January is almost over and February is at hand; February, a short but interesting month, with its famous birthdays and sweetheart holiday. Turn to flowers when you are hunting for a Valentine present. It is a welcome gift to any girl, whether she be your little daughter, your sweetheart, wife or mother. There's a special thrill to opening up a box of fresh, dewy, fragrant flowers that no other gift can bring.

We would like to wish a very special happy birthday to a little friend, Alice Marie Miller, and anniversary greetings to a former mailman and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Diewald.

Very best wishes to Mrs. George Fenneken, Mrs. Nellie Weiser, George Boyer, Louise Mendonca, Mrs. L. M. Byer, Lydia Klein, Mrs. D. Boyer, Mildred Stebring, and Lucille Helm, all of whom have been ill.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. William Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Arnold, who have new babies.



We are sure all her friends will join with us in wishing a "Bon Voyage" to Mrs. Margie Rockhold McCloskey who is on her way to Japan to be with her husband.

South Side Junior Church League

In the South Side Junior Church Basketball League, Ohio Ave., EUB broke into the win column with a thrilling 24-20 victory over Central Community. Watkins with 10 points and Grubic with 6 led the scoring for Ohio-av. Dick Schumaker with 10 points and the fine floor play by Billy Wolf sparked Central Community.

In another thriller, Washington-av EUB won a tight defensive battle from Emmanual Lutheran 15-10. Behind 6 to 3 at the half Washington-av put on the steam and forged ahead in the second half mainly on the strength of Freddy Donhgma's 10 points, 8 of them coming in the last half. Gerald Hill's 5 points were high for Emmanuel Lutheran.

Racking up 17 points, Bruce Gieshel led his St. Paul E. and R. teammates to a 25 to 11 victory over St. John's E. and R. Carr led St. John's scoring with 5 points.

Schedule for next week: St. John's E. and R. vs. Ohio-av EUB; Emmanuel Lutheran vs. St. Paul's E. and R.; Central Community vs. Washington-av EUB.

SOUTH SIDE SETTLEMENT

Did you know that an adult art class began last Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, at the South Side Settlement? The class will meet every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. This is not for artists, etc., but this class is for those who would like to learn to draw. As Mrs. Shawn, the teacher, says, "You don't have to be able to draw, just be interested!" Come and you'll be amazed at what will come out on the paper. So all adults—welcome. Why don't you call GA. 2115 now and tell us that you are interested in joining the class. You'll be glad you did!

One of our teen-age clubs gave a record dance on Saturday evening, Jan. 23, from 8:30 to 11:30, at the Settlement. Delightful refreshments were served and music was provided by records and one of the boys who played danceable piano selections. The sponsoring club members were Ada Goodwin, Pat Latham, Choycie Bonner, Norma Clayton, Charlene Fair, Irene Standifer, Peggy Wilkey and Cora Moon.

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicke

Ah, don't know when I've felt so chipper and full of pep, vim and vinegar! Some days are like that and wouldn't it be wonderful to have about seven of them in a row? The work that could be accomplished, the energy that could be expended! Right now tho, we'd better expend some energy in pushing this pencil, don't you think? The amount of notes is more like the "normal" amount, so maybe there will be a little more to read today.

Two members of the Day family have birthdays about this time of the year, so hearty greetings to Eddy and Helen.

The time is real soon now for two weddings that interest the writer of this coly-um as they involve children of friends of ye Gadabout. The first one takes place tomorrow night at Emmanuel Lutheran Church. The ceremony unites Gerry Schneider, 1150 S. 22nd-st, and John Streamer, of Baltimore, Md. The other wedding will take place on Saturday at the E. Broad-st Methodist Church when Norma Jean DeWeese of Millersport, O., exchanges vows with Bob Jones, 1305 Oakwood-av. Much happiness to both young couples for many years to come.

Young Danny Driscoll finds himself favoring his right wrist these days, after a nasty spill that sprained said wrist quite badly.

A couple folks asked that thankyous he extended to well-wishers via this space, and right here seems to be a good spot. First, Mrs. Clarence Lambert, 851 E. Moler-st, wants to thank ALL the neighbors and friends who helped her family so generously at Christmas time. The other lady who wants to show her gratitude is Rosie Mohr, who wants to express appreciation for the many cards she received when she was ill a few weeks back.

Marie Lyle will testify that the Pillsbury cake mixes make light, light, lighter cakes (a la Tony Marvin) for her ginger-bread cake had the top float right off recently. Don't take our word for it, ask her!

A grandma and grandson have birthdays in these waning days of the month, so Happy Birthday to "Mom" Fragiotti and to little Jimmy Brechon. Our wishes will have a long travel, in the case of Mrs. Fragiotti, for she is currently in Tucson, Ariz., getting acquainted with daughter Gloria's new little girl. The baby arrived last week, so now there will be another January birthday in the Fragiotti family circle.

Two family groups are happy to have Marine sons home again, complete with discharge pins. Bob Leonard, formerly in Santa Anna, Calif., is busy reverting to a civilian role, while his wife Flo, also is busy getting used to life in Columbus after her sojourn in the Sunny State.

The other Marine had a surprise Christmas party on Jan. 23, (yep, you read right!) and surprised he was. The Christmas tree in the Branscome home was just taken down this past Monday, as it finally served its purpose. All the family of Jackson Taylor saved their Christmas presents for him and 32 folks swarmed over the household at 1799 Goethe-st, giving Jackson a "Christmas" he'll never forget. Jackson's home address is 735 Reinhard-av.

The many, many friends of Andy Guyer, Sr., will want to remember him with cards etc., I'm sure, in the days just coming up. Andy, quite active in the Verhovay organization, is scheduled to go to University Hospital the latter part of this week and will be there for awhile. His home address is 386 Welch-av. Mr. and Mrs. Guyer just recently celebrated a 30th anniversary incidentally.

Two birthdays occured last week so belated greetings to Edith Peters, whose natal day was Jan. 21, and to Art Nixon, a year older since Jan. 23.

Attended the 9A graduation party at Barrett Junior High last week. (The Boy Scout is a "graduate" and it just seems like yesterday I wrote of his Southwood graduation!) and enjoyed every minute of it. Things we never "noodle now" — Mrs. Secrest is a fine exponent of the "Bunny Hop." The graduates had a fine party that couldn't have been bettered in any way, indeed.

Kathleen Whalen has been around one whole year, or she will be come tomorrow. Her mom and dad are the super-swell Marianne and Jim Whalen of 294 Frebis-av.

Remember ye Gadabout writing about the numerous "shocks" she'd received two weeks ago? Mrs. Grace McGill, of Jenkins-av called to say that she and her husband had experienced the same thing the same day. Seems like the cold weather enters into it some way, for last Saturday was another such day around this humble home.

All these current TV male vocalists better start taking notice, for Columbus has an up and coming boy singer who is doing top-notch work. Larry Robinson, son of Stanley and Lilybelle Robinson, is the young Heyl-av student who has such a beautiful voice. Last Friday he travelled to Southwood School and sang a group of songs for the pupils in that school. If mom nature favors him in the years to come, then all we can say is "Look out Como, move over LaRosa for here comes Larry Robinson. Larry's home address is 634 Siebert-st.

Sandy Leonard presents a "new" face these days for she is sporting the swollen visage that accompanies a siege of mumps. It doesn't seem to slow down her volume of words, however, does it Virginia?

The Penny Pruden luncheon that was attended by Trudeau Guilds 10 and 12 had many hilarious moments. One of the funniest was strictly accidental, when Lucille Hussey sprinkled Preem on her rice. Later she complained that the rice was unusually sweet, and that the "cheese" didn't help a bit! (As you know, Preem is a concentrated powder type of milk and quite sweet.)

Marilyn Nistlebeck was quite delighted to be able to start to OSU this quarter, a goal she has had all during her younger years when rheumatic fever kept her a virtual invalid. We sincerely hope that she gets to attain her goal of a degree in the not too distant future.

Jeanie Mathews will always remember her debut into the "teen years," for she celebrated it with a party to which 23 of her eighth grade classmates of St. Mary's were invited. Her actual birthday was Jan. 20, but the party honoring her 13th year was held on Jan. 23. These were the youngsters invited to the party at 353 Siebert-st: Barbara Sherick, Cathy Irwin, Carol Merz, Jackie Grinstead, Sheila McSweeney, Bonnie Thibaut, Mary K. Hummel, Joan Gentline, Becky, Patty and Barbara Conner. The boys' list includes Mike Hellern, Dave Schumick, Andy Callahan, Billy Dauer, Walter Carter, Johnny McGruder, Bob Divine, Mike Fix, Donald Fisher and Bob Smallwood.

The fabulous gentleman from South Africa, Ian Jardine, that many of you may remember reading about in columns past, was a guest in ye Gadabout's home last week, together with his charming wife and it was in the nature of a farewell. The two should be winging their way to Englnd right now, there to visit with relatives in the British Isles. After a three month stay there, they plan to fly to their home in South Africa. We asked Mr. Jardine to send us letters all along the way, and he pleasantly promised to do just that. If the readers have no objection, we'll be including them in the column from time to time. Take our word for it, he's a man who has something to say and the gift of saying it well.

One of our phone calls last week was from a Mrs. Joyce, and we think it bears repeating. She was telling us about the "Industrial Aid for the Blind" and asked that we inform the readers about some of the products that the blind folks are making to sell. The items are such as these: outdoor mats, brooms, dust mops, car washers, whisk brooms and ironing board covers and pads. This last item is being sold at a special price right now, being available for $3.45. Should you need any of the above articles, call either FA. 7200 or WA. 3813.

Little Eddy Speakmon celebrated his birthday on Jan. 24 so lots more "ice cream and cake" days, Eddy. Missy Fern Ashburn, 766 Kossuth-st, started her tenth year with a party last Saturday.

The members of the Needle and Thread Guild of the Hungarian E. and R. Church are eagerly anticipating the fun they'll have on Feb. 13, when they have their anniversary Valentine Dance at Croation Hall. Rose Benvi is the chairman and she hopes that folks will remember that date and plan to attend the dance. Pete Coachman's orchestra will furnish the music. We forgot to find out what the admission price is, but we're sure it's nominal. We hope to have that next week.

Little Johnny Komives, 294 Hinman-av, will be celebrating his seventh birthday in a truly worthwhile fashion, for he will be accompanying his mother tonight as she makes her rounds on the Polio drive!! Johnny's seventh birthday occurs today, so an extra-big Happy Birthday for the lad. There will be a family celebration this Sunday, deservedly.

Southwood Wins Thriller In Gra-Y League

Southwood Gra-Y team came from behind in a whirlwind finish to nip Stewart 17-16 in the South Side Branch YMCA Gra-Y Basketball League played at Schiller, on Tuesday, Jan. 19. In other league action, Beck remained unbeaten by downing Deshler 11-5, Greenlawn dumped Lincoln, 16-10, and Heyl trounced Siebert 18-6.

Southwood made a rousing third quarter rally and then made a story book finish to edge Stewart 17-16. Stewart maintained a lead throughout the first half, leading 8-4 at intermission. Southwood made it 10-10 after three quarters and then came a torrid fourth period. A basket by Dick Guver gave Southwood a 15-4 lead with a minute to play. Dave Hicks came back to sink two free throws to put Stewart on top with 30 seconds left.

Southwood worked the ball through and with only seven seconds left, pumped a push shot through to give Southwood the victory. John Hoke was high man for Southwood with 11 points, nine of those coming in the second half. Dave Hicks led Stewart with 13 points.

Beck held high scoring Don Zauderer to three points as they downed Deshler 11-5 to take the lead in the Gra-Y League with two wins and no losses. Beck led 3-0 at half and was never headed. Art Pendergast and Ken Knight led Beck with five points each.

Greenlawn did a complete about face in their game with Lincoln. After trailing 8-0 at halftime, they suddenly came to life in the second half and outscored Lincoln 15-2, to walk off with a 18-10 victory. Ray McNelly led the assault for Greenlawn with six points, while George Crow took scoring honors for Lincoln with seven.

Heyl casted to an easy 18-6 win over a fighting Siebert outfit. They built up a 14-1 halftime lead and were able to substitute freely. Morris Jordan led Heyl with 10 points. Marion Pierce and Jerry Hart were outstanding for Siebert.

Report From City Hall

Mayor Sensenbrenner Holds Firm Reins On Government; Public Likes It

Each day at City Hall continues to be filled with interesting developments since Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner took over the reigns as head of the city government on Jan 1

In fact there is never a dull moment and from all indications there is going to be no letup in activity for some time So far, in the face of what some people thought were insurmountable obstacles, the mayor is batting 1000 per cent And the public likes it!

Today the mayor is preparing an ordinance to be submitted to council asking for the creation of a position of budget director

This is not a new position It will be new to the present administration only because it was abolished just a short time before the new mayor came into city hall

Job Requires Decent Salary

The present city council had established the position by ordinance quite some time back Why the job was abolished has not been determined except that it is claimed that Auditor Barthalow doesn't like the idea of anyone having too much to do with city finance figures

The former ordinance as previously enacted by council was a good one and the one the mayor will submit will be essentially the same It will likewise require a decent salary in order to attract a capable man

The myriad of matters that must have the mayor's attention however make the establishment of such a position almost an essential. Then too Columbus citizens deserve to be better advised on city financial affairs and someone needs to be in a position to go to bat with the state to get all the municipal funds possible

Civil Defense Shakeup

Another piece of news that may have hit the front pages of the dailies by the time this is being read is the matter of the mayor giving assistants in the civil defense department Arthur J. Bellat and George Serrote, an opportunity to resign their positions

It appears that both positions are unclassified and are at the pleasure of the mayor He has indicated no immediate possible successors It appears that the director of the department, Arnold, will be retained.

Mayor On TV Sunday

Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner will take the air waves again this Sunday night at 10:30 on station WTVN in a program being sponsored by the United Service Clubs of the city. It will be a panel type program in which the public will be invited to phone in questions.

It was apparent this week that the mayor doesn't like any governmental setup whereby an employe gets paid on a fee basis and so it is likely that the position now held by Leo Urdil as secretary of the board of health will be abolished and all fees formerly collected by the secretary will be required to go into the general fund.

Monkeys To Get Loving Care

When the interim budget was passed by city council Monday night there was no provision set up for payment of employes of the zoo A short time ago some reporters tried to make the people believe the poor little monkeys and other animals at the zoo were in for a rough time because the mayor had asked that all department heads cut off employes that were not actually working in their department It happened that the zoo was being manned by water works employes

Now the mayor is coming to the rescue of these same animals after council failed Monday night to provide a salary for their keepers The mayor is asking council to appropriate salaries for these employes Seems the public will have to decide who made a monkey out of whom

City council on Monday night is a warm spot these days too One fairly flies thick and fast and especially along the subject of all the cooperation they intend to give the mayor It was that way this past Monday

Health Toothache Over

Then Councilman Fillinger objected strenuously to the filling of a vacancy on the board of health by the mayor The doctor claimed the mayor should have placed a dentist on the board to succeed Dr Robinson, a dentist

The mayor then reminded the councilman that he had submitted two names of good dentists for the approval of the dental group but when they turned both men against the job, the mayor had only one alternative that of appointing a good Republican and a fine citizen, Charley Jones Next move: Council voted unanimously to approve the appointment of Jones.

Councilman Sedgewick made quite a play Monday night on a statement that the mayor was padding the payroll with his appointees One city daily made it appear that the mayor had done just that. Another paper the same evening quoted the councilman as admitting that "maybe there's nothing to it" Actually the names of new employes appear as such merely because they have been hired under new classifications following the enactment of the new classification ordinance

Yes sir never a dull moment at city hall

By Joel Snyder

If you want to see some guys really make "donkeys" out of themselves, be sure and catch the Donkey Basketball game in the Marion Franklin gym on Friday Feb. 26 Sponsored by the Booster Club to raise funds for the football field and to buy band uniforms, the firemen and policemen of the township will comprise a team that will play against another team made up of school spirited residents, anxious to see that our teams have a field and a well dressed band to support them. Admission will be 60c for adults and 40c for children. If you've ever seen a donkey basketball game, you know it's worth a lot more than that in laughs. If you're worried about what 10 donkeys can do to the basketball floor, the animals wear rubber shoes, but I'm more concerned about what the athletes avoirdupois diets face if they've put on a little since their school days' does to the hardboards I hope the gym has a strong foundation. I hope you can all come out to see it And it's for a wonderful cause too.

Next Tuesday is the regular monthly meeting of the Citizens Association This, and all meetings will be held at the Marion-Franklin High School They are always the 2nd Tuesday of the month It is hoped that all members and friends attend as there will be many items of interest discussed The meeting will be at 8 p m, and will start promptly. It has been a habit of the presiding officer in the past to adjourn the meeting no later than 10 p m so try to come out and express your views or listen to the views of others. The organization needs the support of all its civic minded residents, and the only way you can help is to be present at the meetings

As guest speaker this month a spokesman from the Delaware sanitary engineers office of the Ohio Department of Health will present the subject, "Environmental Sanitation" and provide a color film in addition on the same topic This is a particularly timely subject and one that should be of interest to all

Dr A H Imhoff and Jack Schoonover of the Health and Safety committee have been very active the past couple of weeks Touring the township in a car, they uncovered umpteen situations that called for attention from the county health officers They then personally escorted an inspector from the Board of Health around the township pointing out some of the locations they had discovered At Tuesdays meeting the report from the Health and Safety committee should be quite interesting

Due to the fact that a couple of officers have become elected officials of the township since they

Siebert And Stewart Cagers Victorious In South Y League

Siebert and Stewart remained in a tie for first place in the South Side Branch, YMCA Elementary Fifth Grade Basketball League by winning their games played at Schiller Park Thursday Jan 28

Siebert trimmed Greenlawn 9-5 and Stewart edged Deshler in a double overtime 8-7 In other league action Southwood smashed Beck 33-4, and Heyl defeated Livingston 12-3

Greenlawn was unable to break their first half jinx as they could score only one point while Siebert scored five That was about the story as Siebert and Greenlawn played even in the second half with Siebert walking off with its third straight win 9-5 Ken Lee was the high man for Siebert with 6 points Norman Divine was outstanding for Greenlawn

Stewart won a real heart stopper from Deshler 8-7 Deshler got off to a 5-0 halftime lead, and it looked like an upset in the making David Erb took matters in hand for Stewart and scored seven second half points to two for Deshler to send the game into overtime Neither team scored in the first overtime period

During the second extra period, Erb sank a free throw which proved to be the winning point Tom Woodsworth was high for Deshler Stewart meets Siebert today to decide the league leadership.

Southwood opened all its throttles against an out manned Beck as they buried them under a 33-4 avalanche Southwood took an early lead and stretched it into a 16-2 intermission lead. Southwood coasted easily in the second half scoring nearly at will to rack up their second win against one loss to remain in the championship race

Jim Bryan flipped in 16 markers for the league high of the season Bill Jacobs scored 9 points for the winners Harold Pyle scored all four points for Beck

Behind the rebounding and scoring of Ken Schumacher, Heyl outgunned Livingston 12-3. Heyl took a 5-3 halftime lead and then held Livingston scoreless in the second half to gain their second win Schumacher scored 7 important points for Heyl

Beck Takes Lead In South Gra-Y Cage League

Beck Gra-Y Club took over undisputed first place in the South Side Branch YMCA Gra-Y Basketball League trouncing Southwood 25-12 Siebert knocked off Greenlawn 9-5 to drop them from a first place tie In other games Heyl down Livingston 12-5 and Stewart crushed Deshler 19-3

Beck's height and shooting were too much for Southwood as Beck made it three straight wins by a score of 25-12 Gerald Hollingsworth, Beck's big center, controlled both bankboards as Beck built up a 17-4 halftime lead South wood fought hard but never threatened. Hollingsworth and Leonard Byrd led the winners with 10 and 8 points respectively Dick Guyer and Dick Bishop led Southwood with four markers each

Stewart last years Fifth Grade Champions finally got going by thumping Desler 19-3 The big difference in the game was Stewart's Dave Hicks who poured in 17 points to give Stewart a 1-2 season record Don Zauderer played a fine floor game in his last appearance for Deshler

Siebert went into a tie for second place by upsetting Gleenlawn 9-5 Greenlawn's inability to score in the first half cost them the game as Siebert built up a 7-0 intermission score. Terry Campbell and Goerge Bowman, both playing their last game, scored 4 points each for Siebert Mike Thompson another 6-A, scored 4 points for Greenlawn.

In another league contest Heyl made it two out of three by defeating Livingston 12-5 Livingston displayed fine sportsmanship thruout the game and never gave up Heyl was the taller team and controlled the ball a great deal of the time. Morris Jordan and Sidney Lee each hit 4 tallies for Heyl Malcolm Collins and Bob Edwards were outstanding for Livingston.

Aid Requests Up Volunteers Needs Locally

An increase in the number of people asking for help has upped the Volunteers of America's need for old papers, magazines, and clothing, according to Lt. Colonel Susan Thom, director of the Columbus Post of the organization

"We can use all the paper our trucks can pick up" Lt Colonel Thom announced "If people who have been burning papers will telephone our office we will be glad to have a truck stop at their homes or offices."

Papers and magazines are but a few of the many items the Volunteers of America is able to salvage They have many calls for clothing, which can be salvaged for additional use and for furniture which is rebuilt and painted in the Salvage Department

Bulldogs Whip Cowboy Five By 77-59 Score

Last Friday night at South High School the West High cage squad put up a brilliant battle for three quarters against a superior Bulldog aggregation, only to have the home squad's greater height and bench strength take its toll in the final period as the city league's second placers broke the contest wide open to romp home with a 77-59 victory

The Bulldogs jumped into an early 8-1 lead with Jim Vincent registering the Cowboys first field goal with 4:19 remaining in the period From that point on the locals whittled away at the lead with Bowman's charity toss tieing the count at 12 all Hicks foul toss made it 13-12, successive goals by Vincent and Bowman shot the Cowboys into a 17-13 lead as the period ended

The Cowboys extended their lead to a 23-15 count with 5:17 still remaining in the quarter At this point Clarence Pointer, blue and gray star, gave an exhibition of some of the finest outside shooting witnessed in many a season, as he tossed in three successive long one handers Vincent retaliated with two goals for the Cowboys

Howard added two goals and Wright two free tosses to knot the count 27-27 A goal by Hicks and two charity tosses by Vincent again put the Cowboys in front 31-27. Pointer then tossed in three more successive long one handers to put the Bulldogs ahead at halftime, 33-31

The Cowboys continued to make it a close contest in the third session as Pointer and Vincent continued their scoring duel with three goals and a charity toss each, with the Blue and Gray leading 51-46 at the three-quarter mark

The home squad broke the game wide open in the final canto by outscoring the Cowboys by a 26-13 margin with Howard and Dunn accounting for 15 of those Jerry Ruffner, playing his final game for the locals accounted for seven of the locals markers

Outstanding for the Bulldogs was the all around brilliance of Pointer, who was the game's top scorer with 20 points, and who also turned in a brilliant performance off the boards Howard and Dunn also tallied 18 and 15 respectively.

For the Cowboys Jim Vincent again led the scorers with 19, while Hicks and Ruffner each tallied 13 and turned in good rebounding performances against their rangier opponents

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicke

And how are you today? Hope you're tip-top and that everything is okey-doke out your way. 'Tis a wonderful Sunday afternoon as I start this, and the day is beautifully sunny, for a pleasant change. One of our good friends has given us a long list of birthdays which helps immeasurably in writing today's coly-um. We'll just start off with some of the birthdays right now, if you don't mind.

Mike Tabor, 1566 S. Sixth-st, celebrated his Jan. 28 birthday with a party. Two other members of Mike's family now must acknowledge another year, too, one member being his grandmother, and the other being his aunt, "Grandma" is Mrs. Charles Tabor of Deshler-av, who had a natal day on Jan. 29. The aunt is Mrs. Ethel Grandstaff, whose birthday was Jan. 25. Still another member of the Tabor family had a recent birthday, none other than Grandpa Charles, who decided that February was a nicer month, so chose the third as a good day to have a birthday.

Three little tykes were recently a year old, so we want to pay the proper respects to them. Kent Heisley, 1830 S. Champion-av, with a Jan. 17 birthday, is the oldest of the trio. Stevie Baughman became a year old on this past Monday, and Donna Marie La Rue was sandwiched between the two boys with a Jan. 27 birthday. (Okay, Don. I won't say a word about you thinking it was the 26th!)

Lillian Ryan phoned and asked that I thank all women who worked on the polio drive in our South Side community. She and Mrs. Gus Husse were co-colonels for this section. Everyone did a wonderful job from the majors down to the workers and the two colonels really appreciate it. (And thanks to the neighbors in my block for being so generous, too.)

It's been nearly a month since Sue Herrinman had her birthday but the way it was celebrated rates a notice. A group of her co-workers at Omar's donned their evening gowns and trekked to her home for a surprise party! Really different, don't you think?

Two latter January birthdays include those of Mary Louise Jennings and Edna Siebert, 1588 S. Parsons-av. Mary Louise celebrated her new year on January 23, and Edna had her natal day on the 31st.

Get well cards would be appropriate for Doris Decker, who is in Room 323 at White Cross Hospital, and Mrs. Ray Lamberson who is in St. Ann's Hospital. (I was surprised to learn that surgery is performed in St. Ann's I thought it was strictly a maternity hospital. Is that a surprise to you, too?)

Don't forget the dance that the Needle and Thread Guild of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church will be holding on February 13, for it will be a nice dance, I know. The place is the Croatian Hall from 8 to 12.

Little Patricia Bauman will be one year old on February 10. The little lass is a resident of 207 Frebis-av

Milton Bonnette, 1640 S. Third st, had a birthday on Jan. 22, and he and his charming wife also celebrated and anniversary on the year's first month. Belated wishes on both events, Mr. Bonnette.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Orosy were delighted to have their son, Michael home for awhile on a Navy leave last week. The entire family had a farewell dinner for him last Sunday as he is now due in San Diego and the get-togethers will be less frequent than when he was on the East coast. The Orosz family home is at 1775 S. Eighth-st.

Scout Troop 31, of South Methodist Church, plans an eventful celebration for the annual Boy Scout Week, held next week. This Sunday all Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts will attend church in full uniform, then on Monday, the 8th, an interesting meeting will be held to commemorate the founding of the Boy Scout movement. A movie will be shown of a Canadian camping trip taken by eight men who travelled Canada's waterways via canoe. On the 12th, the Scouts and Scouters will hold a pancake supper at the church from 5 to 7 o'clock. Mr. Richardson didn't tell me the price, but I know it will be very nominal.

Received an interesting letter from Dorence Spaeth and she asked that all her friends write to her as she has lots to tell them. She's having a wonderful time in Texas and plans to attend the Houston Conservatory of Music. Her mail will reach her by sending it to Box 402, Kemah, Tex.

A phone call from Betty Yoakem disclosed an accident she had recently in which one finger was burnt to the bone. Unfortunately it is her crocheting hand and she's gotten way behind in her orders. She asked that I thank all the folks who have been so patient in waiting for their work. She promises that as soon as she gets the doctor's okay she will turn out the articles as fast as possible.

Shirley Ann Ninchelser, 515 E. Gates-st, celebrated her seventh birthday in grand style by appearing on Aunt Fran's program. This Lincoln Park student reached her "magic" seventh year on Jan. 26.

What a swell group of dads. Who? Why the ones at the new Deshler School. The fathers of the school are going out to campaign for funds to buy playground equipment for the school, and started this past Monday. The drive is slated to end on the 15th. We got a large charge from the name of the group—"Four P's" . . . translated, it means Proud Parents Playground Program." The committee members are as follows: H. R. Mathews, Marvin Lewis, John Westlake, M. R. Paxton, Dave Hondler and Theodore Pier. We wish the Four P's the greatest success in their endeavors.

Two more convalescents rate a notice, we think, so speedy recoveries to Frank Woods of 1451 S. Fourth-st, and to little Rickey Gilley, 1606 S. High-st.

Early February birthdays include those of Sharon Downs and Mary Cordray. Tomorrow will bring a birthday to Maurine Ruden, 901 Heyl-av, who rates high in our book.

Betty Mae Baughman and Joyce Bradford journeyed over to Dayton recently to visit Glenda Lindsey of that city.

It would be quite a nice thing if lots of folks sent cards to Harold Keller, who is now hospitalized in the Dayton Veterans' Hospital, for he's quite a sick person. His Columbus address is 351 Sycamore-st.

Another youngster who recently had a birthday was Paul Winkleman, who was two years old on the second.

Oh to be with the Greiner and Henry families! Dr. and Mrs. Charles Greiner and Dr. and Mrs. Gene Henry will be leaving for New York City this Saturday and will return on the 18th. While there, they plan to attend as many plays and shows as possible. (That's always been a long-time dream for ye Gadabout, and by cracky I'm gonna do it, someday!) Have a good time, chillums!

We don't know the hospital, but Mrs. Tom Madigan is slated to enter one this week, and our best wishes go with her.

Virgil Bradford, 59 Reeb-av, receives belated January birthday greetings, and Mr. and Mrs. Arch Turner merit a remembrance for their January 27 anniversary.

It doesn't seem possible that our youngest will soon be 12 years old! It just seems like yesterday that her proud daddy brought a huge box of candy to the hospital in celebration of the little blackhead's birth! Happy February 6th, my dear little Tom-boy.

Well, that seems to be all the items on hand, so we'll get on to other chores of which there are plenty! Don't forget, GA. 1051 is the phone, and this is . . . .

The Gadabout.

There's a town in one of our states that hundreds of American veterans remember . . .

A big train stopped there at four in the morning, and on it were always a few service men who had to "lay-over" until the connecting train came through. And that lay-over didn't sound pleasant on cold winter mornings.

Yet it was.

For every man in uniform who stepped off that train was greeted, and taken to a comfortable home where breakfast was waiting on the stove. There was no charge—ever.

"Why did you do this?" the astounded soldier or sailor would ask.

And his host would smile.

"The church people in this town meet you fellows every night this train comes in . . ."

That's a fair sample of the spirit found in the community churches of today. They are filled with people who gather every Sunday to receive guidance and counsel.

On weekdays, these people practice what is preached.

Perhaps you are looking for such a church. It's not far away. It may be in your block. Certainly, it's in your neighborhood. And in it, you'll find the type of hospitality and friendliness that came from one church in that one town that the service men remember.

That's the town where the people met the train . . .

Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.

OH, JUST TO BE A POET

I wish I could sit down and write,
Just like the poets can do.
To bring my thoughts out in rhyme.
With expressions tried and true.

To weave in words a happy verse,
Or of a scenic view they see.
Of a character or of something,
As for instance, say, a tree.

And when they write of someone,
Of whom they truly are in love.
The words are in terms to amplify;
That radiance from up above.

Then too, they can select or switch,
Upon things sordid and sad.
With each word they visualize,
Between the good and the bad.

I would be a king if I could write,
Those thoughts I realize.
And I'd classify myself as being,
A man brilliant and really wise.

By Charles W. Midmaier.

Wouldn't

Upon seeing a grapefruit for the first time and Irishman said: "Thim's pretty big oranges, and it wouldn't take many of thim to make a dozen."

You Never Can Tell

Girl — Why didn't you tell me I had a dab of rouge on the tip of my nose?

Escort — How should a man know how you girls want to wear your complexion?

Sufficient Evidence

Motorist — (going from England to Scotland) — can you tell me if I am over the frontier yet?

Native — Give me 4 shilling first.

Motorist — That will do. I must be in Scotland.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
We would like to take this opportunity to advise you of our schedule of Scouting activities for National Boy Scout Week which begins Feb. 6 and extends through Feb. 12.

Sunday, Feb. 7, is Boy Scout Sunday and the Scouts of Troop No. 31 together with the Scouts of Pack No. 31 will attend church in a body at South Methodist Church. Time to meet at the church is 10:15 a.m.

Monday evening, Feb. 8, a special meeting will be held at South Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. A special program has been arranged for the Scouts and their parents. Cub Scouts of Pack No. 31 with their parents are also invited to attend. A very interesting film of a canoe trip through the wilds of Canada will be shown and narrated by Vance Leonard, assistant Scout executive. Refreshments will be served.

Friday evening, Feb. 12, is the date for the second annual pancake supper, between the hours of 5 and 7 p.m. Tickets are 75 cents and the public is invited.

A window demonstration of Scouting will be on display in the window of the Heil and Scheiderer Hardware Store, 1683 Parsons-av, during National Boy Scout Week. Stop by and see the display from Troop No. 31.

Hope to see you on both Monday and Friday evenings.

Best wishes,
Boy Scouts of America
Troop No. 31
Louis Hughes, Scoutmaster

Editor
South Side Leader

If you have room in your next issue of the Leader, we would appreciate your including the following news item, and thank you.

Boy Scout Troop 56 and Cub Scout Pack 25, at Corpus Christi, have made plans to celebrate Scout Week, beginning next Sunday, Feb. 7. The troop leaders, the den mothers and committeemen will receive Holy Communion with the Scouts at the 7 o'clock mass, after which all will be treated to a ham and egg breakfast in the social hall.

At 3 o'clock there will be benediction and blessing of the neckerchiefs in church, followed by presentation of Cub Scout awards, and a Boy Scout tenderfoot investiture.

Troop 56 has prepared a camping scene in miniature, a knot board and several other handicraft items which will be displayed during Scout Week in the store window of Hoermle's Appliances, 1894 Parsons-av.

The den mothers of Cub Pack 25 have arranged for a handicraft display in the store window of Whittier Dry Cleaners, corner of Whittier and Oakwood-avs. The boys are showing items which they have made and used in their monthly skits since September.

Edwin H. Adolph
Committee Chairman

Dear Editor:
How many people in this great land of ours have ever given any thought to what they would do in case of an atomic or air attack? Would you know what to do? Would you know how to take shelter in your own home? Would you know how to prepare a place of safety for use in case of such an attack? If you have no place which you could fit up for such an emergency, do you know how to protect yourself and your family, as well as your pets, if any?

All these things could be learned in a course of first aid.

Not only these things, but how to take care of any injured or ill person in an emergency.

If you saw an automobile accident would you go on past, because you "don't know what to do, or how to do it?" First aid instruction would teach you this and many other useful things.

Let's get a class started in the South Side. It would be well worth every minute spent in study and in class sessions.

If you are interested, call safety services at Red Cross headquarters and state your desire for such instruction. There are well-trained instructors available.

First Lady Of Columbus Shares Family's Favorite, 'Jam Cake'

One of the pastry favorites of Columbus' new mayor, Jack Sensenbrenner, was revealed this week by his wife, Mildred. The addition of jam adds to the festive appearance of this colorful dessert.

Mrs. Mildred Sensenbrenner

The family resides at 335 Guernsey-av. Their older son, Ed, is enrolled in the college of commerce at OSU, and he and his wife, Lois, operate Sensenbrenner's Office Supplies, 2467 W. Broad-st. Dick, a student at West High School, will graduate this June.

Mrs. Sensenbrenner has shared her husband's sincere interest in the problems and welfare of young people and has devoted a large part of her time and effort in their behalf. She organized the junior church department at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church 15 years ago and has, through the years, shown continuing interest in the young people's program.

She is also actively interested in the Kiwanikwe, Hesperian Club, Columbus Little Symphony and the YMCA-affiliated sorority Gradale.

Her recipe contribution of a favorite family dessert is for delicious and unusual "Jam Cake."

The policy (and a wise one, we think) of the Association will be to disallow elected servants of the public to hold offices in the Citizens Association as well. Naturally their interest and cooperation will be welcomed, as in the past, but only in an unofficial capacity.

Report From City Hall

"If This CD Is Best I'd Hate To See The Worst," Sensenbrenner Asserts

Political Activity While On Defense Payroll Is Scored By The Mayor

A lot has been said about the fight the mayor is carrying on to oust tw officials of the civil defense organization. The mayor contends he is asking that Hilltopper Arthur J. Bellar and Gordon Serrott resign their positions because they were paid out of civil defense funds while actively campaigning for the Republican machine last year.

Mayor Sensenbrenner this week pointed out that the mayor is responsible for administration of the various departments of city government for which public funds are expended and that in his opinion the two men in question were not doing the type of job that should be done.

"It is true," the mayor said, "that some sirens have been installed and a sky watch has been set up but just ask any persons if he knows what to do in event of an actual attack and you'll soon determine just how much has been done to educate people of their responsibilities regarding civil defense.

"If the Franklin County Civil Defense organization is one of the best in the country as some people claim, then I'd hate to see what the worst is like," he stated. I want civil defense brought down to the level of the man and woman and child in the street so they will be educated as to what they are to do in event of a disaster."

As reported in this newspaper last week, a meeting will be held this week to reorganize the financial and administrative set-up of the Columbus Municipal Zoo. Heretofore the operating costs of the zoo have been supplied largely through the water department and charged up to that department as costs. The mayor has stated that he has no desire to take anything away from the zoo but does feel that a seperate department needs to be set up so the costs of the zoo can be determined and charged accordingly.

The mayor has had considerable support of this plan and especially from many persons who have been quite disturbed at increased sewar rental fees while money from the water department was being diverted to pay for another department.

Citizens Discuss Marion School District Affairs

The Public Opinion Panel of Marion School District, a representative group of citizens that meet periodically to discuss school questions, held its regular January meeting on the general question of "How will we house the children of Marion Local School District in 1955-56?"

This question has been under consideration for the past several meetings. It was learned that according to projected enrollments there would be need for about 18 new elementary classrooms and 20 new junior or senior high school classrooms in the 1955-56 school year. There was considerable discussion of estimated costs of buildings and of effect of additional building on tax rates.

The group suggested that a recommendation be made to the Board of Education for a new bond issue to be submitted to voters of the district in the May primary. However, a recent change of the law makes submission of this question in May impossible, and the earliest time at which the people could vote on the issue would be sometime this summer.

In the spring a meeting or series of meetings will be held in the high school auditorium to discuss school needs and the provision of those needs. It is anticipated that in connection with these meetings the band of Marion-Franklin High School may make its first general public appearance.

A questionnaire to determine what people think of the schools of the district previously considered by this group is now in the final stages of preparation and should be ready for submission to all citizens of the district in the very near future.

Steelton Merchant Group Plans For Off Street Parking Study

The monthly meeting of the Steelton Merchants Association was held at St. Ladislaus School Tuesday, Feb. 2. There were four guest speakers: Emmett Ramey and Bob Krauss from the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., also Mrs. Lillian Ryan and Mrs. Gus Husse from the South Side polio drive.

This marked the first meeting with the new officers in charge and many items of interest for the benefit of the South Side were discussed. One of the main issues was the necessity of off-street parking in the Steelton area. A committee headed by Bill Findley was formed to investigate this problem. Robert Horowitz, president, also appointed committees for the various projects that are on the agenda for this year.

The next business meeting of the Steelton Merchants Association will be held Tuesday, Mar. 2, in the basement of St. Ladislaus School. All members are urged to attend.

Otto L. Meier Named Traffic Group Chairman

Otto L. Meier, former president of the Steelton Merchants Assogiation and the Council of South Side Organizations, was elected chairman of the City Traffic Commission at its first meeting of the year this week.

Otto Meier

Meier succeeds Ralph L. Wolf, former city traffic engineer and commission members as commission chairman. The selection of Meier as chairman was unanimous by the three other members of the five-member commission. Wolf's seat remained vacant.

Well-known as a South Side civic leader, Meier has been a member of the City Traffic Commission since Feb. 7, 1950. A general insurance agent, with offices at 40 W. Gay-st he lives at 229 Jenkins-av. In 1951, Meier served as a member of the Transit Fare and Service Investigating Committee, which was headed by Paul R. Gingher.

In one of his first statements as chairman, Meier said he hoped the commission would retain its independence from selfish groups, City Council, and the administration. He expressed the hope that opinions and decisions would continue to be based on "what is best to solve our traffic problems."

Parsons Library Increased Book Loans In 1954

Things were looking up last year for the Parsons-av Branch Library, according to annual statistics just compiled by the Columbus Public Library.

Nearly a thousand more book loans were made than the year before, and the number of registered borrowers increased

Book loans last year totaled 53,149, as against 52,367, while the number of people signing out library cards zoomed from 4,561 to 4,803. The number of books on the shelves kept pace, with 13,152 volumes available as against the previous total of 12,895.

The increased book business reflected city-wide trends.

Sadie Hawkins Dance Planned At Schiller

Feb. 26 will be the day when the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance will be held at Schiller Recreation Center. That Friday evening the dancing will get under way at 8:00 p. m. and will last until 11:00.

The theme for the evening will be borrowed from the Li'l Abner comic strip. Everything will be Dogpatch style. Decorations will center around the characters and unique architecture found in that famous fictional city. Everyone will wear informal clothes, the girls will don jeans and the boys, levis.

An intermission show, featuring a trio composed of Hazel Erk, Phyllis and Polly Schoenholtz, will be one of the highlights of the evening. The Teen-Canteen and the J R Club have planned to provide refreshments.

Admission will be free for those who attend the dance and those joining in the fun can come either stag or drag.

Ohio EUB Rally Nips St. John's

In a hard fought battle in the South Side YMCA Junior Church Basketball League, Ohio Avenue EUB staged a thrilling last half rally to nip St. John's E.&R. 29 to 28. Behind 18 to 6 at the end of the half Ohio Avenue came to life and with Watkins leading the way with 13 points finally edged a scrappy and improving St. John five. Dave Jones sparked St. John with 13 points.

Emmanuel Lutheran downed St. Paul E.&R. 19 to 11. Jay Gramlick and Tim Hepner were the big guns for Emmanuel Lutheran with 6 and 5 points respectively. Sickig led the scoring for St. Paul with 6 points.

In another thriller, Washington-av EUB won the first round by squeezing out a 25 to 24 victory over Central Community. A missed push shot by Billy Wolf, which just rimmed the basket with just a few seconds to go, cost Central Community a chance to hand Washington-av EUB their first defeat. Billy Wolf led both teams in scoring with 14 points. Engo and Wardell sparked Washington-av with 8 and 6 points respectively

Your Branch Library

If you are looking for reading that will really take you out of the dull routine of everyday life into a land of adventure, try a historical novel. You will find that a good novel of this type will take you on a journey into other times and other places and you will find yourself for the duration of the novel, living with the characters and helping them solve their problems which, though they occurred many years (perhaps centuries) ago, are not very different from those besetting us today.

At the Parsons Avenue Branch Library, there are a great many historical novels from which to choose. They may be borrowed and read at no cost to the reader.

Here are a few which have interested many readers:

"The Lady of Arlington" by Harnett Kane, is the story of a great man and of the woman who rose to greatness with him. For the first time the full story of Robert E. Lee and his wife, Mary Custis Lee, is told. Mary's father was not impressed when she decided to accept a handsome dark-haired young lieutenant named Robert E. Lee. Young Lee had little means, no estate (such as she who was the heiress of the magnificent Arlington estate), and, some thought no career ahead. But Mary never wavered in her faith in this man.

"The Trees" by Conrad Richter, is not a usual historical novel but one of authentic American life of which there are few. "The Trees" begins the story of Worth and Jary, a wild and woodsfaring family who lived a roaming life, pushing ever westward as the frontier advanced and as new settlements threatened their isolation.

In "The Town," by the same author, Sayward, eldest daughter of Worth and Jary Luckett, completes her mission and lives to see the transition of her family and her friends, American pioneers, from the ways of the wilderness to the ways of civilization.

"The Lieutenant's Lady" by Bess Streeter Aldrich, is a story of Nebraska and Dakota territory of earlier days. In telling the story of Linnie Colsworth and her lieutenant, Mrs. Aldrich has written a deeply tender romance and a tale of day by day adventure the like of which only the American army on the frontier 75 years ago could have known. "The Lieutenant's Lady" will recall to thousands the perennially popular novel, "A Lantern in Her Hand."

Nashville's most illustrious citizen and his faithful wife are the subjects of "Home to the Hermitage" by A. L. Crabb. Yet, they must share the spotlight with their own creation and most cherished possession, their beautiful home, the Hermitage. Mr. Crabb brings into focus the tenderer qualities of that tempestous man, Andrew Jackson, and mirrors feelingly the devotion of the Jacksons to their Tennessee lands, to their Hermitage, and to their friends. The story of Andrew and Rachel Jackson is one for the ages. The reader is moved to deep compassion by the inevitable conflict and fatal issue between Andrew's destination for the Presidency and Rachel's love of home.

The stirring novel of early America, "Now We Are Free", by Marguerite Allis, begins and ends in Connecticut but the eyes of its colorful characters and their thoughts and their talk are constantly turned toward the wilderness to the west—in what is now Ohio. The theme of the novel is the fight for freedom of opportunity and conscience which have always been driving forces in American life.

The story is continued in "To Keep Us Free." The men of New England who went out to the fertile and beautiful lands along the Ohio at the beginning of the last century did not at once find a new Garden of Eden. They soon realized that freedom indeed can never be taken for granted but must be fought for constantly, and protected. In this book some of the most inspiring episodes of our early history come to life completely and believably.

The well-known writer Ben Ames Williams is the author of "The Unconquered," a story of the South in the reconstruction period. The main scene of action is New Orleans, largest and wickedest of southern cities. This is a story of unforgiveness and disunion, but it is also a story of hope and rebirth. It is the love story of Lucy and Lieutenant Don Page, a boy from Maine who has faith in the new South.

Parsons Library is open for you to browse or borrow books a Mnday, Wednesday, and Friday from 1 until 9 p. m.

Another Big Year For Housing Is Forecast

Housing, one of the key props in the nation's economy, will have another big year in 1954, according to Business Week magazine's annual housing survey.

Sales have picked up since Christmas, and builders are confident that 1954 will come close to 1953's 1.1 million housing starts. Builders know they must offer more value, more gadgets, and must promote harder. They look to Washington to ease credit terms, especially to bring the income family back into the new home market.

Home builders closed out 1953 with 1,102,000 construction starts and they think they have another one million starts in sight for 1954. By any standards, prewar or postwar, a million-start year is a very good one.

Adventure... That's Scouting

We think that Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13, is a good opportunity for calling everybody's attention to its stimulating program of adventure and good fellowship.

In every boy there is an urge to adventure which cannot be gratified by just "giving him something to do." He deserves the enjoyment of well-rounded activity of the kind he will find in the ranks of the Boy Scouts.

Every organization requires LEADERSHIP. We honor not only the Boy Scouts, but the men and women who give so willingly of their time and talents to lead the Scouting program.

SCOUTINGS 44TH ANNIVERSARY

There are now 3,300,000 active Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and leaders throughout our country.

Each February since 1910, when we were organized, the records reveal an uninterrupted increase in membership growth and communities served by the Scouting program.

There is a reason for this fact. So many of today's fathers who were Scouts encourage their sons to join the Movement for the fun it offers and the training they receive in citizenship and character development.

They know by their own experience that a Scout leader is the kind of a man they want to guide their sons.

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicke

Have you ever had insomnia? Taint so good, is it? Well, ye Gadabout is "enjoying" the malady so let's see how a column written at 4:15 a. m. turns out. That last cup of coffee was too much, I'm afraid. (A thought anent coffee . . . since the delicious brew is so expensive and cigarettes seem to be so unhealthy, people will soon have to find other ways to waste time, won't they?)

Our first item concerns a very sweet little girl who will be having a birthday soon. Miss Sally Paulus enters into her twelfth year this coming Sunday, Valentine's Day. An Abraham Lincoln birthday is another young lady's birthdate, name of Becky Leonard.

Lots more birthdays were celebrated recently, so we'll wish belated greetings to Mrs. Emma George, 622 Southwood-av, a resident of the South Side for many years. Another belated wish goes to Jane Vaupel, of 248 Thurman-av. Beverly Weakley, popular South High student, has been quite a sick young lady these past few weeks. Poor Bev has had a siege of pneumonia and needless to say, she's still a mighty weak young lass.

A Stork Shower was the order of the day for Barbara Wons Fortis, 2230 Groveport-rd, on Jan. 31. Scene of the shower was the Kimco Club House and 40 women received invitations to the affair. On Feb. 2, Barbara was guest of honor at a shower given by fellow employes of the Bell Telephone Co.

Another Valentine birthday is in store for Lorraine Itskin, 1713 S. 3rd-st.

Dave Leonard certainly is a sociable young man, for he joined his sister in a "mumps" contest. He didn't really have to, you see, for he'd already had them once, years ago!

Oh dear, here's a name I scribbled so quickly that I can't now decipher it! It looks like Tommie, so I'll write that, and I know the last name is Baum, so friends of the youngster will recognize that much at least. There's a Feb. 13 birthday in the offing for the six-year-old resident of 612 S. Lazelle-st, to be duly celebrated with a party. What makes the news even more intriguing, Master Baum is the 13th grandchild on his daddy's side of the totem pole. (The 13th child, and born on the 13th. That's sumpin', hm?)

Dr. and Mrs. Marlin K. Farmer were visitors at the home of Mrs. Farmer's mother recently. The Lansing, Mich., residents arrived Feb. 2 at the home of Mrs. G. H. Gruber, 653 Stanley-av and enjoyed a short visit before travelling to Florida. Their two sons, Michael and Jeffrey, were with their parents.

A mother-daughter combination hold a February monopoly on birthdays each year. Mrs. Robert Eberts and her daughter, Loretta Ann, have Feb. 9 and 10 birthdates respectively. Loretta Ann reached the magical 18 on her natal date.

Both Eberts list 268 E. Southwood-av as home.

How heavenly this sounds! Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Jenkins are now enjoying the warm temperatures of Hot Springs, Ark., for a mid-winter vacation. They will be down the southwest-way, for three weeks. Ah, how good it sounds!

That fine music teacher at Barrett Junior High, Herb Germaine, dipped another year from Father Time's birthday box last Friday, but doesn't look a day older, so help me!

Dorothy Whitacre is nursing a painful shoulder these days and she has our sympathy. Take care of yourself Dottie, and DON'T try moving any more pianos.

Mrs. Silas Smith rates best wishes for a late January birthday and her son and daughter-in-law celebrated an eleventh anniversary on the last day of the month. To all the Smiths, great gobs of good wishes.

Two sisters are convalescents at the present time, tho for different reasons. Mrs. J. Max Smith, the former Creta Jean Young, is now at her home, 604 E. Hanford-st, after an operation in Doctor's Hospital. We're happy to add that she's doing nicely. Mrs. Robert L. Fisher, 602 E. Hanford-st, is gaining strength after a bout with the virus. Mrs. Fisher was the former Ruth Ann Young.

Feb. 14 seems such a romantic day for a wedding anniversary and so it must have seemed to Isabelle and Jim Coslett 20 years ago. This super couple receive our most sincere wishes for continued happiness.

Feb. 14 seems to be a key date in all our writings today, for here is yet another mention of it. The Altar Society of St. Leo's are holding a bake sale in the school hall on that date, scheduled to start at 6:30 a. m. and to last until all the baked goods are gone. They will also be serving breakfast for a nominal 25 cents. The breakfast consists of rolls, fruit and coffee. (Coffee alone is almost worth that, isn't it?) All proceeds will be used to help in the remodelling program slated for the school.

Early February birthdays were those of Barbara Biete and Peggy Tabor. Barbara Biete was a year older the very first day of the month and Peggy Tabor followed suit on the 11th of the month.

A last little cutie and we'll be on our merry way. Two young sisters feature this anecdote, on a naughty one. The father was quite exasperated and moved to declare "You do that once more and I'll take my belt off! You know what that means, don't you?" To which the "good" one piped up "yes daddy, your pants would fall down." On that note we'll close but not before reminding you that a call to GA. 1051 will get you the ear of . . . The Gadabout.

'Taint How It Smells, Gals, It's What It Does For YOU

By Betty Duff

"A rose is not a rose on everybody", might be the summation of an article written by Louise Paine Benjamin and published in the Ladies Home Journal, being distributed in pamphlet form by local drug stores. It is a unique approach to the art of perfume selection based on the idea that a women's identity is associated with the type of perfume she chooses and should, therefore, be selected with the greatest care.

Written in the form of a quiz, it offers an entirely new and different method of determining which scent is best for you. The five categories include questions which cover personal preferences in the choice of newspaper articles, general reading selections, types of movies preferred, taste in clothing and social occasions.

Your own answers form the basis of a comprehensive personality analysis. The most complimentary perfume classification is recommended and a long list of well-known blends and fragrances for each type is suggested.

If you are the adventurous, spirited type that feels pride in the exploits of successful women, enjoys their biographies and is most comfortable in simple, tailored clothing, your perfume should harmonize with those tastes. Not for you the sweet, flowery odors, but instead, the tangier, outdoor scents of spicy carnation or geranium, or blends with pine would be more complimentary.

The author suggests that real glamour lies in accenting your natural personality with the proper perfume choice, rather than in wearing a scent because it is new and startling. Her personal analysis method, if followed carefully, will prevent such errors and make perfume-buying an adventure with a happy ending.

In Passing

By

With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the Nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan; to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.—Abraham Lincoln.

MY VALENTINE

She is temperamental as April
And often she will disdain
My proffered love, then she'll condescend
To take it back again.

She has a dozen other loves,
My fickle, charming Valentine,
And though I'm paying anxious suit,
If she knows, she gives no sign.

"She is lovely; she is engaged"
To the doctor, the postman, the man next door,
Yet the only Valentine I want
Is a certain miss, age almost-four. R. V. (Reprinted)

Valentine counters are busy and interesting places these days. Having a few minutes to spend the other day, I spent them watching people buying Valentines, and enjoyed my snooping very much. There was the lady who bustler in; grabbed a handful of Valentine cards and ask the clerk to hurry, she had to catch a bus. Two teen-agers giggled over some of the more gooey verses and didn't buy any. Two young men—aged about ten—looked all around in the best gangster style, to see if anyone was watching, then bought a "secret pal" deal, paying the clerk for it was a handful of pennies. A prosperous looking man read a lot of verses very carefully, then selected three. One was for his wife; one for his mother, and the other was for "little daughter," or that's what the Valentine said anyway. But the sweetest buyer was a little old lady who asked the clerk to read the verses on several Valentines because she couldn't see veery well. The Valentine was for her husband and it was a very beautiful verse—all about how she had loved him "through the years." I'm going back to that counter and perhaps I'll watch you buying your Valentine a Valentine.

If you like zany entertainment that doesn't even pretend to be cultural or instructive, you'll love the Walter Phillips Show on WLW-C. Mr. Phillips was good on radio (he conducted the all-night show on WLW before his morning show on television) but tv is good to him; vice versa. Our Patti O'Hara helps a lot to make the show a bright spot in anyone's morning. Now if WTVN would put Patti's Mammy and Pappy back on that station, I'd never get any more work done. Patti's parents, as everyone knows, are Blanche and Dad Meachum, of "Just Neighbors" fame.

One of the loveliest verses I ever read about Lincoln contained the lines

"A great light out of darkness came.
And Lincoln filled the world."

Sorry I don't know the poem or its author, but here is part of a poem by Vance Douglas, reprinted from a verse magazine:

WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE
Our freedom faces dangers grave
As ever stalked footsteps of man.
Our Constitution would be scrapped
If by their wiles wa could be trapped;
Cooperation with their plan
Would make of each of us a slave.

But when the peace returns again
I pray a Lincoln helps to guide:
That no Procrustes rules through hate.
A Lincoln could eradicate
Race prejudice and selfish pride;
Could weld a brotherhood of men.

Mail — From Columbus: "The news story about the baby who bit the snake's tail off must be news too, like when man bites dog" . . . From Mt. Vernon: "What is happening to our comedians? First Godfrey, now Gleason. Maybe they take their work too seriously or work too hard at being funny. Some of them haven't tried hard enough for they are very unfunny, though maybe it's my queer sense of humor" . . . From my favorite shut-in: "Here's a nice appetizing story the doctor told me: A little boy had been told he must eat his breakfast egg because it was good for him and he asked if he had to eat the beak too. Ugh."

Through The Garden Gate

By Mrs. Chan Randall.

FLOWER ARRANGEMENTS

I love each flower that blooms in the garden that I tend, and many represent associations of years gone by. Time flies when I pick up garden tools in the early morning and start digging and caring for the tender plants. Inside work piled up and energy taxed at the end of day is soon forgotten when I can bring in beautiful blooms to decorate my home.

But when summer wanes and autumn arrives we must look elsewhere for substitutes for the fresh flowers we have been gathering as there is always that morning when you waken and look out and see the garden has been laid under a black spell during the night. Stiff, withered stalks and blackened flower heads mark the place where only yesterday you were cutting dozens of full blooms. If we have foresight we will have a supply on hand of Salvia, spirea, coxcomb, hardy hydrangea and statice from the garden hung up to dry with heads down and any number of others. Darkness is essential for preserving color. Thorough drying takes at least two weeks.

I think everyone loves the early autumn rides along the harvest roads to gather bittersweet, carrion berries, milkweed, cat tails and others. Bittersweet is sometimes a problem to arrange, but if you cut it from the original stem and tie it in bunches on top of a stick it will be more manageable. Most flowers will retain color better if they are plucked just as they start to show color. Goldenrod is one of the best, mullein and dock, which are very common, are two of the best sources of dried material. If you wish a variety of colors in the dock start picking it when it is still green. Sumac will also have a variety of colors if you pick it at different times, varying from rich garnet to reddish brown.

Arrangements made with dormant or dry materials have the advantage of lasting for a long time and offer a field for intriguing experiment. They can be quite colorful too. With materials, flowers and containers assembled, and a fairly clear picture of what arrangement is to be, we come to the final step of actually putting our arrangement together. First of all, provide your self with ample space, room enough to spread your material so that any flower or foliage can be picked up without disturbing any of those that remain.

Pewter is fine for dried arrangements, so is copper and wood is particularly good or you can use that cracked antique urn that will not hold water. As you work with your dried bouquets you will find them easier to manage and imagination will give you new effects.

We all need happy memories to store up against winter winds and I think memories to do with making the home more beautiful are the happiest. Keeping close to earth is easy, it does not cost much and the generous wealth of nature belongs to everyone, so keep the memory of summer in your winter house.

THE SINGING SHERIFFS, Russell H. Butler, second tenor; Harry M. Freeman, first tenor; Paul F. Berger, baritone, and Fred (Dixie) Washburn, bass, with Claire J. Freeman, accompanist, are to sing at PTA meeting to be held at Siebert Street School Wednesday, Feb. 17.

Why Not Investigate Civil Defense Department?

In such times as these when the atomic bomb may play such an important part in what the future of the world is to be it seems quite obviously silly that there should be a squabble in the city of Columbus over the local civil defense department.

It isn't important that one man or another holds the job dependent on which side of the political fence he is on.

It is only important that the job be done well. Certainly, there is no place for petty politics in a matter of such vital importance to the people of the city and county.

It is well known that Columbus surely would be an important target in event of a war with Russia because of the defense work carried on here.

So, rather than spend a lot of time quibbling over the merits of a couple of individuals it would seem that a genuine investigation of the local civil defense organization is in order. Has the city and county been getting what they are paying for? Have we done as good a job as should have been done up to this point? What benefits would we realize if we were to be attacked?

The answers to these and other similar questions will give the answer to the problem at hand.

Heyl Avenue Intramurals

In the South Side Branch YMCA Heyl Avenue Intramural League last Monday, the Panthers white washed the Pro's 22 to 0. With Kenny Schumacker combing the nets for 18 points the Panthers set up a tight man to man defense that the Pro's were unable to crack.

In a hard fought battle the Bulldogs upset the Ramblers by coming from behind in the last few minutes of the game to acquire a well earned 20 to 18 victory. Sydney Lee of the Bulldogs won scoring honors by swishing 15 points through the nets. Ronnie Wallet and Bill Stevenson sparked the Ramblers with 8 points each.

Let's go to Church Sunday.

Marathon Contest Features South YMCA League Cage Contest

Greenlawn needed four overtime periods to edge Deshler 5-4 to gain its first win of the season in the South Side Branch YMCA Elementary Fifth Grade Basketball League. In other action, Siebert took over undisputed first place, blasting Stewart 21-2. Lincoln showed strong potentialities whipping Livingston 24-3 and Heyl nosed out Southwood 13-12.

Deshler could have won their second game of the season if the game had ended at the half. They led Greenlawn at this point 4-0. But Greenlawn came back strong and tied the game 4-4. The game went four overtimes before Floyd Sheridan sank a foul shot to win the game. Tom Woodworth and Butch Campbell led Deshler in their second straight overtime loss. Jack Wamsley was a key man for Greenlawn.

Siebert stood on top in the title chase by beating Stewart 21-2. It was Siebert's fourth straight win without a setback. Intermission score read 5-2, favor of Siebert. After that Stewart was never in the game as their ace, David Erb fouled out in the third quarter. Erb scored the only 2 points for Stewart. Kirk Olney collected 10 points for Siebert.

Lincoln displayed plenty of power in trouncing Livingston 24-3. Most of the damage done, occured in the first half with Lincoln building up a 19-2 lead. Ronald Bobo led the victors with nine points. Frank Givens led the cause for Livingston.

Too much height was the story as Heyl shaded Southwood 13-12. Southwood took a 4-1 quarter lead, still held a 7-6 halftime edge. At the end of three periods it was 9-9 and then came the turning point as big Ken Shumacher tossed in two buckets, which Southwood couldn't overtake. Shumacher had 7 points for Heyl while Jim Bryant had 7 for Southwood.

In the feature game today at Schiller Park, league-leading Siebert tangles with once-beaten, but improving Lincoln Park. In other games, Beck meets Greenlawn Heyl goes against Deshler, and Stewart battles Livingston.

Tomorrow IN THE MAKING

Quiet, please . . .

This is genius at work!

This is tomorrow in the making!

What will come from the interior of this test tube, bubbling quietly over the flame of the Bunsen burner? Will it be a cure for cancer? A new plastic? Or will it be a new killer—silent, odorless, colorless—that can destroy life in all that it touches.

In these breath-taking days of new scientific discoveries, the ancient truth of one of the greatest of religious sayings becomes sharper day by day.

"Where there is no vision, the people perish. . . ."

Today our greatest scientists admit that vision must accompany the results of their work if the world is not to be consumed in the fires of its own advancement. That is why you will find the churches of America working to lengthen the vision and sharpen the focus that must belong to everyone that advances toward the new horizon of our tomorrow. The achievement of America must be matched by a morality that comes from hearts touched with the wisdom of God.

We shall not fear the test tube—if in back of it are the scientists, the churches and the people working toward a common cause.

And the cause is our tomorrow in the making—a brighter tomorrow for all. . . .

. . . Be not afraid, only believe. MARK 5:36

Sermonette

Finding Health

A great deal has been written on the effect religion has on health, especially mental health. There are many people who wonder if there really is a connection between the two and there are many who think that when you mix the two you are going back to the days of the witch doctors.

What can we say about the connection between religion and health? It seems to me that there are some guide-posts which are safe:

1. We should never feel that the Christian is insured against tragedy or illness. Christ was crucified and many a saint has achieved peace of soul in spite of life-long illness.

2. We should never feel that illness is a sign of God's pleasure or displeasure. Often illness is a sign that we are out of kilter and perhaps alienated from the center of our existance, God; but God does not will that we be ill.

3. We should never feel that religion is an extra powerful aspirin. Our faith was not made to serve our ills and problems. We were created to serve our faith.

4. Finding health in our faith does not come from centering our attention on our problems, but upon God. When we focus our attention on our problems, we are living with a diseased center of attention. We need rather a life-giving center, which is Christ. Our lives take on the character of that which serves as our center of attention.

If our center of attention is essentially diseased, then we will take on the completion of illness. If our center is life-giving, then our lives take on positive values.

Hello:

Don't forget the flowers for your Valentine! And order them early, before Saturday, to get the choice. Deliveries will be made on the 13th, as we are closed on Sunday.

"We hope that soon and ever after, you'll be happy, well and strong!" These wishes are for Mrs. James Hively, Nicholas Koch, Marcene Mehl, Mrs. Margaret Loechler, Mrs. Ella Fugate, George Santho, Jacky Stevadore, Frank Atheran, Florence Baechle. Also Andrew Guyer, George Prime, Mrs. Caroline Kiechle, Donald Miller, Mabel Fites, Anna Echardt and Evelyn Ebersold.

The 50 happy years together we all hope for have been attained by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Kessler, whose family helped them celebrate their golden anniversary on Tuesday. Congratulations also to Mr. and Mrs. George Sauer and Mr. and Mrs. John Helsel.

Happy birthday to Mrs. Kate Wieber and Mrs. John Doersam, and very special greetings to our little friends, Priscilla "Sissy" Dicke, Sally Paulus and our own little Tommy.

We know you are very proud and happy with your new babies, Mr. and Mrs. Tigyer and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Patterson. Congratulations!

Livingston Edges Lincoln In Gra-Y Feature

Livingston Gra-Y upset a strong Lincoln team 11-10 to feature the action in the South Side Branch YMCA Gra-Y Basketball League played at Schiller Tuesday, Feb. 2. In other encounters, Stewart Gra-Y blasted Siebert Gra-Y 20-06. Greenlawn clung to second place getting by Deshler 10-7 and Southwood dumped Heyl 12-4.

Everything was just "ducky" as far as Livingston is concerned as Livingston won their first game upending Lincoln 11-10. It was John "Ducky" Jones who scored the only and winning basket in the second half which gave Livingston the victory. Although not unusually tall, Jones controlled both boards during most of the game. The game was See-Saw all the way.

The score was tied four times in the first half with Lincoln holding a 10-9 edge at intermission. After that Lincoln could not connect and Livingston controlled the ball most of the time. High scoring honors went to Bob Edwards and John Jones of Livingston with 6 and 4 points respectively. James Massie's four points were high for Lincoln.

Stewart had too much for a hard-fighting Siebert team as they drubbed Siebert 20-6. As usual, Dave Hicks led the winners. Hicks racked up 14 points while his brother Larry scored four. Jim Ballinger scored four points for the losers. Siebert, although beaten, displayed fine sportsmanship throughout the game.

Greenlawn outlasted Deshler 10-7 to remain in second place in league standings. Greenlawn got off to a 7-2 half time lead, and Deshler was never able to overtake them after that. Greenlawn's scoring was divided as six players entered the scoring column. Jerry Meinrod paced Deshler.

Southwood kept its title hopes alive by downing Heyl 12-4. The second-half scoring of Dick Guyer spelled the difference. Southwood led 7-4 at half, and Guyer scored 5 points in the second half and finished the day with 8 points. Sidney Lee was outstanding for Heyl.

OSU Fullback Gets Athletic Director Post

Robert Bond

Robert "Bud" Bond has been appointed athletic director at Sunshine Recreation Center. Bud graduated from Akron Garfield High School where he lettered in basketball, football and baseball.

He is now a junior at Ohio State University in the school of social administration. Last year Bud played varsity football at OSU as linebacker and fullback.

Bud spent his summers as athletic director at Camp Y Noah in Akron. This camp was the headquarters for the boys who participated in the national Soap Box Derby in Akron.

In The Service

Virgil Le Roy Smith of 282 Brehl-av, was the first mid-term graduate of Columbus to start processing for enlistment in Columbus' own platoon. Smith will become Private Smith on Feb. 25, when he will be enlisted in the regular army along with many other young high school graduates who will become members of the "Columbus Platoon."

Smith was accompanied by his father to the Columbus Army Recruiting Main Station. The father, David B. Smith, stated, "Virgil has to fulfill his military obligation sooner or later and it's best for him to get started now with other boys from Columbus. He has been studying drafting and I hope he can continue his studies in the army. When he gets back into civilian life he will have a good trade." Army officials immediately made out an application for Virgil to attend an 11 weeks course in general drafting at an army service school. Smith belonged to the Hi-Y at Central High School where he graduated Jan. 27. He is also president of the Young People's Organization at the Mix Avenue Church of Christ in Christian Union. Smith celebrates his 28th birthday Feb. 25, the day of enlistment.

Schiller Center Teensters Work For Brotherhood Day

The city-wide observance of Youth for Brotherhood Day being planned by delegates and staff members representing 17 youth-serving agencies of Columbus will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 24, at the Jewish Center. Three delegates of the Teen-Canteen of Schiller Recreation Center; Terry Caito, Peggy Glaze and Sandy Potts, are serving on the hospitality and publicity committees of the program.

Other groups participating in the project include the Anti-Defamation League, Girl Scouts, Beatty Recreation Center, Y-Teens, Hi-Y, Jewish Center, Sullivant Gardens Recreation Center, Sunshine Recreation Center, Camp Fire Girls, Central Community House, Schiller Recreation Center, YWCA, YMCA and the Recreation and Youth Services Council of the Council of Social Agencies.

Plans for the evening program which begins at 7 p. m. include a short film on brotherhood, sessions for small groups to talk over questions and problems, and a concluding session to summarize the discussions and raise questions for a panel consisting of teen-agers and adults.

Social activities on the program include musical mixers, social dancing and refreshments. Music for dancing will be provided by a dance band composed of students from North High School.

Theme of the program will be "talking intelligently on the everyday problems of brotherhood which face us in our schools, neighborhood and community so that we can help to live intelligently and make Columbus an even better and healthier community."

Listed Wrong

In the news story in last week's issue which listed the candidates for the May primary election, G. Arlowe Bryant was erroneously referred to as a Republican.

He is a Democrat.

Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic chairman: "There is not and cannot be a valid issue between the Democratic and Republican parties on Communism — because all Americans are on the same side."

Dr. William G. Leaman, Jr., heart specialist: "Women are smarter than men."

Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Speaker, House of Representatives, visiting in Germany: "A strong and united Germany cooperating with America and all freedom-loving nations can restore what this world needs so badly . . . peace."

James H. Doolittle, Lt.-Gen., U. S. Air Force, retired: "Air power is the only thing that can insure peace."

By Joel Snyder

The regular monthly meeting of the Marion Township Citizens Association was held Tuesday, Feb. 9, in the auditorium of Marion-Franklin High School. C. J. Helling of the Delaware district sanitary engineer's office of the Ohio Department of Health explained the comprehensive operations of his department. He also presented two films showing how we, the public, are influenced by the actions of the board of health.

Jack Schoonover, chairman of the health and safety committee reported that he and Dr. A. H. Imhoff had toured the township on several occasions during recent weeks and uncovered some deplorable conditions that called for attention from the health inspectors. At their request, Mr. Sandusky, an inspector from the board of health, accompanied them while they gave him the 50-cent tour of the points of interest in Marion Township. Expressing his surprise at the conditions made known to him, he noted each one, and in turn, notified each offending party of the nature of the offense and ordered each one to remedy the situation within a prescribed time. It will now be his job to check on the deadline dates to see that his orders have been followed out. At the time Schoonover made his report to the members in attendance, several of the objectionable conditions had already been removed.

While no names or addresses were made public, Schoonover pointed out that if there was hesitancy or unwillingness on the part of the offending parties to heed the warnings of the health officer after a reasonable time, it would be the duty of the association to expose the situation.

After this report from the health and safety committee, the meeting opened up into an expanded "complaint department." All complaints were referred to the proper committees and will be reported on at the next meeting. John Nippert, zoning committee head, took note of several complaints that appeared to come under his committee's jurisdiction.

A letter from Chuck Hammond was read to the members, stating that since he had sold his home in Marion Township and moved into Columbus, he was offering his resignation as president of the association. Before his position can be filled, another question involving elected public officials, must be solved. The executive committee recommended that the association include in the by-laws a provision that no person holding an elective office in the township, could, at the same time, hold an elective office in the Citizens' Association. This, they said would protect the association against unfavorable publicity to the effect that it was a biased organization, or that it was backing a particular public servant. It was explained that if a township trustee, constable, or school board member were allowed to become a member, of the association's board of directors, the association would not only lay itself open to criticism, but such an action could very likely hamper the good intentions of the association board. The group was advised to consider this suggestion and be prepared to vote on it at the next meeting.

Constable Wallace addressed the group, asking that the police hiring system be clarified. It was inferred that the association would

Marion Local School District Decides To Complete Survey Started In 1949

The Marion Local Board of Education decided to complete a survey of the school district started in 1949 and 1950 at its meeting on Feb. 10. Most of the data gathering will be done by citizens of the district although the report will be brought up to date by the survey division of the bureau of educational research of Ohio State University.

A formal policy of the board was adopted, which includes keeping district citizens informed of school housing needs, planning for future building in areas of heaviest residential concentration, and assigning children to schools near their homes where possible.

Other business of the meeting included hearing a representative from an insurance company explain a pupil insurance plan, employment of a new librarian to keep the Fornof Library open two hours per day, and adontion of rules and regulations including a schedule of rental rates for the use of school buildings.

Richard L. Davis and Roger Birtcher were granted leaves of absence for military service and Mrs. Thelma Brown was granted leave of absence to continue her professional education.

The school calendar for 1954-55 was adopted. a request was addressed to township trustees to extend the system of street lighting south from the fire station on Lockbourne and Koebel-rds.

The clerk was authorized to advertize for bids on specifications prepared by Superintendent Harold W. Boles for furnishing and installing fencing, bleachers, and athletic field lights at Marion-Franklin High School.

There was also an extended discussion of the possibility of submitting a vote on a new bond issue to the citizens of the district, and the meeting adjourned.

Siebert Defeats Lincoln 10-8 In South Y Race

Siebert nipped Lincoln 10-8 in a crucial contest of the South Side Branch YMCA Fifth Grade Basketball League in games played at Schiller Recreation Center Thursday, Feb. 11. In other games, Greenlawn trounced Beck 20-6, Heyl crushed Deshler 30-2, and Livingston upset Stewart 8-7.

Siebert passed a major obstacle in beating Lincoln 10-8. Lincoln held the edge throughout the first half, but the turning point came in the last quarter when Kirk Olney stole the ball from a Lincoln player and drove in to tie up the game. Olney and Ron Bobo of Lincoln were high point men with six points each.

Greenlawn romped home an easy victor over an outmanned, but fighting Beck team, 20-6. With Jack Wamsley's 11 points leading the way, Greenlawn was in complete charge. Harold Pyle led Beck's attack with four points.

Heyl had too much height for Deshler as Heyl thrashed a much smaller Deshler team 30-2. Heyl's two big men Ken Schumacher and Bob Stevenson played only three quarters but racked up a total of 22 points between them, Schumacher getting 13 and Stevenson nine points. Most of the damage was done in the first 10 minutes of play as Heyl rolled up a 21-1 intermission lead. Bill Warren and Tom Woodworth scored the points for Deshler.

Livingston won its first game of the season by knocking off once-beaten Stewart, 8-7. The game was close all the way, with Stewart holding a 4-2 halftime edge. David Erb's fourth quarter free throw gave Stewart a 7-6 lead, but Richard Buhrts of Livingston retaliated with a basket which proved to be the winning goal. Richard Miller paced Livingston with five points while David Erb had four points for Stewart.

Police reported that Samuel Cummings of 690 Parsons-av, was crossing about 15 feet from the crosswalk at the intersection of Beck-st and Parsons-av, when struck by an auto driven by Reed W. Davey, 540½ E. Whittier-st.

Hospital attendants said Cummings suffered fractures of both legs, the right elbow and several ribs and a possible skull fracture.

Southeast Lions Enjoy Lunch At Marion-Franklin School

Members of the Southeast Lions Club enjoy good food and pleasant surroundings provided at the new Marion-Franklin High School. During their luncheon meeting Tuesday, Feb. 9, at this school, they were served by students of the junior class who also provided entertainment for the occasion.

Fifty members of the Southeast Lions Club were guests for luncheon on Tuesday, Feb. 9, at the new Marion-Franklin High School at 1547 Koebel-rd.

Luncheon was served by the 11th grade junior home-making class and their teacher, Mrs. Inez Boord. Entertainment was provided by a girls vocal ensemble under the direction of Mr. Glenville Thomas. The men also enjoyed a play entitled "Who Gets the Car Tonight?" enacted by members of the junior class, coached by Mrs Marjorie Manning.

After the program Superintendent Harold Boles and Principal Fred H. Manning took the Lions on a tour of inspection of the new building. Of especial interest was the music room where G. Gordon Ritter, music supervisor, was instructing students on some of the new musical instruments recently given the school by the Lions Club.

South High To Redeem Stadium Bonds Issued Five Years Ago

The board of trustees of the South High School this week started to redeem non-interest bearing bonds issued five years ago to finance football facilities at Mahaffey Stadium.

Letters are now being sent out to all bond holders, asking them to bring the bonds to the school office any school day between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. for redemption. All bonds will be paid off by Apr. 15.

Five years ago, when the school faculty and patrons saw the need for football facilities, trustees used $4,000 already on hand and borrowed an additional $20,000 from friends in the community by issuing the bonds.

In the intervening years, some $14,000 has either been repaid to bond holders or cancelled by bond holders who wished to contribute their bonds to the school.

The trustees, who issued the bonds under the corporate name of the Athletic Improvement Association, have announced that the school wants to keep faith with patrons who generously loaned the money when it was needed. Although the Athletic Improvement Association does not have the money on hand, it will borrow funds as necessary to repay the bonds.

Bond holders who desire to cancel their bonds without receiving payment are requested to put a notation on the backs of their bonds to that effect. Trustees have announced that such cancellations will be deeply appreciated.

Parties who have lost their bonds can cancel them by writing a note to that effect on the "bond due" letters received from the school. Persons who have lost bonds but desire to cash them in must present a notarized statement to the effect that the particular bond will not be presented again for redemption.

The original bond issue helped enclose Mahaffey Stadium and provide dressing rooms for home and visiting teams, a coaches' and officials' room, storage room, and toilet facilities.

Automatic Device Answers Telephone, Records Call At South Side Pharmacy

Telephone calls to a South Side pharmacy are being answered at all hours of the night, even though no one is in.

This is accomplished by the Bell System answering service recently installed at the High-Mithoff Pharmacy, 1142 S. High-st.

When the telephone rings afterhours, the compact answering device clicks into action. The proprietor's recorded voice informs the caller that the store is closed, but that the caller may record a message if he wishes. At a signal, the device begins recording the caller's words on a plastic drum. Another signal informs the caller that his time is up, but he may call back immediately to finish the message if necessary.

When C. M. Henry, proprietor-pharmacist, arrives in the morning he plays back the recorded messages and takes action as indicated. He compounds prescriptions called in by doctors and makes up refill prescriptions called in by patrons.

If a caller does not wish to leave a message, he is at least informed of the pharmacy's open hours.

Public reaction to this new electronic device may be summed up in part by a "message" heard by Henry one morning as he played back the calls of a previous night.

After hearing the opening words of the device, a surprised lady caller exclaimed, "Well! I never heard of such a thing."

Song Service

Lutherans Down St. John's E&R

Emmanuel Lutheran downed St. John's E&R, 36 to 15, in the South Side YMCA Junior Church Baseball League games Tuesday, Feb 9. Central Community nipped St. Paul E&R, 17 to 12, and Washington Avenue EUB squeezed out a 20 to 18 victory over Ohio Avenue EUB.

With Jerry Hill dunking 14 and Jay Gramlick eight points, Emmanuel Lutheran's smooth-working five was too much for St. John's young, scrappy team to handle. Jack Flovin led St. John's attack with four points.

Central Community downed St Paul E&R, 17 to 12, with Dick Schumacker sparking Central's attack with 10 points. C. Onley led the scoring for St. Paul with seven points.

For the second straight week, Washington Avenue EUB was extended to the limit to protect its undefeated record by a fighting Ohio Avenue EUB five. The contest was nip and tuck all the way until Freddy Dunham, who was held scoreless in the first half, sank his last of four baskets with only a few seconds to go to give Washington Avenue a 20 to 18 victory. Dunham's eight points led both teams in scoring. Watkins and Billy Moore sparked Ohio Avenue with six and seven points respectively.

Tension-Packed Contest Tuesday Breaks Bears' Undefeated Record

Excitement ran high on the South Side this week following a stunning upset victory of the South Bulldogs over unbeaten North Tuesday night in the the Bears' gym. Eking out a 57-56 margin, the Bulldogs kept alive their City League pennant hopes and blasted the Bears' unbeaten string.

It was the second upset victory of Coach George (Pug) Hood's improving Bulldogs in four days. Excitement ran so high at the finish that Jim Franklin, North's all-state candidate, collapsed in exhaustion and was taken to White Cross Hospital where doctors said he was suffering from "abdominal pains."

Franklin fell unconscious as he attempted North's final field goal of the game. He was taken to the hospital by firemen.

South's Captain Benny Wright looped in the charity toss that sewed up the game after being fouled with 30 seconds of play remaining and the two teams tied at 56-all. It was a similar free throw that gave the Bulldogs their win Saturday, Feb. 13, over Hamilton.

The Bulldogs got their first lead of the evening, 5-4 on five straight points by Clarence Pointer, who turned out to be the contest's champion sharpshooter with 22 points gained in the evening.

At one time before intermission, Coach Hood's boys were out front by a substantial 27-18. They were still ahead, 27-21, at halftime.

North's Franklin, held to five points and one field goal in the first two quarters, shared honors with Tom Haire in catching and passing South, 30-29, with 5:10 remaining in the third stanza.

The lead switched hands three times before knotting at 38-38. Franklin broke the tie by sinking three baskets in a sudden burst and the score stood at 44-38 in favor of North.

South recovered and slipped into a one-point lead, 45-44, by virtue of two baskets by Quincy Dunn, one by Pointer, and Pointer's delayed free throw.

The Bulldogs held their lead until Jack Crane's pivot shot put North in front, 51-50. At the 1:50 mark, Dick Stahr hit from underneath for a 54-53 South lead and 35 seconds later Crane's basket brought North into the lead, 55-54.

With one minute of play left, Pointer sank a looping one-hander that put South out front by 56-55. North's Tom Jordan sank his free throw to tie it up at 56-56.

The tremendous crowd was on its feet as Wright sank the winning foul shot.

Wilson-av Moves Into First Place In Church League

The Senior Church League of the Schiller Recreation Center with one game between two first place teams and one big upset, now has one team as sole possessor of first place.

The first game of the evening between St. Paul's and Thurman Avenue developed into a victory for St. Paul's, 30 to 23. Wilson Avenue defeated Gates-Fourth 33 to 18. Southwood upset St. Leo's, 28 to 25, moved Wilson into first place with only one more game to be played. Thompson of St. Paul's and Guldon of St. Leo's were high scorers with 14 points. Peters of Wilson Avenue racked up 13 points.

The Senior Independent League has a very close race in progress. The STB and Trojans have tied for first place, with the Cavaliers and North Linden Merchants tied for second, only one game behind.

In games last week, the North Linden Merchants defeated the Terrapins 32 to 29, the Trojans moved into a tie with STB by defeating them 28 to 27, and the Cavaliers soundly defeated Johnny's Barber Shop 37 to 27. Harkless of the Terrapins was high man with 14 points, followed by Spahr of North Linden, Salyer and Burton of the Cavaliers, each with 12 points.

The Schiller Intermediates with St. Leo's having the bye, still has St. Leo's in first place. In games last week, the Pirates defeated the Golden Eagles 40 to 22 and the Blackhawks had a narrow squeak with the Comets, 30 to 29. Fred Eigenger of the Comets was high with 16 points, followed by Woodward of the Blackhawks with 15 points to his credit.

Teen-Agers Admit Vandalizing School

"Too much idle time on our hands," was the excuse offered by two teen-agers after admitting they broke into Fornof School, 156 Dering-av, and caused $400 damage Wednesday, Feb. 10. They also have admitted theft of two automobiles.

Sheriff's Sgt. Jim Potts said the boys, one 16 and the other 18, were arrested Sunday night in their homes on Benfield-av and Dexter-av.

Damage at the school included food being thrown around the floors, ceilings and walls.

Marion Twp. Trailer Owner Fined $100

A fine of $100 and costs was imposed on James Rockhold, 2317 Groveport-pk, Tuesday by Justice of Peace Jacob Becker, after the Marion Twp. trailer camp operator was found guilty of running the camp without a license.

He also received a 90-day jail sentence, deferred until Mar. 1, with the provision the imprisonment would be suspended if all trailers and persons were moved out by that time.

The charge against Rockhold was filed by the Franklin County Health Department, which on Jan. 1 refused to license the trailer court because of sanitary conditions, a spokesman for the department said.

Report From City Hall

Safety Office Proud Of City's Improved Traffic Measures

Safety Director George Doyle and his assistant Leo Phillips are quite proud of the fact that Columbus has had but one traffic death since the first of the year as compared with five up to this writing a year ago.

They attribute the slow down in the death rate to a slow down in traffic that has been brought about by a move right after they went into office which makes the police force more evident than before . . . that of dividing up the number of men in the cruisers, one to a car rather than two, and twice as many cruisers on the streets. They claim, and apparently rightfully so, that motorists just naturally take their driving a little slower when they know there are a lot of cruisers roaming the streets.

Mayor Sensenbrenner has been advised by some of his friends that a still further reduction in traffic accidents might be accomplished by this same method if the cruisers were to be painted white or some outstanding color so that they would be even more in evidence.

The mayor left Tuesday night with Gov. Frank Lausche for a two-day conference on safety in Washington, at the invitation of President Eisenhower.

Another meeting of the mayor's advisory committee has been set for this next Monday at City Hall and while the subject was originally announced as being sewerage disposal problems the subject will be instead, that of the civil defense department. The mayor wants his committee to hear just what is being done in civil defense and thereby try to help him determine what his stand should be.

Since the civil defense squabble made the front pages a few weeks ago, the mayor has received a lot of support from many people interested in the subject and he is being pressed to ask for an investigation of the whole department before the city approves any budget for certain salaries in that department.

The "error" in the budget on Monday night as reported in the dailies seemed to have been a three-way affair, having passed through the hands of the mayor, the council and even before that, the hands of the city attorney. It was in no way a serious matter and was merely a matter of the handling of a bond fund which came out with the same net result whether it was in the budget or out of the budget. It did, however, point again to the need of a finance director who would have more time to prepare such matters before they are submitted. The mayor will ask for the approval of such a director in a short time.

Another round in the series of fights that have confronted the mayor since taking office will be smoothed out in short order it appears. The matter of residence of William Lehman, newly appointed building inspector, has been given the green light by the city attorney and now the only matter left to be concerned with is his connection with a local building materials firm. This it seems, has been taken care of by Mr. Lehman some time back and he is prepared to give any evidence necessary to show that he is no longer affiliated with the firm.

Work Begins On Stopping Stench Caused By Storm Standby Tanks

Southsiders in the vicinity of the Whittier-st storm standby tanks near the C&O Railroad were practically assured of relief from sewage stench as workmen began to apply "the cure" on Monday, Feb 15.

But the "psychological odor" will probably remain, according to Jim Blodgett, Columbus sewage treatment manager.

Both Blodgett and Service Director Floyd Redick have declared that the wooden flapgates workmen began installing at the site on Monday will eliminate practically all objectionable odors.

They base their optimism on results already obtained with similar flapgates in combatting odors arising from standby tanks under Norwood Amusement Park at 3025 E. Main-st.

"We expect that we will continue to receive complaints, however," declared Blodgett. "The tanks are big and somewhat of an eyesore. No matter what we do, human nature being what it is, we'll probably still hear a lot about odor. I think these primarily will be psychological smells."

Wooden swinging doors for the 12 openings from the sewer to the standby tanks were constructed at a total cost of less than $350. Their installation should be completed within the next two weeks Blodgett said.

Redick and Blodgett were agreed that recent agitation to cover the tanks, at a proposed cost of some $300,000, was based on a false conception of what caused the "rather rare" warm weather odors.

The fallacy in this position, they said, is that citizens are associating the four huge concrete tanks, which measure approximately 180 feet long, 110 feet wide, and 15 feet in depth, with the odors. They assert the primary stench arises from the connecting sewer.

"Even if the tanks were covered, they would still require venting and sewer odors would continue to be wafted to area residents from time to time as a results of these vents," Blodgett stated.

The main purpose of the standby tanks is to prevent obnoxious material from flowing through the sewer directly into the Scioto River in the event of flooded conditions brought about by heavy rain.

Excess debris-carrying water backs into the tanks, where it is flushed before being returned to the sewer and eventually carried to the Sewage Treatment Works on Jackson Pike, four miles south of the city.

Flapgates will open only after heavy rain runoff has reached the sewers, keeping most of the odors in the sewer from reaching the tanks and annoying neighboring residents.

Blodgett said that his department would make a greater effort in the future to clean out the tanks fast following a heavy rain. "This should eliminate the last vestiges of odor caused by debris held in the tanks," he declared.

As for the psychological odors, Blodgett said he hoped it would be possible to plant tall shrubs or trees so that area residents would not constantly be reminded of the presence of the tanks.

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicke

Paula Knepper, 1783 S. Champion-av, will soon be a year older, as a matter of fact, come Feb. 20.

Gosh, on looking over the list here, seems like most of the things to be reported are birthdays. Was everybody born in February?

Frank Worth, 729 Jaeger-st, had a Valentine's Day birthday, so belated greetings to this "worthy" (a pun, son) gentleman.

Harry Bradford would probably appreciate cards right now, for he was injured last week and must be confined to his home for a while. The address is 37 E. Morrill-av.

He doesn't chop down cherry trees, but he plays a fine piano. Who, do you ask? He is Martin Mitchell, a George Washington birthdayite. Martin resides at 192 E. Gates-st.

A very excited new daddy called ye Gadabout a couple of weeks ago and we forgot to note the event last week. The dad and mom are Dr. and Mrs. Roy Bethel, the mommy being Nita Hutch of television fame. We've not heard recently but at the time we conversed with Roy, the name of the new son was to be Hutch Wesley Bethel.

George Swisher finds February an eventful month, for on the sixth he celebrated a birthday and on the eighth another year was added to his married life. Congratulations, Thelma and George.

Ann Whalen, Frebis-av, can now show her little friends where her tonsile used to be, since a recent tonsillectomy. Ann is a student at St. Leo's School.

Larraine Itskin spent his Feb. 14 birthday in Wilshire, O., visiting his ailing mother. We're happy to report that Mrs. Becher is recovering nicely from her recent stroke.

Liz Shreves is another of our birthdayites to receive our best wishes as of Feb. 16. Mrs. Shreves is a resident of 978 S. Ohio-av.

Jackie Sue is a cute name, isn't it? O little girl to have that as a Cognomen is Jackie Sue McCune 809 Livingston-av. She reached her second birthday Feb. 13.

For the past two Saturdays ye Gadabout has been trekking to the square dance at Smith's and lots of fun it is.

Tommy Whitacre comes closer to being a "big" boy now, as he gained a year on his Feb 10 birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted DeWeese, Milhoff-st, find Valentine's Day an extra-special occasion as it reminds them of the day they exchanged wedding vows. This happy event occurred 22 years ago.

Little Louise Davis, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Davis, had her parents worried considerably last week when she had a bout with pneumonia.

Our sincerest sympathy goes at this time to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fennel of Innis-av, who lost their beloved daughter, Mary.

Monabelle McCaffrey must admit to a new year this coming Sunday, Feb. 21. The McCaffreys live at 1711½ S. Third-st.

A date to be celebrated in future years for the new Mr. and Mrs. Pete Westoff is Feb. 6. That was the day the former Twila Stevenson and Pete exchanged wedding vows at Kingdom Hall.

Leola Nicholson is now a Cincinnati resident. Her work at the Standard Publishing Co. will take her to that city. Farewell and good luck, Leola.

Seems like that does it for this weeks, folks, so we'll ring off. Don't forget, the number is GA. 1051 and ringing it will get you The Gadabout.

Father OF HIS Country

Throughout the east, travelers are likely to pass old houses which carry the proud notation, "George Washington Slept Here."

But to all who cherish the heritage of freedom he left behind, it is much more important that George Washington lived here.

For his was a life of action. Surveyor at 16, an adjutant general at 20, commander-in-chief for a new army, and finally, the presidency of the new nation.

Throughout his old age he was busy in the affairs of the America he had helped to build—and to save.

And when Death finally came, he met it bravely, as he had met all else. With one finger, he counted off his weakening pulse beats, and when Death at last whispered—"Come"—the clear, gray eyes were bright and unafraid.

Yes—we say—one of our greatest men. From where did his amazing vitality and inspiration come?

Washington's strength came from his soul—and in his soul dwelt God.

It is somehow fitting that George Washington—a sincere church-goer—is remembered as the "father of his country."

For the father of his country knew that there was only one sure source of guidance for himself and his countrymen.

And that source was the Father of us all. . . .

Hear, my son, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.

ask that a study be made pertaining to the police set-up since there seemed to be so much interest in that situation.

After Saturday morning, Feb. 20, when Genevieve Eisnaugle becomes Mrs. Otto H. Fisher, the couple will begin a two-week honeymoon trip to Miami, Fla. On their return they will make their home in Groveport, Mr. Fisher's home town. Last Sunday, Genevieve was the guest of honor at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Edward Gerlach of Watkins-rd.

Sunday, Feb. 21, will be a very special day for the friends of Rev. (and Mrs.) Arnold E. Klick, who for the past 18 years has been the minister at St. John's Evangelical Protestant Church, 59 E. Mound-st. On that Sunday, there will be a public reception at the church from 2.30 until 4:30 p. m., to bid goodbye to the faithful minister and to wish him well on his new venture in Omaha, Neb., where he will endeavor to organize a new home mission church. Rev. Klick will leave St. John's on March 1.

Don't forget to save those tax stamps for the band uniforms at the high school. Send them directly to the school. They surely will be appreciated! The Smith Road PTA meeting next Tuesday, Feb. 23, will have Mrs. Marian Sherer, referee in the Court of Domestic Relations, as the speaker for the evening. The program promises to be an interesting one as Mrs. Shrer is known as a very capable speaker. Her subject will be, "Juvenile Delinquency."

That's all for this week. Call if there's something you want to see in this column. The number is GA. 6880.

EUB Church Brotherhood Sponsors Film Showing

The public is invited to a full-length feature film presentation at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 21, at the Wagner Memorial EUB Church, 1015 Oakwood-av. Organ selections will precede the film program, which will be under the sponsorship of the church brotherhood. A free-will offering will be taken to help finance a sound system for the church.

Marion-Twp. Sidelights

By Joel Snyder

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Oakes have just returned from a wonderful vacation in Florida. . . . Quite a lot of excitement occurred on Williams-rd Friday when a car caught fire. Richard Smith was following right behind the car and he can be glad he was keeping a safe distance when the other car suddenly burst into flames, or he might have had a scorched car, too.

Mrs. Russell Chapman had a birthday this past week . . . The Ladies' Aid of the South High Church are having a home-made doughnut sale on Wednesday, Mar. 3 . . . The Gra-Y girls of Marion Township enjoyed a Swim Time at the YMCA Saturday evening. Margie Smith went along and helped Jerry Honaker supervise the swim period. The Gray-Y boys will have their turn on Saturday, Feb. 27.

A two weeks' revival will start at the South High EUB Church on Sunday, Feb. 28, with Rev. D. S. Mills as the evangelist . . . Girl Scout Troop 261 will gather at the home of Mrs. S. W. Ruch Friday night after the high school basketball game for a slumber party. The troop is disbanding, and the balance in its treasury will be divided among the two Brownie troops and the intermediate troop at Scioto Trail. Twenty dollars will be given to each of these groups to help the girls go to day camp this summer.

Ernest Kisor of Lawrence had a coronary attack Saturday and is in Mercy Hospital . . . Wednesday is the monthly meeting of the Civic Club . . . A reminder about the donkey basketball game at the high school this Friday, Feb. 26. The firemen and policemen of Marion-twp have organized a team to play various and sundry other school spirited residents to help provide for the football field and to help buy uniforms for the band.

Don't forget to save those tax stamps for the band, too. Send them to the high school—they'll know what they're for . . . Thursday night is the executive board meeting of the Citizens Association at the high school. It will be reported at that session that the membership has reached about 450. I'm going to offer the suggestion that the 500th new member be presented with a nice memento of the event. The association still feels there are many more prospective members, particularly in the southwestern corner of the township. They want the group to be representative of the entire township, so it is hoped that many more new members from the area just mentioned may be gained soon.

That's all the news I've gathered this week, the invitation is open each week to call me and remind me of the goings-on. The number is GA. 6886. Let me hear from you.

REPORT FROM CITY HALL

Mayor To Name Ulrey First Utilities Director

A 45-year-old member of the staff of the Economics Department in the College of Commerce at Ohio State University will be appointed as the first utilities director for the city of Columbus.

Ivon W. Ulrey, 3032 Belwood, will be named to the position by Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner this week.

The new director has been highly recommended to the mayor as being well qualified to fill the position in view of his past experience and education. He holds a bachelor of science degree from Ohio State, a master's degree from New York University and doctor's degree from Ohio State.

In 1953, he served as economic consultant to objectors to the application by the Ohio Edison Co for an increase in electric power rates. He also organized a comprehensive comparison of the production, transmission and distribution costs of privately-owned electric utilities and TVA. From 1944-46 he was chief of the rocket procurement section of the Bureau of Naval Ordnance, US Navy, Washington. Numerous other activities pertaining to government and utilities are listed in his personal data.

First big task of the new director perhaps will be that of drawing up a public transit franchise for the city. It is the belief of the mayor that the new director should draw up the franchise rather than have the city spend additional funds to have a part-time, outside employee, Prof. Eckleberry of OSU, do the job as proposed by city council. The whole matter will probably get a good airing next Monday night at council meeting.

On Monday afternoon the mayor's advisory committee heard his claim that the city is getting nothing for the 71% of the money spent on civilian defense in Franklin County. The net result was that the committee generally agreed that civilian defense is at a very low ebb and anything that can be done to improve it is in order.

Edward Wagner, chairman of the committee, appointed four members to make an investigation of CD and report their findings back to the committee.

At the committee meeting the question was raised, "What will happen if CD officials refuse to give us any information?" The answer at that time was "This would seem to be a direct indictment of the group and serve to prove that something is radically wrong."

You know the rest. Tuesday's dailies headlined the statement that CD officials had issued a statement "Do not talk." By Monday night this order had been softened some. The mayor's next step may be to ask the state CD organization to step in and give Columbus an answer to the question: "What goes with civilian defense locally?"

The mayor merely says, "If they refuse to talk they must have something to cover up."

As predicted here a few weeks ago the board of health has removed Leo Uridil from the office of secretary of the group. This move was endorsed by doctors of the city who generally agreed that Dr. Ollie Goodice is now the rightful head of the group.

Briefly Told: Claims by some of the councilmen that they need someone to help with their leg work is further proof of the need of a city finance director, says the mayor, and he will ask for one shortly. One source says that city councilmen feel more like councilmen today than they have for many years. No longer are they called into the mayor's office and told what to do. They are thinking for themselves. . . . Former Councilman Henry Koontz will definitely be a candidate for mayor next time say sources very close to him . . . Service Director Floyd Redick visualizes a dam in Big Darby as a means of avoiding water disasters 20 years from now . . . The new city golf course should be open for play this year authorities claim . . . They have claimed that for the past three years, too!

South Side May Obtain Its Water This Summer From Scioto Lakes

Water can be pumped into the South Side from the Scioto Lakes in case of another summer water shortage, it was revealed this week by Floyd C. Redick, city service director.

Redick disclosed that he has considered the purchase of four or five portable filtration units, each capable of purifying two million gallons a day. The units would cost $20,000 each.

The lakes can provide as much as 15 million gallons a day, although the South Side distribution will accomodate only about eight million gallons a day, Redick said.

The service director said that under his plan the Scioto Lakes, located east of the river along [illegible] rd, will be tapped if either a water shortage or a distribution problem develops this coming summer.

Water from the lakes, although purified by the filtration units, will be considerably harder than that normally furnished South Side users, according to Redick.

The Scioto Lakes are old gravel quarries which are fed by an old underground river.

Possible Closing of One of Two South Side Day Nurseries Looms

The possibility of one of two Community Chest-supported day nurseries in the south Columbus area being closed loomed greater this week as a special fact-finding committee began a survey of the needs of the community.

The South Columbus Area Day Committee, organizd Feb. 11 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fullerton Miller, began this week to question parents of the children, ages 2 through 10, enrolled in the two nurseries.

Involved in the possible closing is either the Lincoln Park Day Nursery in the Lincoln Park housing project at 1700 S. 20th or the South Side Day Nursery at 255 Reeb.

The current study is being made, according to Mrs. Virginia Ferguson, staff secretary of the family and child welfare division of the Council of Social Agencies in light of the fact that neither of the nurseries has operated at full capacity during the past year.

Lincoln Park, licensed by the city board of health to enroll 35 children now has 21 enrolled. South Side, licensed to accommodate 50 children now has 47 enrolled.

Mrs. Ferguson explained that it was possible to accommodate several children in excess of the license limitations because of normal absences.

Parents pay for day care of their children at both nurseries within their ability, and not to exceed the actual cost of such care. The Community Chest makes up the deficit.

Answers members of the committee hope to gain through their study include: "If two nurseries are necessary, are the present ones adequate?" and "If two are not needed, how else can care be provided for those children who live too far away from the one remaining?"

There are 19 members on the study committee, including three representatives from each nursery, two from the Community Chest budget committee, a school principal, a PTA representative, a social worker, a child development expert, and a Catholic priest and a Lutheran minister.

South Side Scene Of Second 1954 Traffic Fatality

The South Side was the scene of the second auto fatality of the year in Columbus Friday, Feb. 19, when a 23-year-old Lockbourne Air Force Base airman was crushed between an auto and a transit bus at Markison and S. Fourth.

Police said Deitch's convertible crashed through the Markison-av stop sign and struck the northbound bus at the Fourth-st intersection almost head-on. Smart pushed into Fourth for some 70 feet by the bus, the demolished auto came to rest facing south. The bus continued on, uprooting a dead tree and bumping onto the sidewalk in front of Southwood School.

Stewart dropped Greenlawn 16-10 and Heyl trumped Beck 22-2. In other games, Lincoln defeated Southwood 12-9 and Livingston edged Deshler 8-6.

Led by David Erb's seven points, Stewart played steady ball throughout to beat Greenlawn 16-10 for their fourth win of the season against two setbacks. Ralph Branson's five points helped Stewart's cause. Bill Peck was high for Greenlawn with six points.

Heyl displayed a balanced attack in crushing Beck 22-2 as seven players entered the scoring column. Ken Schumacher led the bucket brigade with six points. Beck never gave up and showed fine sportsmanship. Harold Pyle was outstanding for Beck. Heyl's season record now stands 5-1.

Lincoln made a nice fourth quarter rally to defeat Southwood 12-9. Trailing 7-5 at half, and 7-6 at the end of the third quarter, Lincoln exploded behind Mike Blake to outscore Southwood 6-2 in the final period. Blake had five points for Lincoln, while Tom Reich had four markers for Southwood.

In a low-scoring contest, Livingston gained victory number two, shading Deshler 8-6. A free throw by Lee Wemblinger tied the game 6-6 in the final period, but Richard Buhrts counted a basket for Livingston to sew up the game. Steve Rosenthal scored the only basket for Deshler.

Stewart Nips Greenlawn 6-4, Beck Subdues Heyl 13-10 At Schiller

Two near upsets sparked the action in the South Side Branch YMCA Gra-Y Basketball League, Tuesday, Feb. 16, at Schiller Recreation Center as Stewart barely nipped Greenlawn 6-4 and league-leading Beck finally subdued Heyl 13-10. In other games, Southwood won a thriller from Lincoln 14-13, and Livingston trounced Deshler 13-1.

Stewart held a shaky grip on second place as it barely managed to squeeze by Greenlawn 6-4. Stewart led 1-0 at quarter and then relinquished that lead until the fourth quarter when Don Wilhelm tied the game at 4-4 with a charity toss, and Dan Rowles scored the winning basket. All credit goes to Greenlawn who played an excellent game, showed good sportsmanship, and held high-scoring Dave Hicks to only three points. Harry Hunter matched Hicks with three points for Greenlawn.

Heyl threw up a stone-wall defense in the first half, holding Beck to a 3-3 tie. The game was won in the third period as Beck outscored Heyl 6-2. Big Gerald Hollingsworth of Beck controlled both backboards and scored five points. Sidney Lee scored five markers for Heyl. The win was the fifth for Beck without a loss. Final score was Beck 13, Heyl 10.

Southwood and Lincoln put on the hottest battle of the day as a late rally won for Southwood 14-13. Lincoln had it all its way in the first half, building up an 11-15 lead. Behind the ball-stealing of Dick Gever, Southwood began a gradual third quarter comeback, trailing 12-8. In the fourth quarter, Guver stole the ball three times for three easy lay-up shots to turn the tide of the game. George Crow had an opportunity to tie the score as the game ended with two free throws, but he missed the first throw and Southwood had won its third game. Guyer scored 11 points for Southwood while Crow's six points were high for Lincoln.

The Livingston cagers used an all-court press, which paid off as they defeated Deshler 13-1. John Jones and Bob Edwards scored 6 and four points respectively for Livingston and continually stole the ball from the inexperienced, but fighting Deshler boys. Jim Short scored the only point for Deshler.

Girls Athletic Association Opens Volleyball Season At South High

By Marilyn Kauffman

Pat Toberen, president of the Girls' Athletic Association of South High School, sounded the gavel to open the first meeting of the volleyball season on Thursday, Feb. 11, at 3:30 p.m.

Heading the volleyball schedule for this semester will be Helen Maser and the team captains, Patti Denny and Ann Matthews, leading the seniors; Carole Kates, Jeanne McAbey and Kitty King, captains of the juniors; and Loretta Young, Carol Danison and Marilyn Metzger for the sophomores.

The Girls' Athletic Association of South High School has completed its 1953 basketball season. The captain of the South High team which placed first was Ann Matthews. Doris Grinstead's and Donna Kirchner's teams tied for second place, and Carole Kates' and Jean McAboy's teams tied for third place.

The athletic association chose a sophomore, junior and senior all-star team made up of the best basketball players from each grade. These teams played the all-stars from North and West High.

Judy Ryan, Doris Grinstead, Carol Danison, Shirley Santo, Carolyn Tope, Beverly Cullman, Connie Dean and Doris Clark were the girls who made up the sophomore all-stars from South. Joyce Ryan, Elinor Bordy, Helen Maser, Carole Kates; Rose Foley, Marty Greeno, Ruth Johnson and Jeanne McAboy comprised the junior team. The senior all-stars were Elaine Nicholson, Pat Toberen, Patti Denney, Donna Kirchner, Marlene Swisher, Roberta Rosenauer, Barbara Rush, Janice Stewart and Donna Joiner.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

South Side Leader
1542 Parsons Ave.
Columbus, Ohio

Dear Sirs:

I am a reader of your South Side Leader every week. I think it is a boost to the community and its people. You can find just what you want in the Leader. I think it does good for the betterment of the community. I think we have a mighty fine bunch of people on the South Side.

I would like to have this poem put in the Leader in memory of my mother, who died Feb. 24, 1953:

MOTHER

She was the sweetest mother,
The sweetest in the land,
Who was always helping others,
and lending them a hand.
But now she's resting in her place in heavens far above.
I guess that she will always be a shining star to me.
This is in memory of my mother,
Mrs. Ray Cook, who died Feb. 24, 1953.

Ohio Avenue EUB Cagers Nip St. Paul E & R 25-21

In the South Side YMCA Junior Church Basketball League last Tuesday Ohio Avenue EUB nipped St. Paul E. and R. 25 to 21. A well balanced attack by both teams kept the game nip and tuck until the last quarter when Ohio Avenue forged ahead to stay. Long, Watkins and Grubic sparked Ohio Avenue. Golden, Kammer and Phil Sickle, who won scoring honors with 10 points, paced the losers.

Paced by G. Erlanbach's 13 points, Washington Avenue EUB continued undefeated by downing St. John's E. and R. 32 to 22. J. Smith and Fred Dunham pitched in with six and seven points respectively to help the winners' cause. Jack Flovin's eight points and Bobby Karrer with five led the scoring for St. John.

Emmanuel Lutheran, getting ready for its big game against Washington Avenue next week, breezed to a 28 to 13 victory over Central Community. Don Roberts, Gerald Hill and Darryl Sutorius led the scoring parade for Emmanuel Lutheran. David Stevens sparked Central Community with eight points.

THE LORANTFFY LADIES' AID ASSOCIATION of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church will hold its annual chicken paprikas dinner Feb. 28 at 12:30 p.m., in the church basement, Woodrow and Washington.

Hello!

The greenhouse looks lovely on this bright, sunny Monday, and the fragrant hyacinths which we have blooming in it makes it smell so good. There are tulip plants in bloom, too, and lovely, tall pink snapdragons. There is quite a bit of confusion around, as today we began construction of another greenhouse. We will in the future be better able to serve you with a larger quanity of freshly cut and choice blooms.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gilpin who have recently had an anniversary and to Charles and Mary Toth who have just celebrated their 17th.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carlisle and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morgan both have new baby boys, and it's a girl for Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Leffler. Mr. and Mrs. Don Baughman of Cincinnati have a new baby daughter; Jerry and Paul Baughman are the proud paternal grandparents.

May you soon be feeling fit and at your best, Janet Gusa, Lucille Pemberton, John Fritchen, Mrs. Ruth Karl, Joseph Benyi, Gene Burkley, Mrs. Jimmy Kay and Estelle Pugh. Birthday greetings also to Estelle, and to Mrs. C. S. Sherwood, Vickie Russell, Bessie O'Rourke, and Judy Ware.

Magic VS Miracles

Maybe you've seen this trick performed by a good magician. He holds three small bunnies in his hand. Presto! Now he has six. Presto, again! Twelve of them now. Another wave of his hand—and there aren't any bunnies left at all!

How does he do it?

Well, those baby rabbits are made of sponge rubber, with enough "spring" to enable the magician to flip them in and out of his sleeves.

That's good magic—even though it can be explained.

Now, about miracles. . .

Have you ever seen a child listening to one of the wonderful, old stories of the Bible in his Sunday School? Have you ever marveled at the closeness of a little family worshiping together in church? Have you ever seen men, whom the world gave up as hopelessly and utterly lost, pulled together under the great stimulus of God's written word?

All miracles—and unlike the magician's act, they cannot be explained. But we know who has brought them to pass.

They are the miracles of a loving God.

And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness.

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicks

Oh my—lots of things to do, and practically no time to do them in! Start scribbling, little scribblers.

First item on our list of notes tells us that Amelia Johnson, 1708 S. Pearl, had a Feb. 18 birthday. She's a grand lady, full of wisdom and kindness, known to one and all as "Grandma." Just oodles more of happy birthdays, Grandma.

Missing winter's final throes are Daryl and Gert Williams, who are busily sunning themselves in Florida for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moyer are also being refugees from Ohio's changeable weather.

One of Columbus' star women bowlers underwent a tonsillectomy a short time ago. The lady? None other than Virginia Junk, of Jenkins-av.

Going about comforting other folks who are troubled, Rev. Davis does so these days with a heavy heart of his own. His brother met with a tragic accident, and while it's hard to lose folks in a normal way, the sudden taking of a loved one is doubly hard. Our sincerest sympathy to Rev. Davis in his unexpected loss. Virginia Ruth, one of the Davis' sprightly daughters, has been "mumpy" recently, and we hope she's nicely recovered by now.

Paul and Jerri Baughman can now claim a grand-daughter as well as a grandson, for on Feb. 19, Sir Stork delivered a nine pound six ounce girl to Don and Marianne Baughman of Cincinnati. The address is 4915 Winnespa-av, Cincinnati, 32.

Comes the time of year when our Feb. 29 birthdayites have to celebrate a birthday they don't have. Twin sisters are in this category, and they are Mrs. Ray Swisher of 582 Siebert, and Mrs. Seelig of 378 Morrill. These two women have had only 15 birthdays in their lifetime, going for eight years sans birthday at one time! Mrs. Swisher informed me that her daughter, Eileen Di Franco, would probably be coming home from Italy in April, but those plans for the future are in an indefinite state. Sure hope I get to see the gal when she gets home.

If you've a nice get-well card handy, how about sending it to Alice Stiebritz Bruney, 941 N. Cassady. Alice lived in our end of town for years and would appreciate hearing from old friends and neighbors very much. She is just recently home from the hospital.

A little girl who started life quite sickly, has now reached an energetic second year, as of Feb. 16. The young Miss is Margaret Rehl, of 971 Wilson.

Our deepest sympathy to the families of Mrs. Weldon and Mr. Ozako.

Tonight is the time of a sumptious ham dinner at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Stewart and Bruck. The Senior Baseball Champions of the church are the group to benefit from the proceeds. The price is only $1.50 for all the food you can eat. Children's prices are 75c. The dinner starts at 5 p. m. and will end at 8. Mary Evans will see that you get tickets, if you call her at Ga. 5427.

Another tonsillectomy is listed among our notes, so here's happier chewing to Jimmy Osborne of Hanford-st. The young gentleman is five years old, and his operation was Feb. 15.

A gay postal card from Florida tells us that Julia Wilson is having a fine time in the June-like weather there. The card bore a Miami postmark, and did it ever make us yearn to dig out a bathing suit!

Here's a reminder for folks of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church to make plans to attend the square dance in the church's recreation center this Saturday at 8 p. m. Jim Wagner will do his usual fine job of calling and the price is only 50c. Ye Gadabout's agonna be there, so bring your news items along, friends!

The Wynd family of Moler-st now has a second son to make the son and daughter ratio all even. This youngest Wynd is Master John.

The Job's Daughter's Mothers Club will meet tonight in the home of Mrs. Louise Kates, 279 Siebert. We forgot to inquire about the time, but we're sure the members all know.

With March bearing down so quickly, we don't want to forget to mention that two males of our South Side population to have birthdays are Lu Davis and Roger Wycoff. Roger's mother, Jane, had a Feb. 16 birthday that we don't want to forget, either.

We received an inspiring poem from one of our readers that did us lots of good, so we'd like to pass it on, hoping that someone else will get some good from it too. From Mrs. Drugan came these lovely words.

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all up hill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but have to cry,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest if you must, but don't you quit.
Life is queer with its twists and turns
As everyone of us sometimes learns.
And many a failure turns about
When he might have won, had he stuck it out.
Don't give up, though the pace seems slow.
You may succeed with another blow.
Success is failure, turned inside out,
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt.
And you never can tell how close you are;
It may be near when it seems so far.
So stick to the fight, when you're hardest hit,
It's when things seem worst
That you must not quit.

On those cheering words we'll quietly leave, and won't you call us at GA. 1051? We love to hear from you, and that's said quite sincerely.

it aint HAY!
No, money "ain't hay" — but sometimes you'd almost think it was the way you have to "fork it over" for this and that. However, if you just take a look about you there are lots of ways you can do something about this "hay". Why not try to get rid of a lot of things around your house that other people may be needing and wanting — For example: Used clothing, furniture, refrigerators, tools, bikes, lumber, odds and ends.

Your Branch Library

The Parsons Avenue Library wishes to announce that it is again open on Thursdays. Library hours are 1-9 p. m. Monday through Friday and 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday.

Following are some of the new fiction books at the branch:

"The Lights in the Sky are Stars," Frederick Brown. The year is 1997. The place is the United States. The stardusters have already conquered Venus, Mars and the moon. Jupiter is their next goal. High quality science fiction.

"The Red Doe" by Drayton Mayrant. The story of Lexington Mowine, who fought with equal fervor for freedom and the woman he loved. The setting is South Carolina during the rebellion of His Majesty's colonies.

"The Nightingales Are Singing" by Monica Dickens. Story of a mature, attractive English girl who meets a U.S. Navy commander in London, marries him and comes to live in Washington, D. C. A sensitive and compassionate account of the troublesome first years in an Anglo-American marriage.

"The Good Spirit of Laurel Ridge," by Jesse Stuart. Another tale of the Kentucky hill country. Astonishing and even outrageous, it is authentic all the way though, with all the charm of a mountain ballad that only Jesse Stuart could write.

"Gold Mountain" by Charlotte Paul Story of Katherine Duncan, a young school teacher in the Snoqualmie Valley, a rowdy northwestern settlement. Miss Paul has caught the wry humor, pathos and epic thrills of pioneer days in Washington Territory.

"Three at the Wedding" by Grace Erdman. Among the heads that turned to watch the lovely bride were those of three women that were filled with painful memories. A subtle and penetrating story of women's needs and strivings.

New westerns include "Gold Is Where You Find It", James Hendryx, and "Crown Rides High", by Tom Hopkins.

New mysteries are "Ready or Not" by Ione Shriber; "The Waikiki Widow", by Juanita Sheridan; "Murder of the Well-Beloved", by Margot Neville; "Prescription: Murder," by Doris Disney; "Three of Diamonds", by Kathleen Knight, and "The Saint in Europe" by Charteris.

New non-fiction includes "Look Who's Abroad Now" by Earl Wilson. Wilson and his "Beautiful Wife" start out tobogganing down camel humps in the shadow of the pyramids and wind up eating hominy grits in the Waldorf-Astoria.

"The Golden Age of Homespun" by Jared Van Wagenen. Everyone who is fascinated by the life of an earlier time will want to read this book. An interesting account of how farms were created and homes built, and how each family fed, clothed, shod and warmed itself.

"Coming of Age in Samoa," by Margaret Mead. A psychological study of primitive youth for western civilization.

"Elizabeth and the Prince of Spain", by Margaret Irwin. Successor to "Young Bess" and "Captive Princess" is this glowing chronicle of the life of England's great queen. This book deals with the early years of Elizabeth's young womanhood and takes us up to the beginning of a troubled but glorious reign

"Danger Signals" by Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, consultant in medicine, emeritus, of Mayo Clinic. This book was written in the hope of saving its readers from serious illness or premature death. It points out the danger signals that give warning of impending disease.

"Popular Mechanics Album of Aviation", by Throm and Crenshaw. A complete history of famous flights and fliers, commemorating the 50th anniversary of powered flight.

"Children of Divorce," by J. Louise Despert, M.D. A famous child psychiatrist shows you how to help yourself and your children through the special crises and everyday problems of divorce.

'Do It Yourself' Show Will Start Tomorrow At Memorial Hall

Columbus will be the first city in Ohio to present a "Do It Yourself" show, the newest craze sweeping the country. The "Do It Yourself" show, with exhibitors from every field, will open formally at 6 p.m. Friday, Feb. 26, in Memorial Hall. Each day thereafter the doors will be open from 1 p.m. to 10 p. m. daily through Mar. 2.

Featured in the show will be such special attractions as national, regional and local displays of building ideas, remodeling, construction, cabinets, tile, paper, glass, concrete, brick, lawn furniture, plastic hand tools, power tools, photography, music, sewing, boats, gardening, landscaping, draperies, patterns, cooking, awnings, air-conditioning, and numerous other exhibits.

Steve Ellingson of Van Nuys, Cal., noted authority and originator of the "Do It Yourself" movement, will make daily appearances at the show. Ellington will have several Hollywood starlets with him who will assist him in demonstrating the actual use of the various exhibits.

An added feature of the shows will be a host of valuable door prizes which will be given every hour, on the hour. These prizes include such things as waffle makers, coffee makers, electric corn-popper sets, tea sets, sewing machines, drill sets, coffee tables, earrings, formica tops, room-paint allotments, wallpaper in room lots, complete permanent kits, outfitted cases and many more equally valuable gifts. The grand prize of the entire show will be the awarding of a complete "Build It Yourself" home through the courtesy of Capitol-Swift Home Builders.

The "Do It Yourself" show will not only provide entertainment for the entire family, but will provide an outstanding and unique "bonus" to its patrons in the form of education and instruction. Adult admissions will be 60 cents, tax included. Children under 12, when accompanied by their parents, will be admitted free.

"You know I'm a hero," said a fellow to another.

"How come you're a hero?" asked the other.

You see, it was my gal's birthday," explained the fellow, "and she said 'if you ever brought me a gift I'd drop dead'! So, I didn't buy her any and saved her life!"

Corpus Christi Annexes Crown Of Intermediate Schiller Girls

Corpus Christi's basketball team annexed the championship on Monday, Feb. 22, in the Girls' Intermediate League at Schiller Recreation Center. The champs will represent Schiller in the Inter-Center tournaments to be held next week.

Before the game, Corpus Christi and St. Leo's Aragonettes were tied for first place, after St. Mary's Ramblers knocked St. Dominic's out of a three-way tie for first. The Intermediate League has had a close race all the way and this week's championship game was no exception.

The score was tied 6-6 at the end of the first quarter, and when the half was called, the score was 22-all. Corpus took a slight lead in the third quarter to bring the score to 30-28 in favor of Corpus Christi. In the fourth and final period, Corpus scored nine points to the Aragonettes' five to widen the gap and end the game 39-33, giving Corpus Christi the championship.

High scorer for the game was Carol Spiers of Corpus Christi, with 23 points. Rita Duckworth and Joyce Miller of St. Leo's Aragonettes tallied 19 and 12 points respectively.

Marion-Twp. Sidelights

By Joel Snyder

A basketball authority reported this week that within the next two years Marion-Franklin will have the top team in the county, including the city schools . . . Constable Wallace is back on the payroll to the delight of many of his supporters . . The trustees passed a resolution asking for bids for street lights from M-F School to Lockbourne-rd and north to the Twp House . . . Have you noticed that the heat is on the rural zoning board? How about the county commissioners" . . . A gift will be given the 500th new member of the Citizens Association . . . John now, you might be the lucky one. Membership is near that number, so hurry. Next meeting will be at the high school in the cafeteria. Mar 9, at 8 p.m. Be sure to be there Membership will be asked to support the existing system of government as there seems to be no real reason to change at this time

A vote will be taken whether or not elected township officials can also hold elected positions in the association

The new trustee administration is making nice progress and deserves commendation . . . The police set-up is being studied, we hear, to make it better for everyone . . . There were laughs galore at the donkey basketball game at the high school . . . Old friends of Glenn "Zeke" Ross were invited to a surprise party at his house last Friday night, which his wife termed an "Over the Hill" party (Nothing literal we hope, Zeke) He was an uncomfortable 30 that night and the gang had a great time playing a bunch of old records that the gang used to make on his birthdays 10 or 12 years ago when he lived at Moler and Lockbourne rds. The records, made on Glenn's home recorder, will never sell a million, but Zeke wouldn't take a gold platter for them

Ken and Dot Olbert's new baby, shifted after birth to Children's Hospital for a blood build-up, is coming along fine and was released Monday. Her name is Julie Kay . . . Bob and Jean Kirschner's new baby, who was ill recently, is responding nicely to treatment Ricky (that's the baby's name) will make a dandy brother for Randy who was two in February

Mr and Mrs John Nippert went to New York the front part of last week and, while there, secured tickets to the Broadway play "Wonderful Town." When the orchestra began to play, the crowd began to applaud and the Nipperts, sitting in a front row, turned around to see Desi Anez and Lucille Ball sit down in seats right behind them What a life the celebrities lead! During the intermission the crowd couldn't take their eyes off them But we suspect the crowd was gawking at the popular television stars, and not the grand couple from Marion Twp

Bill Fornof, trustee has been in Florida for a vacation . . . A junk yard owner was fined and a jail sentence suspended, providing he clear the place out by a certain date, for violating zoning laws here a couple of weeks ago. The health and safety committee of the Citizens Association will report further results at the next meeting They met with the health inspector Saturday to get details on the reports they turned over to him recently . . . We don't want to hear anybody say the organization isn't worthwhile, unless they're willing to step outside . . . A housing committee will be formed soon to study the problems that come under that heading including slum clearance

A small area of the township, in the Deshler Avenue School District is being considered for annexation to the city . . . This will no doubt be discussed at the Citizens Association meeting Mar 9 and should provide an interesting topic for discussion . . . Leroy Gerbig associa

Mayor To Stress Greater Use Of City Parks, Playgrounds In Coming Weeks

Greater use of the city parks and playgrounds will be stressed by the mayor in coming weeks, it was revealed this week. The mayor campaigned on a platform of better parks and better recreation facilities and even though his original plan to replace Nick Barack with another man as head of the recreation department has tentatively been shelved, he will continue to demand an improvement in the department

Robert Draper, local attorney and for many years interested in schools and recreation facilities this week addressed a letter to the mayor outlining numerous added uses of the parks, which will first call for a better coordination of the work of the recreation department headed by Barack and the parks and forestry department headed by Ray Dietz

Draper states "I feel we should change our philosophy of recreation to make it an all year round recreation program for all ages of people In order to do this we must carry on a planting program of more trees and shrubs in the parks, with walks between them for nature walks. Additional benches and tables need to be provided so more people can enjoy outdoor recreation and relaxation. More outdoor fireplaces are needed for family outings and picnics.

"Shelter houses should be open winter and summer for ping pong checkers, square dancing and deck tennis Outside concrete ping pong tables, badminton, horseshoe courts, tennis courts, shuffleboard courts, and skating rinks for outdoor skating that can be flooded for ice skating in winter should be provided. These should be properly lighted for use at night"

He continued by pointing to the need for increased casting facilities in the lakes, building up baseball diamonds, and the conducting of competition between various recreation groups of the various parks.

While one daily newspaper stated that city council Monday night turned down the appointment of Ivon Ulrey as utilities director, the fact was that council had nothing to do with it. The mayor merely informed council that he had appointed Ulrey Council does not need to ratify the appointment

Councilman Sedgwick, who has held out against the expenditure of additional funds by council in hiring Professor Tekleberry to write the transit franchise, at a rate of $100 per day not to exceed 40 days, is of the opinion that Ulrey should be given an opportunity to write the franchise and thus save the city this money He has expressed confidence in Ulrey

An ordinance providing for an increase in pay for the city treasurer introduced in council last Monday will probably be vetoed by the mayor on the grounds that the increases granted under the Kroeger survey are sufficient. Present salary of the treasurer is $590 per month, the survey calls for an increase to $610, and the council ordinance calls for upping it to $700.

Original estimates of the council as to the increases provided under the Kroeger survey were stated to be $700 000 Figures in the new budget show this amount to have been increased to $1 200 000

Lopsided Scores Are Featured In South Y League Games

Siebert and Heyl ran up adding-machine scores in their games in the South Side Branch YMCA Elementary Fifth Grade Basketball League at Schiller Recreation Center Thursday, Feb 25 Siebert massacred Beck 33-0 and Heyl pounded Greenlawn 32-9. In other games, Lincoln won over Deshler 9-5 and Southwood took the measure of Livingston, 18-5

Siebert never "opened the gates of mercy" as it crushed a hapless Beck team 33-0 Siebert used a full court press during the entire game and never gave Beck a chance to see daylight. Beck showed lack of experience and know-how, but never gave up Roger Thompson and Ken Lee led the slaughter with 13 and 11 points respectively It was Siebert's sixth win without defeat. Beck absorved its sixth loss in six games

Heyl used its height to crush Greenlawn 32-9. Behind Ken Schumacher, the league's tallest performer, who tossed in 16 points for the day, Heyl built up a 15-5 half time lead and coasted the rest of the way Bob Stevenson pocketed 10 points for Heyl while Jack Wamsley led Greenlawn with seven points

Deshler almost pulled a big upset before finally bowing to Lincoln 9-5 Deshler managed to knot the score 5-5 at the end of three quarters, but a basket and two fouls by Mike Blake in the last period spelled the difference. The game was very cleanly played by both squads, with both teams showing fine sportsmanship The win enabled Lincoln to go into a tie for third place

Southwood held Livingston to one point in the second half to walk off with an 18-5 victory Southwood was paced by Jim Bryant, who scored seven points Dick Miller scored four of Livingston's five points

The Southeast District Camp Fire Girls are holding a birthday party on Mar 10, from 7 to 9 p. m., at the Jewish Center on College-av. There will be refreshments and square dancing.

Mary Robison is one of those who celebrates a birthday only occasionally, as Feb 29, is her birthdate. "Happy Birthday" if you had one

Theresa May Sieber and her Daddy Overly think March is a pretty nice month for it brings both of them a birthday. These residents of 1588 Parsons-av, celebrate on the third (Theresa May) and on the 29th (Overly) of the month.

Our sympathy goes at this time to the families of Mrs. Rader and Mr Young.

The Gadabout made a booboo! We erroneously reported the square dance at St. Paul's E&R church was to be last Saturday, but instead it's to be THIS Saturday. We still plan to be there and hope we see lots of our friends there.

Mrs. Siebert of 1575 S. Sixth-st took a nasty fall and is completely invalided now. She loves to receive cards, so we hope she gets lots of them

A communique from WBNS-TV a new program to be seen at 3:30 p. m. each Sunday, Gene Fullen tells us all about "Charade Party," serves as emcee, and Pat Gleba acts as co-ordinator. WBNS-TV is asking for charade team entries from churches, clubs, schools and civic organizations to appear on the program. Individuals wishing to appear on future telecases may write to the station, 495 Olentangy River rd. (A good way for groups to make money, for the winning team receives $25, and the lowest scoring individual receives $5).

John McGrew, 219 E. Whittier-st, attained the dignified stature of a "teen" on Mar. 2. Johnny is the son of "Hot Rod" George and Jane McGrew

Two of our favorite folks celebrate March birthdays, and lots more of 'em, all happy to "Grandma" Siebert and to Frances Paulus. "Grandma" lives at 286 E. Morrill-av, and Frances gets her mail at 68 E. Welch-av. Mar. 9 for "Grandma" and 10 is Frances' favorite

A young couple just starting married life together are Bob Thiel and the former Lenora Oswald. They are Mr. and Mrs. since their February 27 exchange of vows in St. Leo's Church.

Little David Barry reached his fifth birthday on Feb. 12. A little late to mention it, but birthdays are still magical at that age, so better late than never!

The Explorer Scouts of Post 77 have a fine week-end in store for them and here's hoping the weather co-operates accordingly. The boys and their leaders are planning a trip to Breaks of the Big Sandy, near the Kentucky-Virginia border, and are they ever excited about it! (Our own Explorer can hardly wait to get going, but of course his mom will be a little bit appresensive)

Two early March birthdays include those of Florence Clark and Charles Tabor. Florence's natal day was on the very first day of the month, while Charles' day comes tomorrow.

Our sympathy goes at this time to Mr. Fisher of 1711½ S. Third-st who had the sad task of attending his father's funeral last week in the neighboring state of Indiana.

A sweet little girl becomes 12 years old this Saturday. So happy birthday, Mary Beth Whitacre

MARCH

Since yesterday—
How the wind blows on the hill!
Glad are the evergreens,
Gay is the willow, bursting to lavender bloom.
The goldfish released from ice-covered tomb
Swim, glinting in sunshine,
Hunting for green things.
Since yesterday—
Have the iris crowns risen.
The grasses greened and the harebells
Thrown out their fronds—
Since yesterday.

Mr. C. Carlton Hartley
The Hilltop Record
Columbus, Ohio
Dear Boss:

As an old-timer at being a grandparent, I congratulate you on the coming big event. There is nothing like being a grandparent, unless it's being a parent. Wait till your little grandson daughter brings home chickenpox and other children's diseases and passes them around impartially among his beloved adoring adult relatives. Mine did that recently. That will "slow you down." (You CAN get chickenpox twice. We found that out at our house.)

Just don't go spoiling the grandchild. And look who's talking. But what are grandparents for?

Best wishes to all concerned. I hope you will recover nicely. If there is anything you want to know, just ask me. I've had experience.

Helpfully,
Grandma Weakley.

And help us on, with courage high.
God give us quiet confidence.
And please—a twinkle in our eye.

During our lives we meet people whose names we might never know but who leave lasting impressions. One such person was a frail little patient in the charity ward of a Tennessee hospital who had been brought in from a shack in the mountains. My favorite shutin was in the hospital, and while I was visiting her she asked me to take some of her flowers to the charity ward. This little mountain lady was in the bed nearest the door. She seemed hungry for somebody to talk to, or for somebody who would listen to her. I gave her the flowers and sat down beside her bed. She talked on and on, and it was good to listen to her, though heartbreak and awful weariness were in her soft southern voice. I don't suppose anybody had listened to her in her whole life. Nobody had taken the time, or maybe they thought she had nothing to say that would be worth listening to. Of course I can't quote her verbatim but some of her words I shall never forget. She was pleased and proud that they had taken her to the hospital in a "great big shining rig," and that they were in such a hurry to get her there that when they went through the town they didn't even stop for lights. That made her "Queen For A Day"; she was the most important woman in Knoxville that day, she reckoned. She told me she had had seven "younguns" and had been sick before, but she never had been so "tuckered out" as she was when the doctor came to her house and told her she had to go to the hospital. She said she just "give out" and her husband was a mite put out because he didn't hold with doctors and hospitals none. She said her "man" had got religion once and now he just SET all day, waiting for the Lord to call him to do something. While he "set," she raised the children, hired out to the neighbors to hoe tobacco and cooked and washed and cleaned. Once a lady tourist had traded her a ring for a quilt she had made before the younguns came, but her man took the ring and sold it and bought himself some fishing tackle because he could listen to the Lord call him better when he was fishing. Anyway, her man didn't hold with gewgaws none either. She told me she was glad her hospital window was "fixed" so she could see the sun set because she had not had much time to watch sunsets before, and she wondered if a whippoorwill that always called to her in the evening when she went to the spring for water would miss her while she was away. She guessed maybe he was lonesome too and maybe tired, like she was.

Signs of spring — Grandpa is making a kite for the almost-six-year-old . . . neighbors are hanging clothes outdoors . . . some of them have that spring-housecleaning gleam in their eyes . . . two small boys were buying marbles at the Five and Ten . . . several farmers were plowing, up Kenton way . . . stores are featuring paint and housecleaning equipment . . . no "first" robin, for they have been here all winter . . . rehearsals starting for the annual Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. show.

Mail—From Columbus: "Did you ever notice that 'dum dum ded um' (Here Comes The Bride) and 'dum de dum dum' (Dragnet) look alike? I could say more but I won't . . . From a seven-year-old, to my favorite shutin: "Mommie says I must not tell you that next Thursday is my birthday. Last year you sent me a Raggedy Ann doll and now her hair is lost and one arm and leg is lost and her dress is lost and a shoe is lost. She was a nice doll. Thank you" . . . From my f.s.-in: "Tell them about the kid whose aunt asked him how he liked school and he answered 'Closed' and about the wife who answered 'At intervals' when asked what her husband worked at."

tion treasurer, is one of the sharpest dressers south of Fifth Avenue . . . A week ago last Sunday was our No. 1 son's fifth birthday. Dave and Patty Yee relinquished their smaller two wheel bike to J.J. as they had outgrown it. I got plenty of road work teaching him how to ride it. Now that he knows, I still have to run along beside him as he doesn't know how to stop it gracefully. J.J. believes in those wishes you make when blowing out the candles on the cake. He wished for a two-wheeled bike. About an hour later he went out to play and Dave and Patty asked if he would accept the bike. Hereafter I'm taking more stock in those wishes myself.

Got a letter from George and Mimi Cunningham from New Haven, Conn., where they are in the process of trading their smaller home for a more spacious Dutch colonial. George is personnel manager for the Farm Bureau New England branch. Old friends will be interested to know that they have two children, a boy and a girl . . . Jack and Betty Kaiser have just recently celebrated their 13th anniversary . . . Alex Santo will be busy soon planting about 70 shrubs to be delivered soon. He's very fond of his job at the court house . . . Jimmy Genoonis and Bob Kirschner, old buddies of each other and mine, celebrate their birthdays on the same day next week. Jim's in-laws are Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner of Fairwood-av.

Did you notice how the road crew got on the ball Monday when we had the big snow? We'd have a hard time getting that kind of service in the city, wouldn't we? . . . a fact you probably didn't know until now. When filling out your application for you: new license plates, be sure to point out that you are a resident of Marion Township, rather than a resident of the city of Columbus. In this way a portion of the tax is given back to the county which is the rightful claimant.

The revival at the South High Church got of to a good start on Sunday night with a nice crowd, good music, and an inspiring message by Rev. D. S. Mills. We can make this an exceptional revival by all supporting it. Rev. Mills is well-known through his program, "The Church of the Air," on WHKC and his messages are always inspiring . . . The chorus at Scioto Trail School was honored by being chosen to sing at the Franklin County Music Teachers meeting at Central High School on Thursday. This group is composed of fifth and sixth grade boys and girls, and all who have been privileged to hear them think they are an outstanding group of vocalists.

The Mother-Daughter Banquet for S. High EUB Church will be Mar. 25. There will be more on this later.

We were especially glad to hear that Mrs. Tony DiGiola and Mrs. Richard Smith were at the last regular meeting of the Citizens Association and are proceeding to endorse the organization as strongly as they can. They report that they are pleased with the policy of the comparatively new group that has produced investigations into areas where there were virtually no members, or little interest in the organization. The fact that the group in interested in aiding the ENTIRE township, and not just the portions represented by the most members, is their proof that the association is worthwhile. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. DiGiola are hoping that the Scioto Trail corner of the township will soon show deserving concern about the actions being taken by the Citizens Association. The many phases of communit, welfare being looked into by the different committees, such as unkempt trailer parks, unlawful junk yards, troublesome sewers and ditches, school safety measures, etc., were the source of amazement to these community workers. We are happy to know that these two newcomers offer their whole-hearted approval to the current progress of the group and hope that many more in the neighborhood join with them in taking an active participation in the township's welfare.

Tommy Fischer of Fornof-rd has been ill recently and we hope he makes a speedy recovery . . . "Flippo the Clown" (Bob Marvin, WBNS-TV) visited the Cub Scout Blue and Gold Dinner at the high school Friday night, much to the delight of everyone. His antics and magic tricks were wonderful, and he was a real crowd-pleaser in general . . . Be sure to set aside the Mar. 19, 20 dates for the Booster Club Talent Show at the high school. More about it later, but we understand that Smith Ed. has made its selections and is getting ready to hold up its end of the program.

Hope all the members of the Citizens Association attend the regular meeting at the high school, Mar. 9. If you've read this far, you've received your notice, so try to make it. There are many important items to be discussed in the next few meetings and we want your opinion. See you at the meeting.

Boy Scout Troop 8 Plans Week-End Overnight Hike

Troop 8 of St. Mary's Parish is planning an overnight hike to Camp Lazarus next week-end. Members will meet at 9 a. m. Saturday, Mar. 6, in the school yard and leave from there, returning Sunday afternoon. They will stay at Iroquois cabin.

On Monday, Feb. 22, the troop made a bicycle hike to Big Walnut Creek for outdoor activities and tests.

Sunday Sermonette

Glowing Christians

The striking characteristic of the early Christians was their glow. When Peter and John were brought before the authorities at the Temple "they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus." Their Christian glow could not be eclipsed by persecution.

Modern Christianity must redeem the lost glow and again produce glowing Christians if we are going to win this world for Christ. A certain man in old age attended Stanley Jones' meeting one night and was converted. This man was known in his community as a sour old man. A little girl saw him next day and remarked to her mother, "Mr So and So looks like he swallowed an electric light bulb." This old man became a glowing Christian when he found Christ.

"And they took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus." This is still the secret of how to become a glowing Christian. These disciples were not with Jesus for only one hour on Sunday morning but with him constantly for three and a half years. Through the Holy Spirit we can be with Christ and He can be with us constantly. Then when this fellowship with Him is vital there is a reality imparted unto us in the 20th century which will make us "Glowing Christians."

Base Point

We count on the weather vane to give us the wind's direction. No matter which way the vane turns, the four points of the compass remain permanent. Those four points are anchored fast and true.

Yet they stand fast only because of one other feature of the weather vane that's easy to overlook. That is the base point, the spot where the weather vane is fastened to the structure that supports it. If that point gives way, the whole apparatus will tumble in the first strong wind that blows its way.

We have our own compass points to guide us in the political and social storms which swirl about us so often these days. We call these points "principles"—the principles established in church. To strengthen those principles so that nothing will shake them loose, we look to the church for a base point that will guarantee our solidarity in any crisis. And we find what we seek in the strength of God, the rock of ages for generations past, and generations yet unborn.

For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm. . . —Isa. 25:4

That strength is our strength if we will but make our churches the spiritual base point of our lives.

Week Of Mar. 6-14 Set As National 4-H Club Week

The week of Mar. 6-14 has been set as National 4-H Club Week, with "Working Together for World Understanding," as its theme. The 4-H Clubs in Franklin County will hold reorganization meetings during the week.

A green four-leaf clover with a white "H" on each leaf is the emblem from which 4-H derives its name. The H's stand for head, heart, hands, and health. Boys and girls from 10 to 21 years of age work together in 4-H Club activities, which have as their common goal the development of good citizens.

Volunteer leaders and parents of local club members work together in the development of the club program. A County 4-H council, composed of parents and advisors, is the policy-making body for all activities in the county. The County Agricultural Extension service cooperates with these county and local groups.

The young people of the Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist church, from Mar. 6-13, will spend extra time in prayer and study of the Scriptures.

Leading the services at the church is Mrs. Earl Harris, youth leader. Theme of the studies with their emphasis on youth's approach to living is "The Abundant Life."

At the Sabbath morning worship service at 11 Saturday, the sermon topic will be "Religion and Life" by Rev. Richard T. Minesinger. Sabbath, Mar. 13, will climax the series. The sermon will be, "Can I Be Sure of Eternal Life?"

A special program of spiritual emphasis will be given every day at the church's grade school at Union and Ryan-avs under the supervision of Rev. Minesinger.

Washington Avenue EUB Remains Undefeated In South Y Jr. Cage Loop

In the South Side YMCA Junior Church League games last Tuesday, Feb. 23, Central Community downed Ohio Avenue EUB 27-8. Dick Shumacker, with 11, and Billy Wolf, with 10 points, sparked Central. Dave Long was high point man for Ohio Avenue with six.

In the feature game of the evening, Washington Avenue EUB continued undefeated by winning a thrilling 21-20 victory over Emmanuel Lutheran. Al Quincell was the hero of the day for Washington Avenue. With the score tied at 20-all, he was fouled just as the whistle blew, then calmly walked to the foul line and dropped in the winning marker. G. Erlenback and Freddy Dunham with 11 and seven points respectively sparked Washington. Don Roberts, Jerry Hill and Daryl Sutorius with five points each led Emmanuel Lutheran's drive.

St. Paul E&R, defeated St. John's E&R, 31-18. Led by C. Olnen's 14 points and Gishel's 10, St. Paul was pressed all the way by St. John. Seven players broke into the scoring column for St. John, with Jack Flovin's five and Larry Scofield's four points leading the way.

Foul-Shooting Tourney Underway At Schiller

Boys and girls from Schiller Recreation Center have begun participating in a foul-shooting tournament. Each individual attempts a series of 25 foul shots at three different times, making a total of 75 free throws. The best of 25 foul shots is used as his record for the tournament.

Entries close on Mar. 20. The three age classifications are the same as for the basketball season: juniors, 13 and under; intermediates, 14 and 15; seniors, 16, 17, and 18. Winners of the tournaments at Schiller will participate in the Inter-Center Foul Shooting Tournament to be held at Beatty Recreation Center on Mar. 24.

POTPOURRI
By Mrs. John Nutting

Have you thought of making a rose bowl, or as we might more correctly term it, a potpourri? It is really just that: a mixture of pleasantly scented flowers, leaves, herbs and spices. The formula is largely a product of individual imagination, a mixture of the scents and odors one likes best. The foundation and main ingredient is dried rose petals.

Unfortunately, the old-fashioned thousand-petaled rose of grandmother's garden is very rare today. When they were available very little else was needed, as they were highly scented and their haunting fragrance lingered for years when kept in closely covered containers.

Today, we find it desirable to use, in addition to the rose petals, other sweet-smelling flowers or leaves which retain their odor when dried, such as lavender flowers, rosemary, marjoram, camomile, the leaves of the lemon-scented verbena, geranium, and the various mints. Even dried orange or lemon peel may be added. Some gardeners are making a hobby of growing the old time aromatic plants and herbs. These foresighted souls need seek no further for the ingredients for their potpourri. Corn flowers retain their deep blue color when dried, and while they have no odor, give color interest if one is using a glass bowl or sheer organdy bags for sachets.

The petals and leaves should be gathered in the early morning and carefully dried on trays. An old window screen makes an ideal drying tray, allowing a circulation of air through the petals. Shake gently every few days. Too fast drying results in loss of aroma, too slow may mean mold or rotting. The garage or attic, warm and dry, are ideal drying rooms.

When the petals and leaves are thoroughly dry, spices, such as cinnamon either bark or ground, cloves, orris root, calamus root, sandal wood, benzoin, and coriander seed may be added. It may be necessary to visit your druggist to obtain some of these ingredients.

No precise formula or combination of ingredients can be given. Make your potpourri according to your own individual taste and desire and its haunting and subtle aroma will delight you whenever you lift the lid of that old sugar bowl or open your lingerie drawer some snowy winter day.

Gather plenty of petals, use your imagination, and have fun.

Wildlife Survey Counts Franklin County Quail

Contrary to popular belief, all of the best quail range does not lie south of State Route 40. According to a survey conducted by the management section of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, two study areas showing a tremendous quail population were located in Licking and Delaware Counties.

A study of the summary of quail covey strip censuses conducted on five areas within Franklin County shows an estimated number of 15.7 covies per square mile with the covies averaging 12.6 birds or an estimated number of 196.3 quail per square mile.

Established in the early summer of 1952, the bobwhite quail study was conducted by local and district game management personnel and was carried on in some 13 Ohio counties.

1954 Fishing License Became Effective Mar. 1

Law enforcement officials of the Ohio Division of Wildlife are reminding fishermen that the 1954 fishing license became effective Mar. 1. It is further pointed out that each license purchaser should get a digest of the fishing laws. If at the time of purchase, the license buyer is not given a digest, wildlife officials say one should be requested as each license issuing agency in Ohio should be amply supplied with them.

Planning Commission Okays Whittier-st Dump Heliport

The City Planning Commission last week unanimously okayed a proposal to set aside 34 acres of the Whittier-st dump, about one mile from Broad and High-sts, for use at some time in the future as a mid-town landing field for helicopters.

Ernest H. Stork, planning commission director, said a letter had been forwarded to city council advising of the planning group's favorable recommendations.

"Although the proposed location, one mile from Broad and High-sts. 10 miles from Lockbourne Air Force Base, and six miles from Port Columbus, is very favorable, the project is still very definitely in the 'talk stage'," Stork declared.

Port Columbus Superintendent Jack Bolton has declared that Columbus may need a heliport for shuttling passengers and mail from Port Columbus as soon as 1957.

A preliminary report by the J. E. Greiner Co., Baltimore, Md., consulting engineers, indicates "the site proposed is very desirable." The dump, which is adjacent to the Scioto River, is nearly filled at this time.

According to the Greiner report, the heliport would have 1000-foot approach zones in all directions to the 500-foot landing area. The report also noted adequate space for aircraft and auto parking, as well as a small terminal building on the site.

Plans of City Engineer Robert Werner to improve the extension of Whittier-st to Mound-st this coming summer would make the heliport accessible from both Whittier-st and Mound-st.

In summary, the engineers reported that "the site proposed for the heliport is one of those few locations containing practically all the desirable features necessary for a heliport site."

Judge Frees Trailer Camp Operator

The operator of a Marion Twp. trailer camp, serving a 90-day sentence in county jail for operating without a license, was freed Tuesday on the order of Common Pleas Judge William C. Bryant.

In granting the writ of habeas corpus, Judge Bryant ruled that James Rockhold, 504 Olp-av, operator of the trailer camp at 2217 Groveport-pk was sentenced illegally by Marion Twp. Justice of the Peace Jacob Becker.

Rockhold was fined $100 and costs and given a 90-day jail sentence Feb. 16 in a jury trial before Becker. The sentence was deferred on condition Rockhold close his trailer camp by March 1, but when he ignored the order, he was sent to jail March 2.

Judge Bryant said that Becker lost jurisdiction in the case when Rockhold pleaded not guilty in a case involving a possible jail sentence and fine exceeding $50. In such cases, a defendant who pleads not guilty must be bound over to the grand jury, the jurist explained.

Barrett	14	19	28	45
Crestview	5	13	20	32

Barrett Junior High School finished the season with six wins and five losses. Some of the wins were by big margins and the losses were always by small differences.

Next year Barrett will play without Captain George Devlin, high scoring player of this season, but it will start next season with Crow, Kochensparger and Henkel, all starting players on this year's team. The prospect is better than good for a championship contender next year.

Local Cagers Eke 63-59 Win Over Defending Newark Squad

South High School advanced to the semi-finals of the Central District Class A High School Basketball Tournament Tuesday night by puncturing Newark's defending district champions 63-59 in the featured finale of tourney play at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

By virtue of the win, South will meet Linden in a semi-final joust at 7:30 p. m. today. Tonight's other semi-final contest will find North pitted against the Blue Lions at 9 p. m.

Winners of tonight's games will slug it out Saturday for the District crown and a chance for a berth in the Toledo Regionals.

In Tuesday's hectic struggle with the Newark five, Clarence Pointer emerged as "man of the hour," making seven of South's last eight points and taking over the scoring burden when South Center Frank Howard fouled out with 4:16 to go.

Pointer's tally of 16 potted free throws for the evening may have set a district tourney record. In all, Pointer racked up 28 points during the game. When South was behind 37-35 in the last stanza, Pointer hooped four charities and bounced back for a successful rebound bucket. South's Benny Wright added a free throw with 17 seconds to go, making it South 62-59. Pointer's final charity toss wrote the last chapter.

The lead see-sawed throughout the entire game, biggest leads being South's 16-11 in first stanza and Newark's four-point edges on many occasions.

Loss of three players on fouls in the fourth period really crippled the Wildcats, who went to the finals of the State Tournament last season before bowing to Middletown. Newark lost Gene Helmick (18 points), Marv Smith and Tom Cash in the fourth, but it was the loss of the six-five Helmick which really hurt.

Schiller Senior Girls Win Inter-Center Cage Crown

In the final games of the Inter-Center basketball tourney, held at Glenwood Recreation Center on Thursday, Mar. 4, Schiller had a girls' team in each age division, competing for the championship. In the junior classification St Mary's Ramblers, representing Schiller, were defeated 14-12 by Glenwood's Hoopsters. Alice Martin from Glenwood led the scorers with 12 points, while the leading scorer for Schiller was Anna Dixon with six points.

Corpus Christi, representing Schiller in the intermediate girls' division, defeated Glenwood on Wednesday night, Mar. 3, to play Beatty in the championship games on Thursday. Beatty's team emerged with an 18-12 victory over the Schiller girls. Leading scorers for the two teams were Betty Wilson of Beatty with seven points and Carol Myers of Schiller with seven.

One of the closest and most exciting contests of the evening took place in the senior girls' classification when St. Mary's Ramblers from Schiller met the Bluesockers of Glenwood. The Glenwood girls gave Schiller a merry chase, but Schiller finally managed a three-point lead in the last few minutes of the game and held this lead until the time ran out.

At the end of the first quarter Glenwood led Schiller 9-8 and when time was called for the half, Glenwood was still ahead 16-14. During the third period, Schiller tied up the score 22-22 and at the end of the final period the score was 33-30, giving Schiller the crown in the senior girls' division. It was anybody's game all the way and only the clock decided the victor. Sylvia Sierer paced Schiller's team with 17 points and high scorers for Glenwood's Bluesockers were Sandra Betsch and Sue Kuhlmann, each with nine points.

Council of South Side Organizations To Air Water Supply, Pollution

The Council of South Side Organizations will meet at the Southside Branch YMCA at 8 tonight to discuss water supply and water pollution. Thomas Gallagher, chief of the water pollution abatement office, will present a film entitled "Healing Our Waters" and lead discussion on this subject.

The council will also consider a proposal by city officials to use water from Scioto Lakes to supplement the water supply for the South Side. The executive committee of the council recently went on record as believing that this proposal should be thoroughly investigated before the city administration carries out such a plan. It was pointed out in the executive committee meeting that if this water must be used, it should be used by those communities outside of Columbus corporation limits who are now drawing water from the city's main source of water supply.

The Council of Southside Organizations is composed of representatives of various fraternal and business organizations on the South Side. Citizens of the community are encouraged to write or call to inform the council of civic problems.

Southwood Upsets Seibert Squad 14-12 In South Side Y League

Southwood pulled the major upset of the season in knocking off unbeaten Siebert 14-12 in the South Side Branch YMCA Elementary Fifth Grade Basketball League at Schiller Recreation Center Thursday, Mar. 4. Other games of the same date saw Heyl take over first place by defeating Stewart, 22-10, Livingston downed Greenlawn 12-3, and Lincoln trounced Beck 32-7.

Southwood took advantage of Siebert's lapse in team play to hand Siebert its first loss of the season, 14-12. The loss, coupled with Heyl's win knocked Siebert out of first place. Siebert got off to a 4-2 first-quarter lead on Ken Lee's two baskets. The Siebert cagers stretched that lead to 10-6 at the half and seemed well on their way to victory.

Southwood came out with determination in the second half, and tied the score 10-10 just before three-quarters. A basket by Kirk Olney gave Siebert a 12-10 lead at the quarter mark, and then Southwood made its grand bid. Free throws by Jack Cook and Bill Jacobs tied the game 12-12 and, with 45 seconds remaining, Bill Jacobs scored the winning basket. Ken Lee was high point man for Siebert with eight points, all coming in the first half. Bill Jacobs and Jim Bryant sparked Southwood with five points each.

Heyl cagers won over Stewart 22-10 to close the season and assure themselves at least a tie for first place. Heyl's height told the story as Ken Schumaker and Bob Stevenson scored a total of 18 points and controlled both boards. David Erb scored seven points for Stewart. Heyl finished the season with a 7-1 mark.

Livingston gained its third win of the season, beating Greenlawn 12-3. All credit goes to Greenlawn who played the game with four players, one of whom had not played all season. Sportsmanship of both teams was outstanding. Many boys sparked for Livingston and Jack Wamsley and Lloyd Sheridan were stalwarts for Greenlawn.

Lincoln had no trouble in pounding Beck 32-7. Beck made up for lack of experience with spirit and never gave up. Jim Buel and Ron Bobo led the assault for Lincoln. Harold Pyle paced Beck.

In the final set of games of the regular season today at Schiller, Stewart meets Lincoln, Beck takes on Livingston, Southwood tangles with Greenlawn, and Siebert will be on the rebound against Deshler. Should Siebert win, it will meet Heyl in the Fifth Grade League championship playoff game at Schiller next Tuesday, Mar. 16 at 4 p. m.

Beck Gra-Y Takes South Side Y Crown By Defeating Lincoln 22-7

Beck Gra-Y defeated Lincoln Gra-Y 22-7 to win the South Side Branch YMCA Gra-Y Basketball League championship at Schiller Recreation Center on Tuesday, Mar. 2. In other games Southwood edged Siebert 14-10, Greenlawn dumped Livingston 12-8, and Stewart won over Heyl 11-6.

Beck and Lincoln battled a close first quarter with Beck holding a 6-2 edge. Beck continued in the lead after that point and won easily. The towering height of Gerald Hollingsworth was the big difference in the game. Lincoln showed lots of fight throughout the game. Leonard Byrd of Beck was the game's high point man. Beck has won all seven games this season without a defeat.

In a cleanly played contest, Southwood managed to score at the right time to beat Siebert 14-10. The quarter scores favoring Southwood read 2-0, 4-2, 10-5, and the final 14-10. Dick Guyer sparked Southwood, while Henry Hazlett led Siebert.

Greenlawn pulled a mild upset in winning over Livingston 12-8. Trailing 8-6 at the end of the third quarter, Greenlawn suddenly came to life to outscore Greenlawn 6-0 in the final canto. The Greenlawn rally was led by Harry Hunter and Jim Storts. John Jones carried the scoring load for Livingston.

Heyl cagers were unable to score a basket in the first half, which possibly cost them the game in their battle with Stewart. Final score found Stewart on top 11-8. Stewart held a 6-2 intermission lead, and held on to win its fifth game against two losses. The scoring was well distributed among the players on both teams.

This marks the beginning of a series of pictures of the classes of St. Leo School, 213 Hanford st. Additional class pictures will be presented from time to time.

On Sept. 4, 1904, St. Leo School opened its doors for the first time to a group of 150 pupils and until 1917 the children were taught in classrooms on the second floor above the church. The following year the church was converted into classrooms, and inside stairways and lavatories and library were added.

Today, the eight classroom school is staffed by nine teachers, seven Sisters and two lay teachers and has a current enrollment of 416. Mother Elise is principal.

School teams have been active in basketball, baseball, and football. Other groups to which the pupils belong are the Knights of the Altar, Boys' Choir, Safety Patrol, Civics Club, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Cheerleaders.

Activities in these various groups, combined with their studies, help to give the children a well-balanced educational program.

An active PTA, organized in 1948, has contributed much toward the improvement of the school. A school cafeteria provides daily well balanced luncheons for the children. A school bus conveys the children residing in Greenlawn Project and outlying districts, to and from school.

I suppose she's marrying him for better or worse.
No—for more or less.

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicke

A beautifully hectic week is coming up for ye Gadabout, so perhaps next week's column will benefit a little by having more items. This column will not fare so well, however, for GA. 1051 didn't ring too much this week.

Frank E. Young, of 296 E. Innis-av is now recuperating at home after undergoing eye surgery in Grant Hospital.

Lots of birthdays to tell about so we'll send our usual good wishes to "lion and lamb" birthdayites. First one we have is Ethel Weber, who lives on Groveport-pk. She's the fine organist at Cook and Son's Funeral Parlor and a friend of many years to the Gadabout. Lots more years of organ-ing, Ethel.

Isabelle Coslett, 504 Morrill-av, will add a year on the 18th of the month and isn't that sad, when you think about it? The 15th being income tax day, there's little left in the family coffers to celebrate with! Well, a happy "broke" birthday, Isabelle!

We were sorry to hear that Mr. Cunningham, 38 E. Innis-av, had a fall a few weeks back, but at last reports he was recovering nicely. Mr. Cunningham makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. Fennell.

Flash! a new addition has taken over the Eichel household! Who? A Chihuhua, no less. The Third-st residents are quite proud of the new arrival and are never seen anywhere without it. Happy parenthood, youse Eichels!

Our "get well quick" wishes go this week to Mr. Oyer, of 218 Frebis-av, who has recently returned home from Grant Hospital. At the time we received the news, Mrs. Katharine Brooks of 196 E. Frebis-av, was partaking of the hospitality offered by Mt. Carmel Hospital, so how about adding her name to the list of folks to send a cheery card?

The tax exemption of Paul and Ginny Junk will be a young lady of 12 years next Monday. Happy birthday, Linda.

Seems to me there are about three birthdays in the Cobourn family in March, so I'll wish 'em that and hope I'm right. Methinks it's Ed, Wanda and Walter. Right, Coborns?

Jean Jones of 317 Moler-st is spending her birthday in grand style this year, two weeks in Florida with Rosie Toth, of Hanford-st. What more could two young ladies desire? Her birthday occurs tomorrow.

A brother of Jean has a birthday this month also, but he's even further away from home than Jean. Dick is in Korea and to make his birthday a happier one, he just completed a non-commissioned officer's course, ranking second in a class of 38. His birthday is a week from today. It would be swell if his former South Side friends got his address and sent him a shower of birthday cards, don't you think?

Two members of the Zion Lutheran Church, Obetz, are on the ailing list, and would love to hear from their friends. The two ladies are Mrs. Nettie Heisel, who is staying at 320 Markison-av, and Mrs. Walker of 445 Groveport-pk, who was in Mercy Hospital at the time of this writing.

We're sorry to lose some good neighbors to California but hope they find their new home even better than they anticipate. They are Ray and Alice Cataline, of 1404 S. Sixth-st. The folks who will be moving into the Cataline home are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Margo, now residing at 260 Reeb-av.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose, 1599 S. High-st, and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Bradley, 239 E. Markison-av, had the sad task of attending the funeral of a brother, John Bradley, in Ashland, last week. We hope all the friends of Mrs. Rose and Randall will rally round them at this time for they feel the loss of their brother very deeply.

March is a "celebrating" month in the Leist household at 174 Morrill-av. John and Mary celebrated their wedding anniversary yesterday and Mary shakes hands with Poppa Time on the 27th, receiving a new year as a memento.

Mrs. James Rothwell, 1370 S. Fifth-st, took a flying trip to Mt. Carmel Hospital last week to have some troublesome gallstones removed. Here's hoping she now enjoys the very best of health from here on.

Sunday, Mar. 7, brought a birthday to Margie Gribble, 712 Mohawk-st.

Paul and Gerri Baughman, of 1675 S. Sixth-st, are to be congratulated on their wedding anniversary this past Tuesday.

A three generation birthday fest occurs in the Maine-Waibel families. The eldest member of the trio is Frank Maine, and his daughter, Joan Waibel is the next generation. Joan's son, Stevie, is the latest "joiner" in the fun. Joan and Stevie, of Smith-rd, celebrate their birthdays on the 13th and 12th.

Guess there are no more items to check off this week. We know that Lent is a "slow" season, but remember us when your families, schools or clubs are planning something, won't you? We'll be most appreciative. Till next week, then.

The Gadabout.

My wife is always asking me for money.
What does she do with it?
I never give her any.

Schiller Jr. Recreation Club Installs Officers

Charles Grimm, 179 Hanford-st, was installed as president of the Junior Recreation Club of Schiller Recreation Center Tuesday night, Mar. 2. Composed of 40 boys and girls of junior high school age, the purpose of the club is to plan and conduct various recreational activities for boys and girls of their own age group.

Other 1954 officers installed include Joe Talbott, 17 W. Gates, vice-president; Ardella Rhea, 314 Reinhard-av, secretary; and Mike Pharr, 848 Thurman-av, treasurer. The new officers and club members are planning a skating party and an outing at Indian Village Camp in the near future.

Junior high school students are welcome to join the J-R Club, which meets every Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. in the club room at Schiller Recreation Center.

Pop: How are your marks?
Mary: Under water, pop.
Pop: What do you mean, under water?
Mary: Oh, they are below "C" level.

The Editor—Kill it. Don't you know how the model boys are hated by the rest of 'em? Want to start a league of old average boys to fight him, hugh?

Sunday Sermonette

Court-Martialed Christians

Recently there was called to my attention an illustration which told of a soldier who returned home from battle and was asked by his pastor to speak a few words in the Sunday morning church service. He consented, but requested the congregation first to sing that stanza of "Onward Christian Soldiers" which begins "Like a mighty army moves the church of God."

He then pointed out that the church of today does not move like a mighty army. He showed how unthinkable it would be if some day when reveille sounded Private Smith failed to show up for drill because he had a headache, or Private Martin decided that since he had been quite faithful to drill lately it would do not harm if he slept just this once.

Can you imagine the sergeant in charge smiling understandingly as he received these excuses? Yet, these are just a few of the many excuses offered for failure to attend the worship services. The soldier closed his little speech by telling the congregation that if they were in the military army most of them would get court martialed.

Somehow the work of the Kingdom of God has become relegated to a few. The foe of the Kingdom is satan and satan takes no furlough. His determination is to defeat the forces of Christianity and all of his weapons are mobilized and concentrated upon the task of preventing men from giving their lives to Christ.

What's Wrong with this picture?

Suppose you heard this [illegible] over your radio. Would you stay "tuned in" very long?

The chances are you wouldn't—because something's mighty wrong with this picture. Look at it again.

This orchestra only contains violins!

Ninety violinists—no matter how good they are—don't make an orchestra. This group needs other instruments: horns, woodwinds, drums—to make it a worthwhile combination. With them, this might be one of the finest orchestras on the air.

Now, let's look at a church that has only one type of person in its membership. What kind of a church would it be? You have the answer without it being given here.

Your church is a good church because there is a variety of membership from all walks and stations of life. This diversified membership gives your church a broad outlook, a tolerance, and a practical viewpoint that makes it one of the most valuable institutions in the community. You are important to your church just as your church is important to you: by taking part in the life of your church, you can increase its effectiveness in making the word of God come true in our time.

THE DAYS ARE GROWING LONGER

She loved to watch the sun creep further south
To set at night behind a bank of snow
And note its progress—now to that tall tree,
Then to the shed a little way below.

She knew exactly where it would go down
On any day, so many years she'd seen
It make its slow but still triumphant way
Along the skyline where the wheat was green.

When snow had melted. And always she was glad
To think that spring was near.
She filled the days
With plans for gardens, and the seeds she'd sow
And beds she'd make, where summer flowers would blaze.

"The days are growing longer," she would say,
Making a joyous paean of the words.
Her eyes upon the lengthened twilight glow
While in her heart anticipation stirred.

Until I had a delightful chat with Mrs. C. A. Minor, publicity chairman and secretary of West High Band Parents' Club, I had no idea of the work and money involved to make the band's annual variety show the success it always is. Mrs. Minor lives at 277 S. Westgate-av, and how she does all she does is beyond me. It made me tired just to hear her schedule, but love that gal—she reads this space-filler! There will be other publicity in the Record about West High's 18th annual band Variety Show, but I'm glad to give my bit too. This year, the show (March 25-26, at 8 p. m. in the West High School auditorium) will be a tropical rhythm review.

Each Hilltopper should encourage these talented youngsters by attending the show. Members of the Band Parents' Club are to be highly commended. They are doing a grand job; they recently purchased new uniforms and instruments for the band; they pay insurance on the instruments, which is in itself a considerable amount of money, and keep a fund going constantly, for any emergencies. The mothers in the club have been busy making costumes, posters and helping in many other ways. Don Hessler's mother is in charge of posters and Mrs. Warren Parkinson, mother of the M.C. of the variety show, is in charge of television publicity. Mrs. Harrison Jones and Mrs. Leonard Eagon have charge of the sale of tickets. Reservations may be made at West High School, Mar. 17, 18 and 19. Tickets are 75 cents; all seats reserved.

People who have seen the West High Band step with military precision will be surprised how well they will play Latin-American music in this show and how well the dance line will rhumba. The Band and Band Parents' Club, and "all the pupils of West High who will participate in the show, are more reasons Hilltoppers are proud they are Hilltoppers.

Mail — From an Ohio poet: "I don't write a great deal of verse, and when I do my offering is likely to be perverse, if you'll pardon an unpardonable pun. Sometimes when I'm trying to concentrate on something serious I suddenly find myself turning aside to write a bit of verse that is eccentric, frivolous, or positively wacky. Such things are rather too great a change for the editor of a real poetry column, so I usually wind up in the wastebasket, rather my efforts do" . . . From another poet: "Two months ago I was driving along, minding my own business, on my way to keep a date with a tycoon. Sorry to disappoint you but the date was not for the purpose of etching-gazing, but to interview him for my paper. Suddenly a well-saturated Romeo with one arm around his Juliet and the other arm signalling he was about to make a turn one way, then whimsically changed his mind and made it the other way, hit me amidships. So now I am writing poetry to keep from going stir-crazy" . . . From Columbus: "Today, March came in like a lion sure enough—snow and Congressmen being shot and income tax time getting closer. And spring-cleaning."

From somewhere—They call it "take home pay" because you can't afford to go any place else with it . . . Sign on a slot machine in Las Vegas: "If an atom bomb drops, jump in here. Nobody's hit it yet" . . . It was Bobby's first day of school. He started bravely out the gate and then went back to his weeping mother and said "Don't cry, Mom, maybe I'll be deferred and not even have to go" . . . A throw rug is just that.

Ticklers By George

"Why shouldn't I talk to myself? I'm the only one that knows what I'm talkin' about!"

Through The Garden Gate

Your African violets, or Saint Paulias, can always be a conversation piece if you follow a few simple cultural tips.

They can be grown from seed, but the easiest method is from leaf cuttings placed in water, or planted in sand and vermiculite, until tiny new plants develop. These plantlets should be transplanted when about an inch or one and a half inches tall, to quite small pots, only placing in three and one-half to four-inch pots at the end of a year.

The best soil is one that is rich and loose, made up of equal parts sharp sand, peat moss, and leaf-hold with a layer of pebbles in the bottom. I add a few pieces of crumbled charcoal, especially in pots without drainage. I have some of my most beautiful plants with year-around blooms, in glazed pots.

Watering means careful attention. Do not overwater! It can be fatal. The soil should be kept damp or moist, not sopping wet. When soil feels dry to the finger tip or the saucer under the pot is completely dry, I fill with tepid water. If watering from the top avoid wetting crown or leaves.

Humidity is important as violets like humidity. I use broad low saucers under the clay pots to help provide this. If you can, arrange a large tray with a layer of gravel on which to rest the pots.

They like a temperature of 65 to 70 degrees and not more than 10 degrees lower at night for the fewer radical changes the better the results.

They are not heavy feeders but when they bloom constantly, as mine do, I feel some nourishment is appreciated. I use a complete plant food, about once a month, according to manufacturer's directions.

My own experience is that new plants can be brought to fine bloom sooner in east or south windows. I have also seen magnificent plants in a west window—never on the sills, unless very broad ones, but on a shelf or table a few inches from the sill.

These very popular house plants, grown by the donor, make most acceptable gifts. A great pleasure to me this winter, has been the frequent reports from a delighted friend on the progress of three plants I had given her to take to her New York apartment. I like to think of them there on her windown sill, facing the United Nations building, across the East River. Love plays the greatest part in the success with plants. They are like our children whose characteristics and individual needs we study to bring out the best in them.

Your Branch Library

The Parsons Avenue Branch Library announces the following new books for adult readers:

Fiction

"West of the River," by Charlton Laird, is a rousing, exciting story of frontier life along the upper Mississippi River. The time is 1837. This is the second in a series of novels the author is drawing from the colorful history of our great mid-west.

"Algonquin," by Dion Henderson, is a novel about a dog that stands far above the average book of its kind. Written with a rare understanding of the bond that exists between man and dog, it is a compassionate story, brimming with a sincerity that marks it as a classic.

"Goodbye, Summer," by Allis McKay, is a sequel to "They Came to a River" (the story of Christine Hallowell). This book is the story of Stephen Patch, Christine's son and especially of the five disturbing and important years when he grows from boyhood to manhood. A fine study of a sensitive, attractive, more than usually talented adolescent.

Non-Fiction

"The Seeking," by Will Thomas, is the story of an American Negro's moving and personal search for democracy in his own land. This book, significant in relation to our times, has been written in a most entertaining manner.

"Let's Talk Sense About Our Schools," by Paul Woodring, is not a book of answers but a book for those who seek to find their own answers. It is a book of explanations and clarification in which Prof. Woodring sorts out and discusses the volume of criticism levelled at the public schools. It is provacative, cogent and calmly reasoned. A "must" for parents and teachers.

"What is a Jew?" by Morris Kertzer, answers more than 100 questions that might be asked by either Jew or Gentile. Rabbi Kertzer carefully and lucidly explains Jewish tradition and thought and defines the attitude of Jews toward many aspects and problems of contemporary American life.

"The Mature Woman," by Dr. Anna K. Daniels, relates how a woman undergoes many changes in her life, in her development toward physical, intellectual and emotional maturity. What is called the "change of life" should no more cause anxiety than any other period. Dr. Daniels shows you how to free your mind of fears and doubts, how to get new interests, what steps to take in achieving a more satisfying and contented life.

"Effective Home-School Relations," by James L. Hymes, answers a need in its field. Very little research has been done in the field of home-school relations. Yet, our knowledge is extensive in other fields which feed into and support this new area. This book taps these other fields. It shows that parents and teachers have more skill in this new field than they give themselves credit for.

Basketball Fever Grips Community As South High Sends Its District A-Crowned Bulldogs To Toledo Regionals

Team Scheduled To Clash With Defiance Tonight

Practically the entire South Side was in the grip of "basketball fever" as South High School prepared to send its Central District Class A champs to the regionals today at Toledo.

Coach "Pug" Hood's Bulldogs were slated to receive a rousing send-off from the school at 9 a. m. today.

The victorious Bulldogs, justifiably "chesty" from earning the first district title since 1942 in ousting North's Polar Bears in a thrillpacked 32 minutes of play before nearly 8,000 spectators at the Coliseum Saturday night, were expected to undergo a practice session at the Toledo field house at 1:30 this afternoon. Their first regional clash, against Defiance, was slated for 9 p. m.

The Bulldogs take with them to Toledo a 10-game winning streak and a 19-4 record. Defiance is toting a 16-3 record.

It was hard to pick a star in Saturday night's 69-55 win over North. The whole team glowed with class. Frank Howard was his usual superlative self under the baskets and Clarence Pointer came through with his expected monopolizing of the rebounds. Owens played his best game in 23 starts and Benny Wright acted in his customary role as guiding and steadying hand. Quincey Dunn scored for five baskets from the wings.

Howard came out of the game with 31 points, to bring his average to more than 27, setting a new district scoring record. The entire team was hungry for scoring records and set somewhat of a mark as a group, hitting 40 per cent on all attempts. Out of 60 shots, 24 found their mark.

South jumped into a 12-2 lead with 2:20 gone, including three baskets by Howard and four markers by Dunn. The relentless Bulldogs stretched their margin to 18-7 and later upped it to 31-18 after a tip-in by Owens with 4:36 remaining in the first half.

Following a three-basket spurt by North's Tommy Jordan, the Bulldogs turned out the lights on the Polar Bears. The die was cast in the final period with 5:10 to go when the Bulldogs latched on to a 58-37 edge.

Marion-Twp. Sidelights

By Joel Snyder

The gentleman arose and stood there straight and proud. All eyes turned to watch him as he spoke. In a voice loud and clear he blurted "Ah'd like to say a few words about MARION TOWNSHIP." And the people began to take notice.

The 10.6 square mile area is increasing in stature by the clock. The residents are distinguishing themselves and their township in varied and devious ways, and by increasingly greater degrees. From the civic minded resident who is renting the home he lives in, to the well-to-do property owner and the industrial magnate, the citizens are displaying a willingness to help in the creation of a well organized community.

As an example, the regular monthly meeting of the Citizens Association was held last week at Marion-Franklin High School. In a reassuring move to erase any existing doubts at the present time, the members in attendance representing the group of approximately half a thousand, exhibited their faith in the existing form of government by approving a resolution to cooperate with the present township system in every way possible, and to exploit the functions made available by the township system to the fullest extent provided by law.

E. A. Lupfer, chairman of the board of trustees announced that there were some changes forthcoming in the police system. Although not all the details were made known, it is thought that these changes will include two brand new cruisers, fully equipped, and a police department head, lacking until now, who will act as supervisor over the other officers. Lupfer, speaking in behalf of the other board members, showed their eagerness to cooperate with the Citizens Association, by inviting their attendance and subsequent criticism, at all trustee meetings. He stated that they would welcome any constructive criticism, and regretted that they had not received more in the past. Mr. Lupfer rightfully feels that too little interest in shown in the trustee meetings and that complaints should not be hidden from them, but stated openly at their board meetings.

The members voted in another action to join the Council of South Side Organizations at the earliest opportunity. The association received an invitation last week from that group to feel free to send a representative to their meetings and if the association deems it desirable, to join ranks officially. The council is composed of various fraternal and business organizations in the south side of Columbus. It would seem that any opportunity for Marion Twp. to hold hands with the City of Columbus would be entirely desirable, especially at this time. No doubt both areas could benefit from such a union.

Prior to a very interesting talk by Harold Boles, superintendent of the Marion Local School District, two members of different industries voiced their confidence that the industrial tax payers could be counted on to cooperate to an extensive degree with any group working for the betterment of

Marion-Franklin School Slated For X-Rays

Approximately 350 at the new Marion-Franklin High School, 1547 Koebel-rd, will receive free chest X-rays when the Christmas Seal X-ray cruiser parks at the high school today.

Included will be high school students and faculty and employees.

The Columbus Tuberculosis Society, sponsors of the chest-check program, does not X-ray persons under high school age.

The mobile unit is not geared to children because there is relatively little tuberculosis among youngsters, and the disease can be spotted more economically through the patch-test.

Positive reactors are then given a follow-up X-ray.

Bicyclists Must Obtain Licenses By Apr. 1 Deadline

The sale of bicycle licenses began Friday, Mar. 12, in the following South Side places of business designated by City Auditor R. P. Barthalow as agents: Gloeckner Electric & Cycle Shop, 1009 E. Livingston-av; South Side Cycle Service, 1175 Parsons-av; and Martin's Bicycle Shop, 1330 S. Fourth-st.

Barthalow has announced Apr. 1 as deadline for obtaining licenses, after which time unlicensed bicycles may be impounded by police. The city auditor pointed out that bicycle licenses serve as an excellent form of theft insurance since 98 per cent of all licensed bicycles stolen in the city over the past several years were recovered through serial numbers recorded when the vehicles were licensed.

Council Of Southside Organizations Takes Firm Stand Against Water Plan

Members of the Council of Southside Organizations voted officially to protest the plans of the city administration to use water from Scioto Lakes for Southsiders at its monthly meeting last Thursday night.

This action was spurred by numerous phone calls and letters from South Side citizens strongly protesting the city's plans. It was pointed out that the city was discriminating against South Side residents in plans to use the water from Scioto Lakes exclusively in the south end of Columbus.

It is the belief of members of the council that the water from this source is not from underground springs or rivers and it would be harmful to plumbing fixtures and inconvenient for housewives because of the hardness, characteristic of this water.

Council members agreed that if the Scioto Lakes water must be used it should be channeled to communities outside the city of Columbus who are now using city water.

Thomas Gallagher, chief of the water pollution abatement office, discussed the causes and cures of water pollution. Gallagher also showed a film which disclosed the devastating effects of water pollution in a community.

The council began planning for the Fourth of July community celebration at Southview. The holiday will be celebrated on the fifth because the Fourth falls on a Sunday.

The council also plans for the development of recreational facilities at Southview, included a lighted baseball diamond for youngsters.

The Council of Southside Organizations is composed of representatives of civic, business, and fraternal organizations.

Electromagnet Draws BB Pellet From Baby's Eye

A six-month-old South Side baby last Friday was the first patient at Mt. Carmel Hospital to use the new electromagnet contributed recently to the hospital by the Management Club of North American Aviation, Inc.

Becky Norman of 99 Reeb-av, was reportedly in "good" condition at the hospital after the magnet was used to extract a BB pellet from her eye, lodged there when her six-year-old cousin fired into her bassinet.

Washington Avenue EUB Earns Crown in South Side Y's Junior Church League

Although upset by Central Community 25-19 last week, Washington Avenue EUB finished the season with a 9-1 record to earn the crown of the South Side YMCA Junior Church League. Paced by Dick Schumaker's 13 points, Central Community outplayed the champs to win a well earned 25-19 victory. G. Erlenbach led the losers' attack with nine points.

Emmanuel Lutheran's second place team overpowered St. Paul E&R 37-15. Tim Hepner hit for 15 points to lead Emmanuel Lutheran. Bruce Gishel paced St. Paul.

Ohio Avenue EUB downed St. John's E&R 30-11. Grubic and Watkins with 10 and eight points respectively sparked Ohio Avenue. Larry Loeffler and Bobby Karrer were the big guns for St. John COACH "Pug" Hood, South's basketball mentor, was just about the happiest man in town in the wake of his Bulldogs' victory over North's Polar Bears Saturday night to clinch the Central District Class A championship.

Local Educators Will Take Part In Workshop On Ohio State Campus

A number of local educators will participate as consultants for the workshop on "Helping Children Grow Up", Saturday, Mar. 20, at Campbell Hall, Ohio State University.

They are L. W. Huber, principal, South High; Mrs. Margaret Phillips, Barrett Junior High; Kathleen Moore, Lincoln Park Elementary; Robert Darrow, principal, Barrett Junior High; Elizabeth Baugh, principal, Third Street; Mrs. Irene Gatewood, Mohawk; Mrs. Arema Kirven, South High; Sara Crist, South High; Rodney Kolb, South High.

Siebert And Heyl Tied For Crown In YMCA Elementary Cage League

Siebert downed Deshler 34-11 to gain first place tie with Heyl in the South Side Branch YMCA Elementary Fifth Grade Basketball League race at Schiller Thursday, Mar. 11. In other league action, Southwood beat Greenlawn 17-5; Livingston took Beck 14-9, and Lincoln trounced Stewart 20-4.

It looked for a while as though Siebert was looking past Deshler to their coming championship game with Heyl. Siebert got off to a fast 6-0 quarter lead, but Deshler began to hit and trailed only 8-6 at half. Siebert came to life in the third period and scored nine big points to put the game on ice. Ken Lee was high man with 14 points. Deshler, led by Denny Green's six points, played their finest game of the year.

Southwood finished the season with five wins in eight games including the big one over Siebert, as they chilled Greenlawn 17-5. Southwood led 8-3 at half and was never in trouble after that. Both teams played hard, but showed unusual sportsmanship. Southwood's scoring was well divided between five players. Lloyd Sheridan and Jack Wamsley paced Greenlawn.

Beck played their finest game of the season, but still lost to Livingston 14-9. Beck became the sentimental favorite through the season as they valiantly fought through every game against bigger or more experienced players and never gave up. It looked as if they might do it in their last game, but Livingston's first half lead of 11-2 was too much to overcome. Bill Kaufman sparked the winners, while Jack Cremeans led Beck.

Lincoln had too many guns for Stewart, blasting them 20-4, seven players entered the scoring column for Lincoln led by Gary Roberts' eight points. David Erb scored all of Stewart's points. Lincoln finished in third place with a 6-2 season record.

The league is indebted to Jerry Rhea, Tom Arthur and Dick Federer, who served as officials through the season.

Team Sportsmanship Awards In South Y Gra-Y League To Be Made At Basketball Banquet Tonight

The curtain rang down on the 1953-54 basketball season in the South Side Branch YMCA Gra-Y League Tuesday, Mar. 9, at Schiller Recreation Center. The awarding of the team sportsmanship award will be made at the South Side YMCA Gra-Y Basketball Party to be held tonight at Gates-Fourth Methodist Church.

Beck trounced Livingston 26-3 to go through the season without a defeat. Greenlawn upset Southwood 17-10, Lincoln edged Stewart 10-7, and Siebert beat Deshler 16-11.

Beck had little trouble in making Livingston victim No. 8 by a score of 26-3. Beck got off to a 5-0 quarter lead, and 9-0 halftime margin. Livingston got only a limited number of shots in the second half, as Beck's overall height began to tell. Gerald Hollingsworth led Beck in scoring, while Bob Edwards was top man for Livingston.

Greenlawn pulled a mild upset knocking off Southwood 17-10. Greenlawn gained a 5-2 first period lead. Intermission found the score knotted 7-7. After three quarters it was 10-10, and then, in the final period, Harry Hunter hit on three straight shots to sew up the game for Greenlawn. Dick Guyer led the losers with eight points.

Lincoln closed its season on a happy note downing Stewart 10-7. The win enabled Lincoln to enjoy a .500 season. Stewart's inability to connect in the first half probably cost them the game as they garnered only one point. Stewart managed to creep up a 7-8 deficit in the fourth quarter, but James Massie scored a basket to ice the game.

Deshler and Siebert put on a fine battle in which both teams displayed fine sportsmanship with Siebert coming out on top 16-11. Siebert led after every quarter and was never seriously threatened in the second half. Deshler played its finest game of the season despite the loss. Paul Jacobs paced Deshler, while Henry Hazlett was high for Siebert.

Top O' The Mornin' To Ye!

Only a day late with the greeting, but we are still in the mood of St. Patrick's Day. And soon it will be Spring! In spite of the recent spurt of cold weather, you can see signs of it in the tulips pushing their way through the ground and the budding out of the trees.

May the coming of Spring bring better health to many of our friends. Best wishes to those who have been ill: Melvin Weaver, Mrs. Herman Townsend, Mrs. Agnes Weber, Mrs. Clara Andre, Goldie Palmer, Mrs. Clara Graham, Mrs. Lowell Hall. Also Mrs. Harry Mason, Marilyn Bowers, Mrs. Brake of Parsons-av., Mrs. Florence Rader, S. L. Derrick, Mrs. Bernadine McCauley, Sally Gill and Mrs. Ed Garrigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Immell have a new baby daughter. A happy birthday to Mrs. Ida Warga, little Mary Wheeler and Mrs. Steve Bondy. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Finta who have just celebrated their twenty-second wedding anniversary. Mrs. Finta received from John a lovely red rose for each year together.

The ladies of Emmanuel Lutheran Church entertained Mrs. Hax, the wife of a former pastor, with a tea on Sunday, Mar. 14, at the home of Mrs. Leroy Parks, 298 Markison-av. Mrs. Hax is visiting in Columbus.

The Gadabout

By
Priscilla LaRue Dicke

Blue Monday . . . when the white paper seems a mile long. Now just sail along, stubby pencil, and see how fast we can write our little column. A few things seem to be cooking in the "item" kettle so we'll give it a little stir and take a sample.

Jackie French, a South High coed, has a birthday on the agenda; the 21st to be exact. Jackie has a Mithoff address, should any of her friends wish to send a card.

Scott Buller, a University High grad of Frebis-av, is one year older today, so all the usual greetings, Scott.

The birthday banquet of Trudeau Guild 10 was a rousing success and Ye Gadabout had a fine time. One of the amusing things that occurred was in the cards session which followed the business portion of the evening. Some of the members undertook the task of teaching Virginia Leonard the rudiments of the game, and doggone if she didn't skunk 'em all!

Frances Paulus decided Essie Buller was a p.p. for not treating her to a p.p. as a birthday treat, as Essie had promised. For further clarification of the initials, give Frances a buzz and she will do the enlightening.

Gertrude Hedrick of Forest-st moved the hands of Father Time's clock another notch on Mar. 10.

Tonight is an important event for the new Mohawk School, for it is the organization meeting of the PTA. The meeting starts at 7:30, with Mrs. James E. Claar presiding as temporary chairman. Officers will be elected and installed at this meeting.

Get-well cards would be very apropos for Mose Baker of Barthman-av, who is in White Cross Hospital at present.

The soon-to-be departing Catalines of S. Sixth-st have birthday celebrants this month, in the persons of poppa Ray and daughter Barbara. Ray's birthday will be the 22nd while Barbara had her's on the 15th. Another item concerns Barbara: she received a summa cum laude at St. Mary's of the Springs.

Two young gentlemen have approaching natal days, so Happy Birthdays to Charles Mason, on the 22nd, and to Roger Johnson on the 24th.

Tonight finds another school having a PTA meeting. Barrett's meeting will be especially appealing to those youngsters and parents who are looking toward the day of high school graduation. "College or Job?" will be the topic. Parents and students are cordially invited to attend.

A March 10 birthday was recently celebrated by Judy Menser.

Our activities last week included a highly unusual party. A surprise shower for the Eichel chihuahua was given by Marge Hoptry and what fun was had! Sarah Hughes knitted some tiny booties for the microscopic perp and all gifts were of a useful nature. Attending were Lucille Hussey, Sarah Hughes, Mae Dean, Ruth Karch, Glenna Edwards, Cleo Cantes, Marge Hoptry and Priscilla Dicke.

Two past birthdays should include those of Pearl Brewer, Mar. 12, and Mary Wheeler, a Southwood student who celebrated her 10th birthday with a party.

On Mar. 28 the St. Leo's PTA group will hold a roast beef dinner in the school basement, from noon until 6 p.m.

One of our newer schools, Deshler, with its Proud Parents Playground Program, had resounding success in securing the needed playground equipment. There was money left over to buy other needed articles for the school. The PPPP wants to thank all who helped make the venture the huge success that it was. The study group of the school meets next Tuesday, the 23rd, at the school, and the topic is "Sex Education." The time is 9:15 a.m. and a coffee hour will follow.

Guess that does it for this week, and don't forget GA. 1051, will you? We're waiting for you. Till next week then, 'tis the Gadabout.

Mother-Daughter Meet Is Planned At Stewart

Stewart Avenue PTA will have its mother-daughter meeting Thursday, Mar. 25, 7:30 p. m.

Rev. George Schultz, Sr., will give the invocation. Past presidents and retired Stewart Avenue teachers usually honored at the Founders' Day meeting will be present and receive recognition this month. Claire Schroll is planning a musical program with the fifth and sixth grade girls.

Jim Wagner will be present to teach square dancing after the meeting.

Localites To Appear In Opera, Saturday

Several local residents will appear in the production of "Street Scene," a modern American opera, to be presented by the Lyric Theater Group of Columbus, Inc., on Saturday, Mar. 20, in Bexley High School.

Joyce Greshel Carr, 873 E. Fulton-st, will be seen as "Shirley Kaplan" and Mrs. Jane Reedy, 1214 Whittier-st, will sing the romantic lead.

Local Couple Observes 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grebets, 1354 S. Third-st, will observe the golden anniversary of their wedding day on Sunday, Mar. 21, with open house for friends, relatives and neighbors. The couple has been South Side residents for 50 years.

They are the parents of 10 children. The five who are living include Jonis and Paul of Detroit, and Charles, Mrs. Caroline Neuffer and Mrs. Catherine Carey of Columbus. There are also five grandchildren, Barbara and Marjorie of Detroit and Connie Jo, Carol Ann and James, Jr., Columbus.

South Y-Teens Receive Certificates Of Honor

The Columbus Y-Teen recognition service and tea will be held at the YWCA, 65 S. Fourth-st, Mar. 21 at 3 p.m. Fern Sharp will present certificates to girls who have completed the 10 hours required work at a hospital, nursery or settlement in the past month.

Chairman of this committee is Kay Shanlis of South High School.

Certificates will be received by the following South High School girls: Carolyn Ann Wiggins, Pat Kelley, Barbara Davis, Carole Kates, Kay Shaulis, Sally Lou Har, Rose Ella Linnabary, Roberts J. Workmaster and Donna Augustine.

Mohawk School PTA To Organize Tonight

The new Mohawk School organization meeting will be held at the school tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Guest speakers will be Mrs. Rynert and Dr. L. N. Drake, principal. Officers of the organization will be installed by Mrs. Ralph Davidson, president of the Columbus and Franklin County Council of PTA.

All who wish to become charter members of the PTA may join at this meeting.

Open house will be held at the school on Apr. 9, with conducted tours through the building.

Meeting Postponed

Beck Street PTA meeting of Mar. 18 has been postponed to Mar. 25 at 7:30. This will be father and son night with guest speaker, Genne Yonty, football coach from South High School.

Calendar

A BAKE SALE will be held Mar. 20 at the Majestic Paint Store, Whittier-st at Parsons-av, sponsored by the young adults of St. Paul's Evangelical Church.

"College Or Job?" Will Be Discussed At Barrett Tonight

Teen-agers, looking forward to high school graduation and the days that follow, are invited to attend the meeting scheduled for the Barrett PTA group tonight at 7:45.

Dr. W. L. Sprouse, assistant examiner of Ohio State University, and Arthur Starrett, personnel director of the Buckeye Steel Castings Co., will present the two sides of the topic, "College or Job?"

Any Barrett student accompanied by an adult will help their home-room's chances of winning the attendance party, as students may register at this meeting.

A social hour will follow the business meeting.

1950 Alumnus Recently Named 'Soldier Of Month' In Alaska

By Shirley Darst

Cpl. William Trott, Jr., a graduate of the class of 1950 of Hamilton Twp. High School, was recently named "Soldier of the Month" by his superior officers at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska, creating a highlight near the end of his tour of duty in the army.

Trott was transferred to Hamilton in the ninth grade from Aquinas High School. He has one brother and two sisters. During his school years he lived at 360 Lockbourne-rd. He was married to the former Joan Rawlins on Oct. 6, 1951. His wife now resides in Shadeville, O., with her mother.

Trott is a brother-in-law to E. D. McMichael, Jr., a Hamilton High publications teacher. He is also a cousin of Dick Trott, a member of the senior class.

Hamilton Twp. senior typing students had the privilege of seeing Cortez Peters, the typing champion of the world, when he appeared at Groveport High School on Thursday, Mar. 4. Besides Hamilton students, there were also students from Groveport, Canal Winchester, and Marion Franklin, in the audience. Everyone was amazed by the exhibition of Peter's typing skill. He can type 141 words a minute on an hour drill. He has been on many radio and television programs, in a technicolor movie by Paramount, and in the "Believe It Or Not" column. Peters is employed by the Royal Typewriter Co. and travels to all parts of the United States.

The girls' basketball "All Star" teams recently were chosen from the physical education classes at Hamilton Township High School. The games were played during the noon hour in the school gymnasium Feb. 23-26.

The seventh grade "All Star" team defeated the ninth grade second team. The eighth grade first team won 5-4 against the ninth grade second team. The girls' 10th grade "All Stars" defeated the ninth grade team.

The sophomores bowed to the seniors and the junior team defeated the freshmen team. The last game played was the junior-senior match. The senior "All Star" team defeated the junior "All Stars" by 14-11.

J-R Club Lists 'Big' Plans For Mar. 26 Dance

The J-R Club has big plans for the next social dance to be held Mar. 26 in the auditorium at Schiller Recreation Center from 8 until 11 p. m.

Committees have been formed and preparations are being made to make this dance as successful as the last one. The general chairman for the event is Glenn Ryan. Mike Pharr, who is taking charge of the decorations, said that the theme for the dance will be "April In Paris." The entertainment chairman, Hazel Erb, is busy conducting a search for new talent to perform for the dancers. Linda Estep will see that all the schools in this part of town will have posters to publicize the event. Barbara Woodward and Bob Parfitt are planning to have refreshments aplenty.

James Gary and his orchestra will provide the music and, of course, admission is free.

A new feature will be a Spring Queen Contest. Candidates for the title are being nominated by the various clubs at Schiller and the voting will take place at the dance.

things that NEVER CHANGE

It will take you only about thirty seconds to read these lines. Yet in that short half minute, the map of the world will change.

Somewhere in the world, a long-quiet volcano will erupt with a roar that sends tons of molten lava streaming down the mountainside to alter the face of that mountain and the lives of the villagers at its base. As you read this sentence, a tiny, pink line of coral is emerging in the Pacific to start a new island which, God willing, will never become another Guadalcanal. An earthquake shakes part of Japan; a new skyscraper foundation is begun in an American city; a giant glacier changes its course in Labrador:—all as you read this page.

So it's apparent that the only constant thing about this old earth of ours is its inconstancy. Nothing is permanent except the moral truths of the Creator who fashioned this changing world in which we live.

God's truths are rockfast. No matter how the world changes, God's truths will always exist for man in an otherwise impermanent world. From the pulpit or altar of your church, these truths and values become self-evident to all. And perhaps that is why, in these days of stress, more men than ever are turning for assurance to God and his churches for truths that have never changed . . . and never, never will.

For I am the Lord, I change not.—Mal. 3:6.

Your Branch Library

Parsons Avenue Branch Library announces the following list of new books for its teen-age readers:

"Street Rods", Henry Felsen. Ricky Madison, a boy in his late teens, has one consuming ambition—to have a car of his own. So he takes his savings of $50 and buys a broken-down rod from an unreliable dealer. What happens from then on makes a powerful story that will impress any reader.

"Magic In Her Voice," by Pauline Panzer. Margaret Travis did not realize until she applied for a job that the rich vibrant quality of her voice would lead to an exciting career as a salesman over the telephone. In the classified section of The Standard as an ad-taker she discovered interesting things about people, about the newspaper business, but particularly about herself and a young man from the FBI.

"Marty", by Elisa Bealk. Most people thought Marty Warren was the luckiest girl in Willow Bend. She was cute, red-headed and just 17. But Marty was plucky too. When she learned that her father could no longer afford to send her to college, she got herself a job on a newspaper, and from then on important people and exciting events were a part of Marty's everyday life.

"No Moon On Graveyard Head", by Edith Dorian. A fast-moving story of mystery, summer fun and romance against the unusual setting of a Maine seacoast town, marine biology, Steve's ponderings about his future, and the strange story of the past of Graveyard Head.

"Patty and the Spoonbill," by Helen Girvan. Patty Small was spending the summer at Creek House, her Uncle George's home, in Gaybrook. Uncle George was a collector of Audubon prints and water colors. The disappearance of an early Audubon water color brought unexpected adventure to Patty.

"Beyond the Muskingum," by Mark Boesch. In the late 1700's few white men dared to set foot into the Indian-infested Ohio country. Only such men as Lewis Wetzel would risk their lives to scout the villages of the powerful Delaware tribe to warn white settlers of planned attacks. Terrifyingly realtic, this story is an unusual treatment of wilderness life, that ranks high in sheer excitement.

"Fate of the Clipper Westwind," by John Scott Douglas. Randy Draper sails from San Diego on the tuna clipper Ripple to find Frank Castignoni, presumably lost off the Central American coast when the Clipper Westwind vanished. In this exciting story of mystery and adventure, the author gives us vivid glimpses of tropic isles and jungle coasts of the Pacific, and shows us the hazards faced by the colorful fishermen who hunt the roving schools of tuna; for he has sailed on a tuna boat himself.

"Sled Dog of Alaska," by Jack Landru. Young Lance, who is going to high school in Fairbanks, adopts a starving, abandoned mongrel. With the help of an experienced old timer, Lance borrows enough companions for Smoky to build up a small racing string. There are wonderful accounts of the training of this oddly assorted lot. Every one of the canine characters in this book is a real dog that the author has trained and raced herself. This book is the winner of the Boy's Life-Dodd, Mead prize competition.

Poetry Corner

SINCE YOU'VE GONE

The sun that shined so brightly,
Here within my happy heart
Now has gone completely,
Since we drifted far apart.

All the joys and all the laughter
Have turned into unhappiness.
Gone with the one and only.
Whom I'll always love the best.

Tho I will try to face life smiling,
In my heart will be a tear.
And I know I'll always love you,
In memories you'll still be here.
By Charles W. Widmaier.

You have a right to your own life if you have the courage to live it.

Marion Sidelights—

the township. Stressing that industries do not like to be "pushed" into those things," they hinted that if left alone, the industries would discover for themselves where they could best render their aid.

In his talk, "One Jump Ahead?", Boles revealed that any criticism for not starting the building program sooner is not justified, because of the "overnight" swell in the population in Marion Twp. There have been 751 new homes built since 1950, and the population has increased from 9000 in the same year, to the present figure of 11,600.

Be that as it may, he said, it won't be long until the schools will be bursting at the seams, with the abundance of children dating back to the war years, flooding the school system with new students in age groups our present system will be incapable of handling. It will be up to the people to provide facilities for these citizens of tomorrow, or their education will suffer accordingly.

A very interesting talk, Mr. Boles. We hope you were heard throughout the township.

While such men as Harold Boles have been placing our school system in a position to be regarded in high esteem, Rusty Bryant, local 24-year-old sax player has been putting Marion Township on the MUSICAL map. The popular combo, conducted by Rusty, and organized only a year ago, nightly courts the jazz lovers at the Carolyn Nite Club. In the length of time not much longer than a 24 measure rest, this groovey group has exploded into fame as a recording team, with the Rusty saxaphone lighting the fuse. (If you read the papers you'll also note he blew a hole in his kitchen floor the other day with a shot gun he had just used to catch a burglar near his house.) If things work out as planned they'll be guests on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town in a few weeks, and that information ought to squelch any squares that look upon their future pessimistically.

Jimmy Rogers, Rusty's smiling drummer, by the way, is a real nice guy, with a personality the cats would call "the greatest." We happened to drop in on his 25th birthday and had a little chat between sets. Some day, Jimmy says, he may further his music studies at a local university or at a prominent school on the west coast, but right now he is enjoying his seat behind his cymbals, keeping the big beat for Rusty and the rest of his crew.

"Stomp" Gordon, another Marion Twp. product, is likewise currently taking part of the country by storm. Accompanying "Sugar" Ray Robinson and his show on the road, hasn't hurt him any, but his recent record, "Dragnet" with his band has been termed no small success either.

There seems to be something in the winds about a "Battle of the Bands" between Rusty Bryant and "Stomp" Gordon, and if the promoters are counting the votes on this proposal, we hope they don't notice that we've got both of our hands up. But if this ever comes off, we're latching onto a front row seat and loading our ears with cotton, and covering them up with ear muffs.

While we're talking about the sharps and flats trade, did you see the fifth and sixth grade chorus from Scioto Trail on "Spook" Beckman's "Shoot The Works" program (WLW-C) last Monday? They sang three numbers, and are a very impressive group. Mrs. Cooper, music teacher at S.T. is the director, and she really does a wonderful job with the chorus . . . Then the Marion-Franklin Band visited OSU last week and put on a performance while there.

PARISH DINNER—Sunday, Mar. 21, is the date of the next Corpus Christi parish dinner when the parishioners whose last names begin with H, I, J and K, do the honors. The menu will feature roast beef. Pictured above, checking a poster that will advertise the events are, left to right Dwight Haughn, co-chairman; John Hammel, co-chairman, and Robert Kaminsky, general chairman for the dinner.

•One last plug for the Talent Show at the high school Friday and Saturday. Admission will be 35 and 50 cents, the proceeds going to help provide a football field and to buy uniforms for the band. The show, sponsored by the Booster Club, will feature top notch talent from all the schools in Marion Twp., plus an act to be put on by the teachers. Those who saw the show last year maintain that the teachers stole the show. Any way you figure it, you wouldn't be able to get any more for your money on Friday or Saturday nights, than at the M-F High School. The program begins at 8 p. m.

To clear up any misunderstanding that may have been caused recently by an error printed in one of the daily newspapers, let it be understood that Marion-Franklin High School is a school for Marion Twp. only. Although it was explained in the other paper that the school was used in conjunction with Franklin Twp., the truth of the matter is that only residents of Marion Twp. attend the school. The latter half of the name of the schoool was named after Franklin County, not Franklin Twp.

Fifty-two Cub Scouts, parents and friends of Pack 105 took part in the swimming party at the Jewish Center Sunday night. And they really lived it up, they report . . . Our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards of Studer-av, on their 13th wedding anniversary Sunday . . . If your children are not affiliated with any church and would like to go to Sunday School, Mrs. Jack White of the First Presbyterian Church, corner of Bryden-rd and Ohio-av, has expressed her willingness to see that they get the transportation. Mrs. White lives at 1831 Studer-av, or you can call her at DI. 5692 . . . Friday, Jack Kaiser on Oakwood-av, is going to assume the position while his wife, Betty, gives him the customary birthday greetings. Happy birthday, Jack 34, WOW

At the monthly meeting of the Smith Road PTA next Tuesday, at 7.30 p. m. Marian King superintendent of elementary schools in Franklin County, will conduct a panel discussion on existing methods of teaching and grading. There will be refreshments and a baby sitter, for those with the need. A program of this nature should be a sell-out, as most parents are still in the dark as far as the new teaching methods are concerned.

And that runs the gamut of notes and phone calls for this week. Don't put your longies in storage yet. Crystal won't be open for two and one-half long months yet.

Roosevelt Students Earn Honors On All-City Team

By Nancy Tipton

Roosevelt Junior High School is proud to announce that Harold Ward, Roosevelt's star center, and Captain Ronnie Miller have won places on the All-City basketball team. Ward was the first choice of both the Columbus Citizen and the Columbus Dispatch for the position of center, while Miller was chosen by the Dispatch for honorable mention.

Ward, 9B, will play for Roosevelt the first half of next season. After graduation Harold will go on to East High where he will probably be a welcome addition to the East squad.

Ronnie Miller will graduate from Roosevelt this coming June and from there he will go to South High where he hopes to play basketball.

Beef herds in the South show a sharp gain.

By Joel Snyder

At a meeting held at the Marion-Franklin High School last week the executive board of the Citizens Association discussed with other community leaders the possibilities of the township being swallowed up by the city by annexation. Called in to assist in the discussion were Virgil Dassel, executive secretary of Citizens Research, Inc., and Grover Clements, head of the Regional Planning Commission. One of the main points discussed was the pressure the city was putting on outlying areas by the threat of disallowing further water service. Dassel, who has recently been studying the events relative to water and sewer service over Franklin County expressed the possibility that a Regional Sewage Authority could be set up in Franklin County without the participation of Columbus. At the present, he is engaged in checking the legality of such a move.

Dassel said the regional authority would by financed by revenue bonds with sewage lines extending from the northern to the southern portions of the county, bypassing Columbus if necessary. Dassel pointed out that since Columbus seems to hold a monopoly on the Central Ohio watershed, a similar system could not be developed without city participation as could be accomplished with the sewage problem, which he described as a more serious concern than the water problem, despite the more publicized discussions recently pertaining to the water situation.

The Citizens Association voiced their complaint that they thought the city was carrying on a "campaign of fear" and thought that the city of Columbus could obtain better results, if any, with a better public relations program, in dealing with the "over-the border" areas. To combat this situation, it was the opinion of the association board members, that the association should conduct an educational program to bring out the true facts of the situation, since it was generally agreed that the

Zion Lutheran Church Dedicates Its New Building On S. High-st

On Sunday, Mar. 21, one of Columbus' oldest Lutheran congregations dedicated a new house of worship. Zion's new church, located at 766 S. High-st, was opened for the first time in a series of festive services at 10:30 a.m., with the pastor, Rev. Otto F. Stolzenburg, officiating.

A second service was held at 3 p. m., with Dr. John W. Behnken, president of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, delivering the message.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held on Apr. 19, 1953. The cornerstone was laid on June 21, 1953. Planned by C. Melvin Frank architect, and constructed by Leo Ruisinger, general contractor, the church provides seating for 475 persons.

Of functional design with its base in Gothic architecture, the church is distinguished by its 87-foot tower surmounted by a bronze cross.

The exterior is of brick trimmed with California redwood. On the main floor are the nave, five Sunday school rooms, pastor's offices, cloak room, a nursery, and bride's room.

Beautiful black walnut paneling has been utilized to enhance interior walls. Highlighting the nave is the magnificent chancel, creating a focal point for the worshiper. A small balcony provides for the organ and choir. The basement contains a spacious fellowship hall, six Sunday school rooms, a complete kitchen, rest rooms and the heating plant. The entire building is equipped with an elaborate sound and intercommunication system. Cost of the new church, including land and furnishings is $225,000.

Organized by a small group of Lutherans in 1882, the congregation first secured a church structure at the corner of Mound and Third-sts. This building, erected in 1842, has served Zion as a house of worship through the ministry of six pastors, including the incumbent, Rev. Stolzenburg, who has served the congregation for the past 33 years.

The Ladies' Societies were recognized in a service on Tuesday evening, Mar. 23, with Rev. Walter A. Pohl of Zanesville speaking. Rev. John Constable, Ohio State University Lutheran student pastor, will speak at the youth service. Festivities will be concluded in a reunion service Sunday, Mar. 28, with Dr. Ottomar Krueger, president of the central district of the Missouri Synod, delivering the message.

Bulldogs To Meet Kent Roosevelt At 9 P. M. Tomorrow In Cleveland

If you thought the South Side had basketball fever last week, you "ain't seen nothing" to compare with the boundless enthusiasm expressed this week by South High School cage boosters who are keeping their fingers crossed for Coach "Pug" Hood's boys to annex the Ohio Class A crown.

The immediate hurdle in the path of the confident Bulldogs is the clash against Kent Roosevelt at 9 p.m. Friday in the Cleveland Arena. If successful, the Bulldogs will return at 8 p.m. Saturday for the state title duel with the winner of the Hamilton-Canton McKinley bout.

Last Friday night, the Bulldogs, already the central district champs, rolled into the Class A regional finals with their astonishing shooting performance in defeating Defiance, 70-55, in the Toledo University fieldhouse at Toledo.

On Saturday night, the Bulldogs earned the Northwestern Class A diadem in besting the Toledo Macomber team 65-56.

If South is successful in its bid for the state crown, it will mark the second time a Columbus team has ever earned the honor.

Having hoisted themselves up the ladder by winning the central district and the northwestern regional tourneys, the Bulldogs find themselves in company with Hamilton, Canton and Kent, the last of 287 Class A schools in the 1954 tournament.

Sports writers are giving the Bulldogs more than an even shake in chances at the state crown, quoting talent, ability, speed and leadership, plus a height advantage on Hamilton and Kent and practically the same height as the Canton squad.

Kent Roosevelt's Rough Riders list their starting five as Bob Messersmith (6-3) and Jerry Habraken (6-1) at forwards; Charles Boykin (6-4 at center; Bob Thomas (5-11½) and Salvatore Brugnone (5-8) as guards.

Kent Coach Andreas rates Thomas as his best player, although 160-pound Messersmith, averaging around 15, is top scorer for the Rough Riders. Kent enters Friday night's fray with an eight-game winning streak compared to South's 12.

South Side Man Killed By Auto Monday Night

A 59-year-old South Side man became the 17th Franklin County auto fatality when he was struck and killed by an auto on High-st just north of Frank-rd Monday night.

The victim was Ralph Howard Ault of 2008 Reinhard-av. He was crossing High-st at 9:55 when hit by the car driven by S. Sgt. Donald E. Jones, 25, of Lockbourne Air Force Base, according to Sheriff's Deputies James Smith and William Manus.

Ault was pronounced dead on arrival of a Marion Twp. emergency squad at Mercy Hospital. He suffered possible skull and leg fractures and possible internal injuries.

Sgt. Jones told deputies he was traveling about 30 mph and did not see Ault crossing the street. Ault's body was tossed 36 feet by the impact. Riding with Sgt. Jones was Wayne Tjader, also of the air base.

Deputy Russ Johnson came upon the accident scene while off duty and driving along High-st. He radioed his office for help.

Ault was employed by the Timmons Metal Products Co., 845 Harrisburg Pike, deputies said.

Survivors include three brothers, James and Merrell, of Columbus, and Frank, believed to reside in Youngstown; two sisters, Mrs. Bartha Haines and Mrs. Adeline Reed of Columbus, and two children, Robert of Columbus and Betty recently of California.

The Schoedinger Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

REPORT FROM CITY HALL

Mayor And Council Must Call A Halt To Feudin' To Keep Voters' Respect

About the biggest news to come out of city hall this week was the fact that the mayor and city council didn't tangle again on Monday night. The very obvious reason they didn't rested in the fact that the mayor remained in his office while council was at its job in the council chambers.

A lot of people agree that perhaps that is the way it should be. The mayor has a program that should be followed out and council too has a job to do and if they both expect to retain the respect of the thinking citizens of Columbus they will keep out of each other's hair.

Word has it that the powers that be in the Republican party have sent down the word that each councilman at different times is to take off with an attack on the mayor. The fact that the mayor sounds off fast and doesn't take this kind of thing sitting down must lead them to believe they are tearing him down in the eyes of the public.

The truth of the matter was pretty well summarized in the opinions of a lot of voters last week who came up with the comment that a continuation of this type of thing can result in nothing less than an opportunity for more capable and certainly more dignified individuals to be supported at the polls when later elections roll around.

The city of Columbus is finding it increasingly hard to operate on the amount of money available and this week department heads are being called in and requested to cut another 10 percent off their budgets. Council says the city will be in the red by December unless some action is taken to tighten the city belt. Yet in the face of this admission council passed an appropriation for $4000 to pay for hiring assistance in writing the bus franchise while the mayor claims it is unnecessary because the new utilities director can handle this job. The legislation was vetoed by the mayor and council passed it over his veto. Councilman Roland Sedgewick voted against such passage saying it was an unnecessary expenditure.

A Columbus Citizen story and pictures showing the condition of the new municipal golf course on Trabue-rd stated that it seemed apparent the course would not be opened for play by Apr. 17 as announced recently by Recreation Director Nick Barack.

Mayor Sensenbrenner is reported to have called the director in this week for a first hand report and the director said the weather might delay the opening. The mayor is reported to have said "The golf course is Barack's responsibility. It had better be ready."

Persons who have visited the new course recently agree that it doesn't seem likely that much good can come from the course this summer.

The matter of the civilian defense squabble continued to get some attention this week but the mayor has stated that his time and that of his assistant's is worth too much to continue to participate in the discussions in so long as the city has no more say than under the present arrangement. He has been unable to determine why the county should have three votes through the three commissioners while the city has but one.

5 South Siders Have Role In 'Call Me Madam'

Albert K. Germanson is producer director of the production and Stella J. Becker is choreographer. Gorden Dilworth, musical comedy and TV baritone of New York has been signed to do the leading role of Cosmo Constantine.

Ramblers Annex Heyl-av League Championship

Led by Ronnie Wallett, who pumped 13 points through the nets, the Ramblers completely bottled up Captain Sydney Lee of the Bulldogs, the league's leading scorer, who scored only two points. Ronnie Berman, with eight points, led the Bulldogs' attack.

Members of the championship Ramblers are Captain Ronnie Wallet, Roy Atkins, Ronald Barrick, John Gilpin, Bill Stevenson and Bob Stevenson.

South High GAA Holds Initiation

By Marilyn Kauffman

Black skirts — white blouses — one hose and one flat—one bobby sox and one saddle — no makeup —a GAA sign made out of cardboard.

That was the picture of 20 girls on Mar. 18 as they were being initiated into the Girls Athletic Association at South High School. After school the girls met in the auditorium and rolled baseballs across the floor with their nose, and repeated limericks they had written on "I joined GAA because—." The girls also scrubbed the girls' gym office floor with tooth brushes.

Girls who were initiated had received 25 points or more by participating in the various sports of the organization. They were Doris Clark, Altwain Larcom, Carlene Conrad, Janis Reese, Kitty King, Sylvia Simmermon, Patti Allen, Donna Augustine, Elinor Bordy, Joan Boden, Barbara Friedberg, Doris Grinstead, Shirley Santo, Judy Ryan, Rosilia Gore, Judy Young, Carolyn Wiggans, Carol Hunter, Elona Sabo, Kay Shaulis and Carol Danison.

One hundred and thirty-five boys of the South Side Branch YMCA Gra-Y and Elementary Fifth Grade Basketball Leagues gathered at the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church Thursday, Mar. 18, to hold their annual basketball party, which is sponsored by the Amerigo Senior Men's Club of the South Side YMCA.

The program was opened with the Gra-Y prayer, led by Charles Pyle of Beck. Larry Koehl of Livingston acted as master of ceremonies. Guest speaker was Clyde Trumbull, former South High basketball player, now senior at Otterbein College. Trumbull gave a fine talk on the value of good sportsmanship and then presented the individual sportsmanship awards and the championship plaques to Heyl, the Fifth Grade champion, and Beck, the Gra-Y titlist. Awards were also presented to Jerry Rhea, Tom Arthur, and Dick Federer who served as volunteer officials throughout the season.

Frank Watts, president of the Amerigo Sr. Club, presented the new team sportsmanship awards. Southwood received the fifth grade award and Deshler received the Gra-Y sportsmanship plaque.

An OSU football movie was enjoyed, followed by refreshments served by Ruth Storch, Mrs. Marie Deibert and Chrysti Wayer.

Also present were a number of Gra-Y advisers and principals, without whose help the Gra-Y Leagues could not have been carried on.

Individual sportsmanship winners were: Beck, Clifton Hook and Charles Pyle; Deshler, Harold Eads and Jerry Meinrod; Greenlawn, Lloyd Sheridan and Norman Devine; Heyl, Ken Schumacher and Steve Kuhl; Lincoln, Ronald Bobo and Marvin Carpenter; Livingston, Bill Kauffman and Bob Edwards; Sieberl, Jerry Allen and Henry Hazlett; Southwood, Bill Jacobs and Dick Guyer; Stewart, Bucky Loudermilk and Bill Huiss.

Marion Twp. To Rent Two New Police Cruisers

Marion Twp. trustees announced Monday that two new police cruisers, complete with modern equipment and two-way radio communications, will be placed in service within the next few days because of the interest of "public-minded citizens."

Trustees Earl A. Lupfer, William Fornof, and J. S. Mathias said the citizens' group has formed a non-profit organization to rent the new cruisers to the township. Furnishing of the cruisers on this basis, the trustees said, is a result of a survey to determine the best and least expensive way of improving police protection in the township.

Previously, township constables have had to provide their own automobiles and other equipment.

Hello:

Have you noticed how much in vogue flowers are in jewelry, on hats, and in dress prints? Set yourself apart by wearing a fresh, real posy in place of an artificial one. Fresh flowers will give a girl's spirit a lift and a breath of Spring to winter-weary clothes, and will cost you little. Try a golden jonquil or two pinned to the lapel of a navy suit, or a pert, spicy pink carnation at the neckline of a black dress, or a single perfect rose. It does things for you!

Our congratulations to two ladies who celebrated their birthdays on St. Patrick's Day—the gal with the good Irish name, Katie Carmichael, and Mrs. Harold Martin. Greetings to Mr. and Mrs. John Ball who had their anniversary on the 17th. The family and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Loechler will be helping them celebrate their 50th anniversary on Sunday, Mar. 28 with an open house party. Happy birthday to Mrs. Mary Harvey. Fellow quilters at South Methodist Church helped her celebrate her 70th year with a birthday cake party at their meeting last week.

Get well wishes to Mr. Tanner, maintenance man and friend of the children at Southwood School. Mrs. Blanche West, Mrs. Springer, Ruth Jarvis, Edward Ikehorn, Mrs. John Chidder, Mrs. Christina Brown, Evelyn Staley, Mabel Williams and Nellie Workmaster.

Happy new parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bauman and Mr. and Mrs. John Ham who have baby girls, and Mr. and Mrs. William Kilbourne whose new little one is a boy.

true facts have not been published up to this time.

The first step in the educational campaign being sponsored by the Citizens group will be to ask that Citizens Research Inc. find answers to questions posed in the township regarding annexation. The questionnaire will be made up by members of the association, the board of trustees and the school board. If any readers have questions they would like answered, they can call me, GA. 6886 and I will see that the questions are passed along to Dassel for study.

One of the few words of comfort came from Dassel. He said in his own opinion, no more annexation would be allowed, according to the county commissioners, until each petition is studied throughly as to its effect upon the township.

Grover Clements, in viewing the townships' side of the picture, plainly said that in recent years the township trustees have done a fine job.

If you are wondering what Citizens Research, Inc., is, let me fill you in briefly. CRI is an organization supported solely on voluntary contributions, largely from business interests in the county. The organization works on the theory that if the people are given the facts they can arrive at a proper conclusion. Given any specific problem, the experienced personnel at CRI study all available facts to which they have access, (they are closely connected to the city, also) and deliver the pros and cons derived from the study. Their services have been used successfully and extensively throughout the county in the past and CRI has gained a commendable recommendation from the various bodies having employed their services.

The township is buying a new road grader for $7000. Parting with the old one is being done with sorrow, as it is really a relic and seems to have become "one of the family." It has been suggested that the new owners goldplate it and exhibit it in a museum somewhere. They got a good trade in for it too . . . The new grader will be delivered in about 10 days or two weeks . . . The new cruisers should be in operation by that time, too . . .

Fire Chief Elis Slyh is excited about the demonstration being put on by the Firemans Association Apr. 4. At 10 a. m. on that date the fire companies from the different fire departments all over the county, (with the exception of the Columbus department) will conduct extensive tests by setting fire to a 12-room house at the corner of Lane-av and Starr-rd in Arlington. The house, bought by a development company and to be torn down anyway to make room for a new structure, was given to the firemen to experiment with the latest methods of battling fires. A large group of out of town concerns are being employed to set up tests to determine among other things, the temperatures inside the house at all times. It seems that the days of just turning the water on a fire are over. It's a science now and much more is being learned about extinguishing fires every day. Although the county association is sponsoring the experiments, invitations have been sent throughout the entire state and over 300 are expected from Cincinnati alone. They are going to present at least 10 problems in fire-fighting and consequently will light and extinguish the blaze each time

The Firemen's euchre party will be this Friday, don't forget it. There will be fine prizes and lots of fun for everyone . . . The first dramatic program by the M-F High School will be the play being put on Saturday . . . Sheryl Mitchell has successfully recovered from a tonsilectomy . . . Jaeger engineer A. C. Myers, S. Champion-av, is recovering from a bout with the flu that had him down for a few days . . . Pack 105, the Smith-rd Cub Scouts, will have a "Mississippi Show Boat" theme for their meeting at the school Friday night.

The Friday and Saturday Talent Show at M-F High School was a tremendous success, as anyone attending will tell you. We didn't know there was that much talent around here. So many of the acts were practically professional that we certainly should be proud of our younesters.

That about covers it for this week. Let me hear from you this week. My number is GA. 6886.

Gospel Jewel Launches Fund Raising Project

The Gospel Jewel Tabernacle, 281 E. Whittier-st, announces that a building fund drive is now under way with Russell Zarbaugh as treasurer, and Jerry Hamler, secretary. Easter Sunday will be set aside as building fund day and a special effort will be made.

The young peoples department of the church launched a bus fund drive a few weeks ago with Darrel Hughes as treasurer and Rev. Erman Peters, pastor as the advisor.

Many children in the Greenlawn Avenue Projects would like to attend Sunday School but are without transportation. The bus also will be used to transport the choir and singers to other churches for special services.

The youth of the church are actively engaged in personal evangelism classes conducted by the pastor, Rev. Peters, for several weeks.

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicke

Oh, my aching back! Chairs can be treacherous articles, my friends, and I have the black and blue marks to prove it. But the tumble didn't affect my writin' hand, so away we go.

Two of my favorite people have birthdays this week, so how's it feel to be growing old, Virginia Leonard and Nellie Kaufman? Virginia has done real well for her hubby has given her parakeets and all sorts of things, with her natal day still two days away. Virginia declares that Buss has trained the one parakeet to act as a monitor on her telephoning, for the bird will keep quiet for the first ten minutes of her conversation, but from then on he lets loose with a constant squawking!

We'll sure hate to see the Olivas and Fleckners moving from their lovely Jenkins and Eighth-st home, but we do want to wish them all the success in the world on their business venture in Columbus' West Side.

If mama is housecleaning this week and feels that planning this week's Sunday dinner is beyond her, why not take advantage of the roast beef dinner at St. Leos? The time is from noon till 6 p. m. Adults pay $1 and children 50 cents. Profits will benefit the school building fund.

Jim Robison reaches his "four score minus ten" year the 28th of this month. He's one of the spryest 70-year-old youngsters ye Gadabout has ever seen. Many, many more happy birthdays, Jim.

To the families of Mrs. Bower and Mrs. Wuichers go our deepest sympathy at this time. These ladies will be sorely missed, we know.

Out at 523 Sheldon-av a little girl is getting ready to celebrate a Mar. 29 birthday, so lots of happiness on that day, Deanna Gay Brewer.

One of the things that gives us the greatest happiness to report is golden wedding celebrations. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Paskell of 171 E. Markison-av, will be celebrating that magic 50th on Mar. 27.

Three Campfire leaders of the Southeast District made the trip to Detroit for the organization's regional meeting last week and had a wonderful time. They were Lillian Skobrak, Loretta Eberts and Maude Hobson. The meeting lasted from March 14 to Mar. 16.

Pity poor Alice Hall! Her birthday falls on Mar. 15, and is almost completely ignored. Belated greetings anyway, Alice, and may you have scads more birthdays on that peaky date.

Two of our ailing folks today include the male segment of our population. R. D. Pinkerton is a patient in Mercy Hospital, while the second gentleman is far from home. Pvt. Harry Bradford is in the Base Hospital at Camp Rucker, Ala., and would appreciate cards very much.

Tomorrow will bring a fifth wedding anniversary to Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Werner, of 573 E. Gates-st. Congratulations, folks.

An old friend is gone from ye Gadabout's life, for the weeping willow tree two houses over is a thing of the past. (There's one still in the neighborhood, so we'll just turn our eyes towards that one instead.)

This is an appeal to the person who stole a red Schwinn bike, with basket from in front of the Parsons Theater a week ago Tuesday, at 10 p. m. The young lad who owned the bike must now walk 20 blocks to school, and must forego selling the Journal night green as well and it was the only way his mother had of getting the week's groceries. She is the sole support of her two sons and herself.

She works during the day and has asked that I give my phone number. GA. 1051. I will give her phone number to anyone with information. This family depended on the bike a great deal more than the average family as there is no automobile to do the family tasks. If you have any information, won't you call us?

If you still have the get well cards handy, here's yet another gentleman who would be happy to receive one. Eddy Ikehorn, 212 E. Welch av, was operated on in Grant Hospital last week. He occupies room 375.

Tomorrow night finds the men and women bowlers of the Verhovay League staging a fish-fry at the Verhovay Club on Parsons-av. The dinners will be served from 5 till 11 p. m. and cost one dollar. The fish is fresh Lake Erie pickerel, shipped in 48 hours before, and customers have their choice of the whole pickerel or a fillet. The Gadabout will attend this affair, so maybe we'll be seeing you, if you are there.

Pie everywhere and were we embarrassed! PTA members attending the Barrett PTA last week missed a hilarious sight for an unwieldly table gave way and there were ye Gadabout, Maxine Craig and Margaret Metzger looking stupidly at lemon pie on the floor and everywhere.

On this cheery (?) note we'll unwind our torso from this chair and see what else can happen. Why don't you dial GA. 1051" We'll be waiting for you Till next week, 'tis once again,

The Gadabout.

Sunday Sermonette

The meaning of Lent is significant in the words of the institution of the Lord's Supper, "for you." It is a time to walk closer to God in the light of the cross of Jesus, to remember with special devotion the body that was broken, the blood shed, "for you."

Behold the man in the garden in agony, prone upon his face, his sweat like great drops of blood falling upon the ground . . . "Father, if Thou art willing, remove this cup from me, nevertheless, not my will, but Thine, be done." Behold the man before the ecclesiastical courts, scorned, rejected, labeled a blasphemer by the highest authority in the church.

Behold the man before the civil authorities—Pilate; jeered at, his body torn and bleeding from beatings, his face covered with blood and spittle. Behold the man — blood streaming from his hands, his feet, his sides, as he hangs dying from the Cross as he cries, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do."

Why the suffering and shame? It was for you and me, to reconcile man to his Father. Hear Him, "Father, for their sakes I sanctify myself." As I meditate during these Lenten days, in the shadow of the Cross, my heart is heavy as the heartbreak of that hour steals over me, bitter tears flow scaldingly down my cheeks and unworthiness convicts me as I hear the words . . . for you' And I cry under the urging of the Holy Spirit. . . Lord have mercy upon me.

A glowing picture? No, this is only part of the story for those tears streaming down my face are bitter-sweet tears, of joy and happiness. No longer am I under the condemnation of sin I am free.

Now I have new life through the grace of God. Lent is a time not only to rededicate a life, but to give my life to him who gave so much for me.

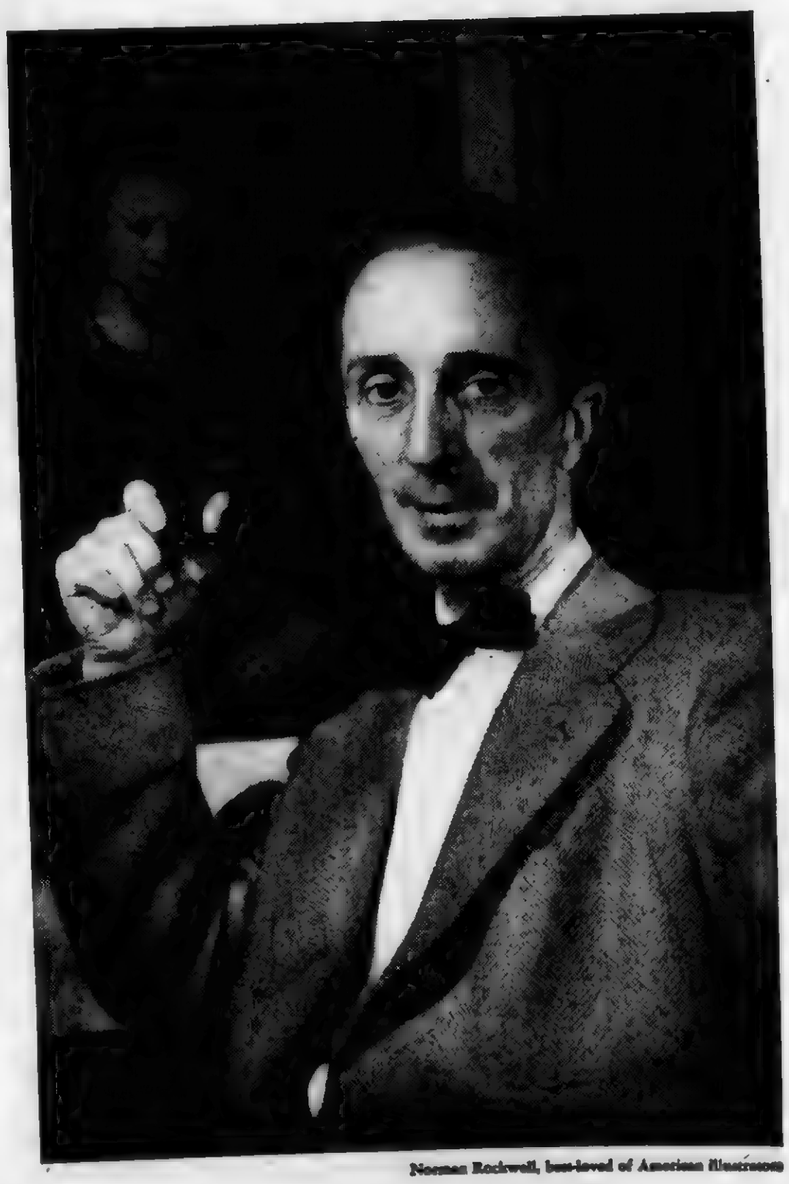
"An all-week, all-year, all-life thing"
—Norman Rockwell



"Our family has always done most things together. And as often as possible, that's the way we went to church.

"But while I knew it was important to take my boys to church and try to impress on them what it meant, I also tried—and even harder—to make them realize church doesn't end when you walk down the steps.

"It's an all-week, all-year, all-life thing. There'll be some weeks when you can't go—and all those times in between when you have to show by your actions and words that Christian obligation doesn't end when you step out of the church door.

"I tried to show this to my boys, as well as take them to church. And I think we all did better for it."

Light their life with faith . . . bring them to worship this week

Norman Rockwell, best-loved of American illustrators

"I WILL INSTRUCT AND TEACH THEE"

Great Teacher, I forgot again
One learns no subject overnight,
Or even in a month, or year.
By practicing, we learn it right.
If I would be the one that Thou
Sees power for me to be, I know
That I must study, practice still,
And prayerfully work,—if I would grow.
The scale comes first, and then the right
Hand spreads fingers into tune;
Later the left hand learns to join
With stumbling notes. Late or soon,
Each must learn the slow-paced way.
No short cut leads to harmony.
Great Teacher, bless my faltering scale,
And help me grow more patiently.
Eva Sparks Taylor, in The Columbus Citizen.

Today, she is six years old. What a wonderful six years these have been. Those two sentences tell the story but being the gabby type of course I'll go on and on. No child was ever more beloved, and no child ever had a heavier load to carry, but she has borne up very well indeed. She is a dainty, lovely bit of femininity, with blonde hair that has to be "permanented" or else it will be straight and, straggly; tiny feet that were made for dancing and running and not for much slow walking, and big almost-brown eyes that can do—and do do—funny things to your heart. She has not only survived two years of a diet that excluded ice cream, candy, birthday cake and other things that little girls love; a fall when she was three, that resulted in a skull fracture; loss of a pet or two, and other tragedies that most children survive, but she has been the only child in a family full of adoring aunts, uncles, cousins, family friends—not to mention two sets of grandparents and one and one-half sets of great-grandparents. But six is a magical age. From now on her life will be a shining adventure, but there'll still be story books to be read; lots of coloring to do; Sunday School and kindergarten to attend and birthday parties—just like in the "old days." When she was asked what she wanted for her birthday, she said curtains for her room. A coldish feeling sort of settled in the region of our hearts, but when she added "and a wheelbarrow," we knew she was still our Baby.

MAIL—From Cincinnati: "So . . . the first of June, I'm resigning from all the clubs. I'm going to pound the gavel extra hard for the last time, then I'm going home and take off my shoes and stop trying to remember whether Mary Jones and Mary Smith should be on the same committee (their teen-age sons are after the same girl) and whether Mary Brown and Mary Black should be on the same committee because they usually aren't speaking to each other: I'm going to have my phone disconnected and I'm going to relax" . . . From Columbus: "I drive 50 miles each day and sometimes I feel like heading for a nice quiet cave. I would only I'm afraid of bats. This rushing civilization is too much for me. At least it is tonight. Tomorrow I might be ready to jump into the roaring traffic again. Why don't people take it easy? What's their hurry?" . . . From Newark: "All we have heard on the radio for the last month are Irish songs. After St. Patrick's Day, all we will hear till after Easter will be Easter Parade and songs about the Easter bunny—then it won't be long until the Christmas music starts. I love Irish and Easter and Christmas music, but we're always sick of it before the days come. I got up on the wrong side of the bed this morning so I gotta right to gripe, and radio music is the first thing I could think of to gripe about."

From somewhere — Small boy's definition of a conscience: Something that makes you tell your mother before your sister does . . . There would be fewer arguments if we tried to determine what's right instead of who's right . . . What this country needs is more free speech worth listening to . . . Nowadays, Pop no sooner gets his daughter off his hands than he has to get his son-in-law on his feet . . . Many a man now wishes he had saved money during the depression so he could afford to live during prosperity . . . Wisdom is knowing what to do next.

Tax Chief Urges Closer Attention To Personal Taxes

The state tax commissioner has asked all county auditors to redouble their efforts to see that everyone subject to Ohio personal and intangible property taxes pays them.

Ohio's 88 counties collected $115 million in personal property and $25 million in intangible property taxes during 1953. Stanley J. Bowers, state tax commissioner, said that amounted to one-third of all taxes collected locally.

50 Youths Attend Final Session Of Roosevelt Boys' Athletic Club

About 50 boys attended the final meeting of the Boys' Athletic Club of Roosevelt Junior High School last Saturday, and a fine time was had by all. The program ran for 10 consecutive weeks and about 100 boys attended at least one of the meetings. The program was sponsored by the city recreation department and the physical education department of Ohio State University.

Congratulations to Sidney Lee, Charles Lee, Dickie Hemmerly and David Gruber. These boys attended all 10 meetings of the club and were very co-operative.

A big vote of thanks also goes to Charles Barr, John Regan and Tony Filichia, the janitors at the school.

This same program will probably be started again next year.

PLAYERS HONORED AT ASSEMBLY

By Nancy Tipton

Friday, Mar. 19, Roosevelt's 1953-54 basketball team members received their varsity letters from Coach Clyde Battin during an assembly. The program began with the pledge to the flag, led by John Kramer. Next there was a trumpet quartet by Richard Evans, Steve Dworkin, Ray Klingbill and Paul Raffeld.

Then Principal McAllister introduced Battin, who presented the awards to the following boys: Jim Hilty, Neal Kresheck, Jack Silcott, Tom Main, Bob Dersom, Sunny Green, Ronnie Miller, Harold Ward, Jim Zollinger, David Burks, Jim Dressel, John Kramer, Marvin Welch, Bill Wentzel and Manager Steve Blake.

To conclude the program the cheerleaders gave their last cheer of the season while the team was standing. Then Principal McAllister presented Phyllis Lusch, Cinda Johnson and Sharon Davis their letters for being active all season.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Monday, Mar. 15, marked the beginning of Roosevelt's annual home room basketball games in which 26 teams and 182 boys will participate. There will be a seventh, eighth and ninth grade elimination tournament, in which the winning squad of each grade will receive a tin trophy that will be kept in their home rooms until next year's contest.

In order to make sure each room has a fair chance, no member of Roosevelt's varsity can take part in the games but they can act as coaches which would be a great help.

The officials will be Ronnie Miller, Bob Dersom, David Burks and Jim Mathias.

City Merchants Cagers Thank Their Sponsors

Clarence Huskey, manager of the City Merchants basketball team, composed mostly of South Side residents, this week expressed his appreciation to the following merchants who sponsored the team:

Fountain Druga, Bob's Beverage Carry-Out, Buckeye Sports Center, Frosh Furniture Co., Superior Hardware, Weilbacher's Department Store, Kirkpatrick Insurance Co., Wolford's Rooms, Bexley Upholstering and Hall's Hardware.

The City Merchants came through the season with a 15 win and seven loss record in the Franklin Independent League.

At a party held recently, sponsored by the Builders Club of the South Side YMCA at Central Community Church, Emmanuel Lutheran's junior basketball team was recipient of the team sportsmanship award, the highest award doled out by the South Side YMCA Junior Church Basketball League.

Heyl Downs Siebert 31-26 To Annex South YMCA Fifth Grade Cage Crown

Heyl edged Siebert 31-26 in the showdown game in the South Side Branch YMCA Elementary Fifth Grade Basketball League. Heyl and Siebert ended the season in a tie for first place, each with a record of seven wins and one loss, setting the stage for the championship playoff game.

The play was even in the first period as Heyl's height offset Siebert's speed. The period ended with the score deadlocked 7-7. In the second period, Heyl's big men Schumacher and Stevenson, drew four and three personal fouls respectively to crimp their attack. Ken Schumacher still scored six points in that period to give a Heyl 13-11 halftime lead.

In the third period, Schumacher picked up his fourth personal but managed six more points to keep his team on top 19-16. With only 22 seconds gone in the fourth quarter, Schumacher fouled out, which was the crucial point of the game. With Heyl's big man gone and the only other big man hamstrung with four fouls, it looked as though the tide of battle was turning. Ken Lee scored a basket to pull Siebert to within one point and then little Charles Lee, a substitute for Heyl, scored a timely basket which seemed to give Heyl a needed lift.

Although Ken Le scored nine points, Heyl always managed to stay ahead with a basket when needed. Ken Schumacher of Heyl and Ken Lee of Siebert were the game's high scorers with 15 and 14 points respectively. The officials for the game were Bill Wells, Columbus policeman, and Jack Kramer, Roosevelt Junior High basketball player.

Friends Indeed

Did you know that Camp Fire Girls, Inc., is the oldest youth agency in the United States serving girls seven to 18, irrespective of race, religion, nationality or economic status? Girls meet in small friendship groups with friends and acquaintances from school, church or synagogue, community center, playground or neighborhood. Leaders of the groups are women volunteers with a friendly understanding of girls. Each group has one or more sponsors or a sponsoring committee composed of civic leaders, teachers, clergymen or other interested adults. Camp Fire Girls is a Red Feather Agency.

CONSERVATION NOTES

From Ohio Dept. of Natural Resources

Distribution was begun throughout the state this week of 30,000 copies of Ohio's new 24-page 1954 reforestation and tree planting manual issued by Governor Frank J. Lausche's Citizens Plant Ohio Committee.

Copies of the manual will be supplied to every school in Ohio through the department of education and may be used as a guide to local schools in formulating school planting activities and Arbor Day programs.

Bulk shipment of the manuals is being made this week to the 88 County Agricultural Agents in Ohio who were appointed by Governor Lausche, for the second consecutive year, to serve as county chairmen for the 1954 Plant Ohio Program.

The 1953 program, most successful in the history of the state resulted in the planting of more than 25,000,000 trees, including ornamentals for home and community beautification and millions in farm and plantation reforestation projects. The motto for the 1954 program is "Millions More in '54."

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources Commission has gone on record urging the conduct of exhaustive surveys and the production of a complete water resources map of the state of Ohio.

The commission made the recommendation in the form of a resolution which complimented the division of water on an excellent job of mapping the water resources of the Black River Basin in northern Ohio. It was a pilot survey which the commission felt should be expanded to cover the entire state, in order that complete information on Ohio's actual and potential water supply could be obtained.

V. W. Flickinger, chief of the division of parks, has announced the installation of radio base stations and mobile units at three of Ohio's largest lakes.

Flickinger said radio equipment, both ship to shore and ship to ship frequencies, has been installed in parks equipment and installations at Indian Lake, Buckeye Lake and Grand or Lake St. Marys.

The parks chief said the radio should improve the division's efficiency in law enforcement and also provide greater speed in its public safety work.

The division plans to expand the radio network to additional park areas and lakes throughout the state when funds become available.

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources announces that a 28 minute new movie "The First Job —Conservation" is now available to the public through its information and education section.

The film was made by the Austin Productions Inc., of Lima, Ohio, and produced through the cooperation of the Department of Natural Resources, The Davey Tree Expert Company, Kent, Ohio, and the Ohio National Guard and the Muskingum Conservancy District.

It is a warm, interesting approach to the problems confronting conservationists in Ohio as seen through the eyes and the voice of a 12-yr.-old Ohio youngster.

The film can be obtained by writing, well in advance of the showing date, to the Information and Education Section, Ohio Department of Natural Resources, State Departments Building, Columbus, Ohio; or to the Davey Tree Expert Company, Kent, Ohio.

League Presses For Changes In Ohio Sportsmen's Rules

During the annual meeting of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, held recently in Columbus, a number of resolutions were passed by that group which, if enacted into law, could affect sportsmen in general throughout Ohio.

The League of Ohio Sportsmen believe an ideal waterfowl season would require having the state of Ohio zoned. They further believe that the northern zone in the Ohio area should be the counties along Lake Erie and that other states should make their own recommendations as to their northern boundaries. It was then resolved that the League of Ohio Sportsmen urge that an equitable waterfowl season for Ohio, through the use of zoning be established and that a committee be selected from the League to consult with similar committees from Indiana, Illinois and any other interested states to investigate such a season.

In the past the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has discouraged the idea of zoning Ohio.

A number of resolutions were adopted which would require action by the State Legislature. Among them: That the required age of purchasing fishing licenses be reduced from 18 years of age to 16 years of age so any person whose birthday falls after the beginning of any fishing season be free to fish the remainder of so-called year; that the League of Ohio Sportsmen sponsor a movement to have the non-resident fishing licenses increased so that they will correspond in close respect to what Ohioans must pay for a non-resident license in other states and further that the temporary ten-day license fee be increased; the League also approves of legislation giving conservation officers, fire wardens and park police, the same protection and classification while on duty as is given other police officers in the State of Ohio.

The main trouble with the human race is human beings.

Words fail me," muttered the small boy as he flunked the spelling exam.

By Joel Snyder

The front page story last week in a Columbus daily has excited swifter action by the Marion Township Citizen Association in preparing an educational campaign to clear up rumors of the attempt by the city to annex the heavy tax paying portions of Marion Twp to the city of Columbus. In the article published last Thursday Chalmers Wylie, City Attorney asserted that the property owners in Marion Twp would gain many benefits by annexing to the city. This to put it mildly was highly questioned, by the members of the Citizens Association, and they immediately initiated a move to conduct their own campaign to publish the true facts and figures. Literature will be forthcoming and will be distributed throughout the township, for the benefit of the residents as soon as it can be readied. While not intending to be a stumbling block to the city of Columbus Marion Twp. deserves the right to retain its individuality if it so chooses. The information to be distributed by the association will help the township citizens decide for themselves what is right for them.

One of the first things mentioned by Wylie was the prospect of reduced fire insurance rates for the property owners if they came to be delivered to the residents it will be shown that the figures stated by Wylie were very misleading. The savings is actually only 20 cents per thousand dollars valuation which, almost anyone will admit is not very much.

Did you ever have a salesman oversell his product to the point where even if you liked it you wouldn't buy it? Then what was the first thing that came to your mind when you read the statement by Wylie that when Milwaukee annexed the surrounding areas they succeeded in getting a major league baseball team." Mmmm BOY!! Of course no one would object if the caliber of the Columbus team was raised, or if we suddenly found ourselves supporting a big league ball club, but the inference that by taking in the territory they desire, the same thing that happened in Milwaukee would happen in Columbus, strikes us as being quite obnoxious and offensive.

As if the first article wasn't enough, the next day the same paper printed an editorial and placed it prominently at the top of Page One, and headed it "The Case For Annexation." The editorial presented some weak arguments in favor of annexation without consideration for the effect the change may have on the township. The writer blindly stated that the townships could receive improved fire and police protection if they joined forces with the City of Columbus.

The inconsistency of this argument, however was pointed up elsewhere on Page One of this paper. It was done better than any defender of the township system could hope to do. The news story, located directly under the editorial, was headed, "City's Financial Picture Worsens – Tax Take Uncertain, Police Firemen Unhappy." The story vividly portrayed the financial problems of the city that may be met with a reduction of the city employees payroll. It was suggested that either a 5 per cent cut be suffered by the employees or days off be given without pay to balance the budget. Either alternative obviously would not strengthen the city's argument for welcoming the surrounding areas into Columbus. In the story the writer related a comment made by Fire Chief Walter Strickland regarding the possibilities of reducing the number of police and Firemen. By Strickland's own admission a similar measure in 1936 resulted in closing several fire stations. It was very unpopular with the public he said.

Again we'd like to ask what the point would be of a completely solvent community sacrificing their position to annex with a city already so large that it has become

South High Bulldogs Receive Acclaim For Valiant Cage Crown Try

HEROES' RECEPTION--South's High Bulldogs, runners-up in the State Class A Basketball Tournament, were feted at a special assembly held Monday morning at the school, at which L. W. Huber, principal, presided. In the picture of the crowded platform above, Mayor Sensenbrenner has just finished congratulating the team and the student body on the sportsmanship displayed throughout the tourney. Guest speakers included Rev. Ray W. Huff of South High Street Baptist Church; Rev. Paul Kaefer of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church; Jim Wagner of the South Side YMCA; N. G. Fawcett, superintendent of Columbus schools; Bill McConnell of the Ohio High School Athletic Association; M. D. Sheatsley, physical education director; Robert F. Darrow, principal of Barrett Junior High, L. H. McAllister, principal of Roosevelt Junior High; L. N. Drake, principal of Mohawk School; Carrell Woodruff, North High School basketball coach; Ralph Webster, of East High, representing all the city's principals; Stanley Gingery, assistant superintendent of Columbus Schools; John Sittig, South High Alumni Association; Mrs. Walter Miller and Mrs. Walter Denney, representing South High's PTA; and Bill Corley, who presented the WBNS revolving district trophy to the team. Coach Hood presented silver basketballs and medals to individual players for their fine play. District, Regional, and State runner-up trophies were also presented during the assembly.

Team To Receive More Honors In Future Events

Still "the Champs" to thousands of loyal South Side fans, South High School's Bulldogs may have stumbled on their last step in the Class A glory trail, but the school and boosters are making certain that the valiant team receives its just share of glory for an excellent showing.

With few explanations for their courageous but losing 66-55 effort against Hamilton Public Saturday night, the Bulldogs quietly retired to the Carter Hotel in Cleveland, spent the night there and motored home Sunday morning.

No reception awaited Coach "Pug" Hood's boys as they arrived in Columbus, but they were "men of the hour" in a special assembly on Monday morning when Bill McConnell, assistant Ohio high school athletic commissioner, presented them with their district, regional and state runner-up trophies. Many guests, sports officials and boosters crowded the platform, including Mayor Sensenbrenner.

The Bulldogs were guests at the annual installation and reunion smoker of the Agonis Club last night at the Columbus Maennerchor. They were slated to receive a number of individual sportsmanship awards at the affair.

South Principal L. W. Huber said the Southeast Lions Club will serve as sponsors of the school banquet at which the Bulldogs will be the guests of honor. Date for the banquet has been tentatively set as Apr. 22 in the St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Biggest single wound of the heartbreak race with Hamilton Saturday night, most fans agreed, was the referee's whistle. Personal fouls and a general run of tough luck in the final stanza wrote finis to the chance of the team.

After Frank Howard, Clarence Pointer, Stan Owens had moved into the vulnerable four-foul category, South was forced to gamble more on offensive operations.

Despite extreme care, three of the Bulldogs were still foul victims when the game was over.

Commentators and sports writers agreed that the Bulldogs looked better in losing to Hamilton on Saturday than they did in winning their semi-final tilt with Kent Roosevelt 50-35. Hamilton boasted a strong team, sparked by Alex "Boo" Ellis, six-foot-five center, one of the finest players ever to appear in state competition.

Biggest regret voiced by Coach Hood is that he loses practically the entire team when June graduation time rolls around. Pointer, alone of the starring five, holds over one half a year longer.

Lighted Cigaret Causes $5000 Carr Co. Fire

Damage estimated at $5000 resulted in a flash fire at the Carr Equipment Co., 448 Parsons av. last Friday afternoon. The fire which tied up seven pieces of equipment for more than two hours started. Battalion Chief Albert Smith reported when a mechanic's helper lit a cigaret while handling an oil-soaked cloth. The cloth caught fire and ignited a pan of solvent.

Carr Equipment is a sales and service firm for construction machinery and supplies. Chief Smith said the one story building would probably need a new roof in addition to extensive glass and water damage.

YWCA To Present Spring Swim Revue

Active participants in the YWCA's health education program will present a spring revue swim show, Apr. 2, 6, and 8 in the recently soundproofed pool.

The YWCA Swim Club will present "Whisper of the Leaves." "Fountain of Youth" will feature the Junior Synchronized Swim Group, students in junior and senior high school.

The diving part of the program is especially outstanding. As a closing presentation the "All Nature Finale" will combine all the numbers in the program. Special dances have been arranged at the pool sides between acts.

A South Side resident who has participated in the planning is Mrs. G. R. Finn, 1570 Mohawk rd. Tickets for the Swim Show may be obtained from the health education department at the YWCA, 65 S. Fourth st. The program will begin at 7:45 p. m.

Local Realtor Sold On Want-Ads' Power

The week's most enthusiastic testimonial as to the drawing power of classified ads in this newspaper comes from James M. Stevens, widely known realtor whose offices have been located at 1434 W. State st. for the past 35 years.

Stevens reports that he listed six properties in the want ad columns of the Mar. 18 issue of this paper. Five were sold as a direct result of that listing.

"I appreciate the fact that a classified advertisement in your paper reaches 32,000 homes," said Stevens. "And I know that many readers turn almost directly to the want ads. That's why I run an ad in your paper every week.

Why don't you take advantage of the selling power of these small but mighty advertisements? Call RA. 1125 or GA. 9262 for swift, friendly assistance in the wording of your want ad. It'll pay you great dividends.

Barrett Jr. High Proud Of Season's Basketball Record

The basketball season now at an end has brought feelings of gratification to Barrett Junior High School from several sources and for a number of reasons, school officials reported yesterday.

In the first place Barrett won more games than it lost (six wins, five losses). Some of the games were won by big differences in scores, all the games lost were lost by small score differences with the exception of Champion and that was about 17 points in their favor.

One of Barrett's outstanding players, Captain George Devlin, was picked for the City All Junior High Basketball team. (Dave Crow was on the first team all city and Jim Kochensparger won honorable mention.) Devlin has been a high point man in every game and a very fine leader on the floor.

South High School's athletic authorities have been most cooperative and generous in giving Barrett the use of South's auditorium and gym for games and practice and this at a time when South was getting its own team ready for championship play. Barrett needed the assistance as its own gym is currently under construction, and without some use of South High School's gym, Barrett could not have had a season at all.

This help and good nature deserves to be noticed, appreciated and remembered.

Southsiders Prominent In Cage Classics

Columbus' South Side had more representation in basketball classics this past week-end than many people realize.

In addition to the epic almost-but-not-quite struggle of the South High Bulldogs for the Class A title on the Cleveland Arena boards, the South Side was represented in the Ohio Class B high school championship.

Coach Bob Fowle of New Lexington St. Aloysius, winners of the Class B diadem, was playground director of Kerns Park on the South Side last summer. Mike Mileusnich, one of the referees in the decision clash between New Lexington St. Aloysius and Delphos St. John, Saturday night, is a longtime South Side sports activities and a member of the Southeast Lions Club.

CHURCH CHAMPIONS—Pictured above receiving the championship award from Paul Ebert, Ohio State University athlete, are members of the Washington Avenue EUB basketball team, winners of the South Side Branch YMCA Junior Basketball League with a season of nine wins and one loss. This award along with the sportsmanship awards was given out at a party sponsored by the Builders Club of the South Side YMCA, held recently at Central Community Church. From left to right are Paul Ebert, Freddy Dunham, Cliff Carr, Coach Duke Dewey, Paul Carr, Gerald Erienbach, Harold Pell, Bob Wardle, Albert Quincell, Jerry Cook and Jerry Smith.

Albert H. Heinz with Mrs. Heinz at the organ, will be features of the program.

The program is open to the public and all are invited to attend. No admission will be charged, but a freewill offering will be taken to cover expense.

Sponsoring organizations and cooperating agencies are South Side YMCA, Young People's Inter-Church Council, South Side YMCA Teen-Age Council, composed of representatives from South Roosevelt and Barrett Junior High, South Side Ministerial Association with 16 cooperating churches, and the South Side Branch YMCA.

The committe arranging the program consists of Rev. Rudy Thomas, Central Community Church chairman; Rev. A. A. Sebastian, South Church of Christ, and Jim Wagner of the South Side Branch YMCA.

Members of the Young People's Inter-Church Council will participate in the program and serve as ushers.

LENTEN SINGERS—Pictured above is the Columbus Girl choir which will be featured on the annual South Side community Lenten service to be held at South High School auditorium on Friday, April 9, at 8 p.m. Richard C. Johnston (insert at right) is the director of the choir, and Barbara Kearney is the accompanist. The program will be a musical-dramatic one that the entire community can enjoy the spirit.

"The Angelic Choir?"
—asks BING CROSBY

"Not quite . . .
Just rough-and-tumble kids, decked out for choir service. A picture you'd like to see your youngster in some day, I'm sure.

"Suppose he can't even carry a tune. No matter. What counts is that he belong to the spirit of this picture . . . feeling at home in church or synagogue.

" 'Belonging' is something that happens over the years. Maybe Mom drops into church with the youngsters, when they're out shopping, to just say 'hello' to God. Pop's part of the job is 'cueing the kids for the sitting and standing and kneeling, when they go to their first real Service. The way he helped them, when they faltered with their good-night prayers.

"Just a lot of little things . . . but they add up to showing them the way. Soon the children find going to church or synagogue as natural a thing to do, as heading for the warmth and comfort of home. And there are no words to describe a parent's peace of mind, when he knows, that no matter what happens, the children will always be 'at home' in the one place time does not change."

Light their life with Faith . . . then bring them to worship this week

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicke

My, how nice to see the house emerge from its winter grime and dirt! We're still far from finished on the yearly "clean-up", but far enough along to see a definite improvement.

Lots of social activity is coming up for ye Gadabout, so if we don't hear of the doings of others, we'll be chronicling our own "gaddings."

Sir stork will be the unseen guest at one of the functions we are invited to attend. Geneva Danner will be the guest of honor on Apr. 9 at a baby shower to be held in the home of her aunt. The next day will be the third wedding anniversary for the young Thompson couple.

Apr. 9 is a significant date in the Gadabout's household, for the Boy Scout will reach his 15th year on that date. He's an Easter egg, incidentally, for it was an Easter Sunday when he made his debut.

The ailing members of our community include these nice folks, so we hope they receive many cards from their friends: Mr. Pinkerman is first on our list and also Charles Barnhill. On the recuperating list is Kay McClelland, now home at 2532 Bulen-av.

Some more birthdays are listed in our notes, so greetings to Ralph Maciocl, for this is his natal day. Carlene Sutorious, vivacious daughter of Rev. Sutorious, also has an April birthday.

In the years to come, the new little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Leonard will be celebrating a Mar. 23 birthday. Little Sherry! made her worldly debut in Doctor's Hospital. The Leonards live on Siebert-st, should friends like to send notes of congratulations.

A father-daughter birthday duo is that of Joan Tabor and Howard Pfeifer. Joan, a resident of 560 Siebert-st, had a Mar. 14 birthday, and her father, who receives his mail at 209 College-av., did his celebrating on the 29th of the blustery month.

Julia and Tom Wilson are fully recuperated from their recent Florida jaunt, and naturally had a fine time. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Grubb, and brought back the happy news that the Grubbs will be staying in Columbus for a couple of months this summer.

The Wilson family rates another item too, for Julia had a Mar. 5 birthday, and her husband Tom, one on Mar. 10.

Our WBNS-TV communique tells us that Jo Stafford started a weekly series this past Tuesday, to be seen each week at 7:45 p. m. The show is listed as "The Jo Stafford Show," and is sponsored by the Gold Seal Co., for Glass Wax.

April is truly a series of celebrations for the Oberkanz family and here's why: Otto Oberkanz celebrates his 68th birthday today, he and his wife, their 44th anniversary tomorrow, and his wife Frieda, celebrates her 64th birthday on the 9th! The home address for the couple is 60 E. Jenkins-av, should you like to send cards in that direction. A daughter, Lucille Youngman, has a birthday on the 28th to round out a busy month.

Two of our younger residents deserve belated greetings, so we'll wish them right now for Barbara Johnson of 245 E. Moler-st, who was seven on Mar 23, and for Jimmy Vogt of 1418 S. Sixth-st; who had a Mar. 12 birthday.

New babies occupy the major portion of grandma Gerri Baughman's thoughts these days. She visited son Don in Cincinnati, the better to become acquainted with little Ruth Carol, born weeks ago.

She was scarcely home when the long-legged bird came flying to deposit little Susan Lee in the care of Dick and Pat Baughman on Mar. 28. Dick and Pat had come to visit the S. Sixth-st residents from Dayton and being born in Mt. Carmel Hospital was strictly little Susan's idea! Gerri got a chance to become better acquainted with Susan's older brother, Stevie, so all's well that ends well.

To both sets of parents and to the little girls, much fun and happiness in the years to come

Our sympathy at this time goes to Mrs. Bidlock, of Sycamore-st, who recently lost her mother

A late March birthday was celebrated by Mrs. Specie, of 664 Morril-av, on the 25th.

We're happy to report that the little boy whose bike was stolen has recovered it, so a salute to the police force for bringing a happy ending to last week's item.

Seems we're "fresh out" of items so it's going to be a "salute" to the scrub bucket for us again, we are afeerd! Don't forget us, when there's news abrewing, please! We'll be waiting to hear from you just dial GA. 1051. Till next week —The Gadabout an economical monster. To a community having exceptionally fine schools, as Marion Twp. does; to an area planning ANOTHER fire station (instead of closing one), as Marion Twp. does; to a citizenry that has just received two brand new cruisers (a 100 per cent increase), as Marion Twp. has, their offer may seem sugar-coated and questionable.

Marion Twp.

Before you make up your mind, one way or the other, we think that the advice given by one of the members is simple, but "a propos." STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

Many of these things will be discussed at the next meeting of the Citizens Association at the high school Apr. 13. The entire program will revolve around the questions pertaining to annexation. Certainly there should be a large atendance. The candidates for the new officers will be announced and further nominations will be welcomed, also at this next meeting. This June will complete the first year for this organization and our only regret is that it didn't begin long before that. But much progress has been made by the present membership, and there is no reason to believe that next year the effects produced by the association will not be doubled. Having struggled through the first year, starting with just a handful of members and increasing to a half thousand, the organizatioon has proven that it is "here to stay," and is beginning to win the respect of the industry people as well as the public officials. This means that the coming year should bring many good things, providing the citizens of the township continue to become more community-minded.

L. B. Kaser, President of the Marion Local Schools board of education, was kind enough to call to my attention an error I made two editions ago pertaining to the area covered by the Marion Local School District. In correcting a mistake made earlier by a local daily paper which stated that Marion-Franklin High School was comprised partially of Franklin Twp. students, I bluntly came out with the statement that only residents of Marion Twp. attend the high school. A fact that I had once known, and since forgotten, is that, to quote Kaser, "There is no such thing as a Marion Twp. School District. Correctly, it is the Marion Local School District, Franklin County, O., and includes Marion Twp. and portions of Hamilton Twp. and Madison Twp. In other words, the school district does not coincide with the civil district of Marion Twp."

Thank you, Mr. Kaser, for your trouble. Thank you also for the complimentary remarks about our column, too. We'll do our best to keep the spirit of Marion Twp. alive . . .

Mrs. Kathryn Price's son Dave has just returned from a two-month visit with her sister in Bell. Calif. The neighbors report they are glad he's back . . . Dale and Judy Edwards on Studer-av have purchased a home near Fishinger-rd. . . . The Civic Club meets the first Wednesday in April — that's the 7th . . . Jack R. Alton sent us a reminder that he is now one of the partners in the law firm of Robins, Metcalf & Alton

Lloyd and Judy Perry just returned from a wonderful two weeks vacation at Elinor Village, Daytona Beach, Fla. . . We want to welcome some newlyweds to our Home Acres neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McGath were married on Sunday, Mar. 21, Buffalo, O. The bride is the former Marcia Lou Kackley. McGath is employed by the Smith-Dodson Lumber Co. They are now living at 100 Collingwood-rd . . .Margie Smith and Lila Babbert from the Scioto Trail neighborhood went on one of the chartered busses from South High School that took the students to Cleveland to see South win the game Friday night that made them runners-up in the state tournament. It was a sad group of South boosters that came home Saturday night after seeing their team lose a hard fought game to Hamilton South can still be proud of their fine team. You've got to be good to come in second best in the state . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Chapman are announcing the engagement of their daughter Dolly June to Robert Brumfield. Dolly June is a senior at Hamilton High School and Bob is serving in the Navy. The open church wedding will take place in June . . .

A wonderful banquet was served to 125 guests at the Mother-Daughter Banquet on Thursday night at the South High Church. A fine meal, good program and an interesting speaker made the banquet a success. Mrs. Dora Eberts received the flower for being the oldest mother present. Mrs. William Garwick (Dorothy Perry) the youngest mother with a daughter present, and Mrs. Logan Perry the mother with the most daughters, daughters-in-law and granddaughters present. For the first time Mrs. Perry had all of her daughters and daughters-in-law present. The men did a fine job of serving and washing dishes for the ladies.

Elsewhere in this edition you will find a notice of a zoning hearing to be held in the Franklin County Court House at 7:30 p. m. Apr. 5. Two cases will be heard. If you are interested, be sure to be there.

If you are approached to sign a petition for annexing to the City of Columbus, you are advised to wait until you have received additional information from the Citizens Association. There will be plenty of time to sign, if you should decide you want to. This is a very important issue and one that should naturally be given careful thought

Schiller Center Annexes Honors In Inter-Center Foul-Shooting

On Wednesday, Mar. 24, Beatty Recreation Center was the scene of an inter-center foul-shooting tournament sponsored by the Columbus Recreation Department. Twelve boys and girls represented Schiller Recreation Center in the event.

In the junior boys' division, Kenny Schumacher made nine out of 15 shots to tie for second place and then made five of the 10 additional shots required to break the tie and place third. Ronnie Firman made six of his 15 shots to come in fourth. Virginia Davis and Vivian Stiltner, with six for 15 and four for 15 respectively, placed fifth and sixth in the junior girls.

In the intermediate classification, Rusty White brought a first place to Schiller by making 20 out of 25 shots. Bob Woodward, also in this division, came in fifth with 14 of 25 successful free throws. Mary Alice Hillis placed second in the intermediate girls with 15 of 25 shots. First place in this division for the girls was won by Frances Brown of Beatty Center with 16 for 25 shots.

The senior girls' division had a three-way tie for first place when Doris Grinstead and Shirley Metzger, both from Schiller, and Shirley Berlo of Glenwood all made 17 out of 25 shots after Sonja Forgraves of Glenwood wrapped up first place with 18 of her 25 shots. In the 10 succeeding shots Doris Grinstead and Shirley Berlo each made seven successful baskets to tie again and Shirley Metzger made six to place fourth. When Shirley Berlo and Doris Grinstead shot their next 10 shots, Doris made seven for 10 to place third and Shirley made nine for 10 to come in second.

Tom Richards in the senior boys classification tied for first place by making 18 out of 25 shots and then placed second by making seven of his next 10 shots.

Other proud new parents are Mr. and Mrs. Phil Baughman, (now in Dayton) and Mr. and Mrs Russell Ferguson, who have baby girls, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bohn and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Muirhead who have new sons. Mrs. Muirhead is the former Romadell Schmuck and now lives in Fort Wayne.

We are sorry so many have been ill. Best wishes to A. A. Watson, Mr. R. Pinkerman, J. A Tussing, Myrna Hosler, Mrs. Helen Myers, Gilbert Shoulin Mrs. Hanna Russell and Di Schott. Also to JoAnn Marshall Mrs. Charles Ellis, Mrs. Velma Robey, Mrs. Vesta O'Morrow Everett Watters, Mrs. Mabel Williams, Mr. Art Starrett Florence Hieb, Mrs. Dick Metzger and Mrs. Kenneth Schirtzinger.

April 11 is Palm Sunday. A wonderful way to honor your loved ones who have passed away is to have us send flowers to your church in their memory on that day. A lovely Easter plant or arrangement of cut flowers would be a perfect tribute.

A very happy, though belated birthday to Dorotha Germaine Katie Williams, Mrs. Jack Kunze, Mrs. Thurman Russell, Mrs. John Noel and Mabel Metz

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

If we dwell upon life's bitterness,
Its disappointments and its tears,
We can't expect to find happiness
As we advance along the years.

For if joy or love can't enter
Into hearts that are meant for smiles;
Then heartaches in life will center,
And we face just troublesome miles.

Life's a mixture of good times and bad,
Sunshine often gives way to rain.
And if we are unhappy and sad,
Every hope we have is in vain.

In time, all bitterness and heartaches
Will give way to happiness.
Determination is what it takes,
For it's the key to real success.

By Joel Snyder

Columbus Town Meeting (WBNS-TV) last Sunday kept alive the current pressure by the City of Columbus to annex the surrounding areas to the city, intentional or not, we thought the case against annexation was presented rather weakly and left many questions unanswered.

Perhaps Marion Twp. is unique among the group of townships being considered for annexation. Perhaps the situation is not as evident in the other areas. This would be true in the townships where the lack of services and facilities was conspicuous. An invitation from the city to join forces would no doubt be met with open arms in these areas. When you have nothing and someone extends the welcome hand of friendship in exchange for an undeveloped potential, it would be wise to accept the offer at face value. It undoubtedly would be mutually beneficial to both parties in those cases

However, if an area, or a township, is completely solvent, and is providing all of the essential services and accomplishing these services satisfactorily at a cost no higher than would be paid elsewhere, you have an entirely different picture. In the case of Marion Twp., the closely knit governmental system, comparatively simple in operation, definitely has its advantages. In recent years it has been proven that de-centralization has some positive assets, in private industry as well as in government. Each unit under such a system has control over itself, free to render the decisions which are locally beneficial. In a metropolitan situation where the many facets of environment are collectively exposed, it is obvious that while certain restrictions or limitations may be desirable for one section, the same restraints may work a hardship on other areas where the same problems do not exist. In the large municipality however, the favor of exception cannot be granted and the law blankets the entire population regardless of the effects on certain portions.

With such a vast potential as is now held by Marion Twp., it would seem logical that those closest to the scene could make the wisest choices pertaining to the future development of the presently unoccupied land. In Marion Twp., it seems, industrialists have found a Utopia as far as desirable locations are concerned. It seems fairly certain that whether we remain a township or dissolve ourselves and are absorbed into the city of Columbus, industry will be a predominant factor in the future master plans. It goes without saying that these industries are the life blood of any community. They build our schools and pay for the other services that we all receive, through the heavy taxes they must pay on their evaluated property.

While we appreciate the important part industry plays in our community we likewise realize that industry must be treated as any other unit in a subdivision. In other words, there are certain areas where industries must be confined, so they do not interfere with the other units of the community. We realize that while industry is "paying our way," it is not without its drawbacks.

In the case of Marion Twp. it is clear to everyone that the city of Columbus is not wooing us for our

Rites Held For Well-Known GOP Worker

Funeral rites for Mrs. Roxie Chambers, devoted Republican party worker, who died last Thursday in St. Francis Hospital, were held at 1 p. m. Monday at South Methodist Church. Burial followed in Greenlawn Cemetery. Arrangements were in charge of Cook & Son Funeral Home.

Known nationally for her political activities, Mrs. Chambers, 121 E. Whittier-st, became ill early in the year.

She had been receptionist for ex-Mayor Robert T. Oestreicher and was an assistant secretary to State Auditor James A. Rhodes while he was mayor.

Mrs. Chambers was serving an unprecedented third two-year term as Republican State Central Committeewoman and was unopposed in the May primary election for a fourth term.

Born in Cambridge, Ohio, Mrs. Chambers moved to Columbus at an early age and lived most of her live in the traditionally Democratic South Side. Her husband, Boston Chambers, an insurance man, died in 1926. For a time, Mrs. Chambers carried on her husband's insurance business but her intefest soon shifted to Republican politics.

Starting at the precinct level, Mrs. Chambers was soon named committeewoman in the Second Ward. Between 1932 and 1940 she was chairwoman of the Republican Party's county organization.

Since 1932, she had attended all the GOP's national conventions at which she represented women's groups. One of the highlights of her career was attending the inauguration of President Eisenhower in 1952. Her work in Republican women's circles took her to Washington again last fall and just recently while ill she received a get-well letter from Mamie Eisenhower.

Mrs. Chambers maintained a life-long interest in music and served as choir director for the South Methodist Church for more than 37 years. She was also director of the Buckeye Women's Republican Glee Club and was proud of a picture in Life Magazine which showed her leading the group.

Among the many clubs of which she was a member were Women's Benevolent Society, White Cross Hospital Guild, Virginia Wright Mother's Guild, Women's Christian Temperance Union, Women's Federation of Ohio, as well as a number of state and local Republican Clubs.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. R. J. Woodward, 2260 Andover-rd; a son, R.R. Chambers, 121 E. Whittier-st; two grandchildren and a niece, Mrs. George Burkey, 318 Zimpfer-st, whom Mrs. Chambers raised.

According to school district officials, children born on or before Sept. 30, 1949, are eligible for kindergarten and children born on or before Nov. 15, 1948, are eligible for the first grade. Each child must be accompanied by a parent or a responsible adult when he registers.

Those entering the first grade will need a case history for the health department and an information blank for the school, while those enrolling in kindergarten will require only the information form. Birth certificates will be required for those who were not in kindergarten this school year.

Other registration dates and locations are as follows:

Scioto Trail area, 9-11 a. m. in Scioto Trail School on Apr. 21; Fornof area, 9-11 a. m. in Fornof School on Apr. 29; and Smith-rd area, 9-11 a. m. in Smith-rd School on May 11.

Girls Fom S. Side High Schools To Take Part In Easter Lily Sale

Girls from South and St. Mary High Schools and St. Joseph's Academy will take part in the Lily Parade for the benefit of crippled children on Saturday, Apr. 10. They will sell paper Easter lilies in downtown Columbus and in all suburban shopping centers as their contribution to the annual Easter Seal campaign conducted by the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children.

These girls will be gaily attired and wear special arm bands and banners identifying them as members of the Lily Parade. They will also carry baskets of paper Easter lilies, from which their sales will be made.

For the past three years girls in Columbus have led the entire nation in the sale of lilies. This year they will seek to make a still greater contribution to crippled children by exceeding their previous records. Cooperation of all Franklin County residents on Saturday will help the girls achieve their goal

The hand-made Easter lilies are the products of handicapped persons and produced to help crippled children enjoy brighter happier lives. Proceeds from the Lily Parade represent 20 per cent of the contributions needed annually for aiding crippled children in Franklin County.

Pattie Denney is heading the committee from South: Betty Cartwright and Peg Belhorn organized the group at St. Mary's; and Patricia Balthaser and Delores Clark arranged for volunteer workers from St. Joseph's Academy.

Volleyball Season Gets Underway At Schiller Center

The volleyball season got under way at Schiller with all leagues starting last week. In the Senior League, Salyer's Hot Shots defeated Central Community Church three games, 15-8, 15-3 and 15-6. Flips Clowns drew the bye.

Two series were played in the Intermediate League. The Golden Eagles won three games from Central Community Church, 15-6, 15-9, and 15-8. The Blackhawks won three [illegible] Brooks Blazers by forfeit.

The Junior League opened with the Bulldogs defeating Central Community Church three games, 15-4, 15-7, and 15-10.

In all of the games, competition was very good with team play predominating the games

Civic Group Rents 2 Cruisers To Constables Of Marion Twp.

Thanks to ingenuity and civic-mindedness of the MarionTwp. Safety Committee, Marion Twp. constables today are driving two new cruisers and can count on new cruisers every six months.

The two new cruisers were delivered by the U-Drive-It firm on Friday. Since state law forbids townships owning police equipment, the group of prominent residents and business men in the community decided to rent the cruisers and in turn rent them to the constables at cost.

Since no profit is involved in renting the cruisers to the constables, there is no violation of state law in the action of the safety committee.

The new system is similar to that in use in Grandview Heights where the police department rents instead of buys police cars, paying approximately $80 for each car a month.

Trailer Camp Case Will Be Heard Saturday

Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Clifford Saturday will hear contempt charges against Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Rockhold, operators of a [illegible] trailer court at 2317 Groveport-pk. At the same time he will consider a request of Mrs. Rockhold, 504 Olpp-st, for a restrainer to prevent Columbus and Southern Electric Co. from cutting off electricity to the camp.

Attorneys for Mrs. Rockhold Tuesday asked Common Pleas Judge Ralph J. Bartlett for the restrainer against the utility, but the jurist ruled then that the request should go before Judge Clifford with other phases of the case on Saturday.

Representatives of the county prosecutor's office have agreed to withhold the shut-off order until the Saturday hearing. Contempt charges faced by the Rockholds stem from violation of an earlier injunction against the camp handed down by Judge Clifford.

Schiller Starts Two New Tap Classes For Girls

Two beginning tap dancing classes have been started at Schiller Recreation Center. One class is open to all girls nine years of age and over. This class will meet on Wednesday afternoons from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. For girls who are five through eight years old, there will be a beginning class from 4 to 4:30 p. m. Wednesdays.

Schiller Clubs, Individuals Will Take Part In Fun Fair At Sunshine Center

Clubs and organizations from Schiller Recreation Center will again join in the fun at the annual Fun Fair to be held at Sunshine Recreation Center on Saturday, Apr. 10.

The city's six recreation centers will cooperate in the carnival-type fair sponsored by the Columbus Recreation Department. Prizes will be offered to the winners in these and many other booths operated on a paper money basis. Soft drinks and hot dogs will also be available for the hungry fair-goers

Plans for the evening include a dress-up dance for teen-agers, with music by Rickey Monroe and his orchestra (Courtesy of local musicians' union). Mayor Guest Of Roosevelt Jr. High Students

By Janice Goldberg

Students of Roosevelt Junior High School played host to Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner on Wednesday, Mar. 31. Mayor Sensenbrenner was the guest of Samuel Williams' 8A civics class.

The mayor had been invited to talk to the class by Julie Warner, one of the 8A students. Her project is to keep the class informed on what the mayor's office is doing. E. W. Cossum and his class were invited to join in the discussion with the mayor.

The classes, firing questions at the mayor all period, were answered quite fully. Mayor Sensenbrenner said he was in favor of the curfew, and vandals paying for their damages. He also said that he was in favor of more boys' clubs to help curb vandalism.

The mayor said that there would be a public hearing at city hall on Apr. 14 concerning increased recreation on the South Side

Robert Reed, a Roosevelt graduate, accompanied Mayor Sensenbrenner to the school.

Furniture Sold Same Evening Thru Want-Ad

"I received so many calls! And I sold both pieces of furniture the same evening." That's the note Mrs. Edward Klein, Jr., 754 Sullivant-av, tucked in with her statement and remittance after placing the following classified ad in this newspaper:

WALNUT WATERFALL wardrobe, like new, apartment range, good condition. Reasonable. FL. 4040 after 6.

Mrs. Klein has learned through actual experience that want-ads placed in this newspaper go into 32,000 homes and produce results greatly out of proportion to their small size. Have you cashed in yet on the mighty drawing power of these little ads. Call RA. 1123 or GA. 9262 for swift, courteous assistance in the wording of your want-ad.

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicks

Let's see, wasn't there a rumor that Spring had arrived? Wonder where the pretty little damsel hid herself. Seems to me it's pretty chilly outside.

A bare handful of items greets us, so this pleasant task won't take long to do, believe me.

Nancy Sides, a ninth grade student of Barrett Jr. High, wants to thank Mr. Darrow, her home room at Barrett, the Barrett orchestra, and Rev. Davis for the many kindnesses and remembrances shown to her at the time she lost her father, Albert Sides. Nancy's home room at Barrett is room 15, and Miss Wells is the teacher.

Mar. 27 was an important date in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gray, for it marked another year of wedded life.

Essie Buller made sure that the Gadabout knew she was no longer a p.p. in Frances Paulus' book, for she and Frances call and inform us that the planter's punch they'd joked about was duly bought and consumed last Wednesday.

Spending a wedding anniversary in the hospital doesn't seem very cheerful but that's the way Mrs. A. K. Graumlich spent her's. She and the well-known funeral director have been married 46 years, as of Mar. 31. For those folks who'd like to send cards, address them to Mercy Hospital.

Mar. 31 rang bells for ye Gadabout, as that was her mom and dad's anniversary date, also.

Force of habit did it? When we discussed the stork shower to be given for Geneva Thompson in last week's column, we inadvertently called her Geneva Donner, and did not catch our error when we reread the column. Our apologies, Geneva and Clint. Geneva was a member of our household for several years, so this approaching stork visit makes us feel almost grandmotherly!

We hear tell that George Black is not an advocate of foam rubber pillows, for they fight back. His wife, Mary Jane, told us of George's duel with the aforementioned article. Seems he made the mistake of doubling it. It went boing and his neck went crack. Needless to say, George is once again using his old pillow.

Jack Feil, 447 Stanley-av, found himself in Mercy Hospital last week when his bicycle turned bronco and threw him. At last reports he was getting along nicely although badly shaken up.

A sweet seventh grader at Roosevelt Jr. High has an Apr. 21 birthday in the offing and we don't want to miss this opportunity of wishing her lots more of the same. Beth Edwards is the young miss who will soon be 13 years old.

Julia Stevenson, a Morrill-av resident for many years, is now recuperating in the home of a daughter after a trip to St. Francis Hospital. Get-well cards should be addressed to 1346 Wilson-av.

'Tis meeting time again for Trudeau Guilds No. 25 and 10. The losers of the sales-tax contest feted the winners at the Tuesday meeting of Guild 25, held in the home of Maxine Crary. Guild 10 meets next Wednesday in the home of Donna Hampton. Co-hostess will be Marge Hoptry.

Mervin and Judy Edwards have reached the third year of their married life, as of last week.

Jack Speakmon of the famous performing twins, isn't doing much walking these days, and for a very good reason. A trip to Children's Hospital and the surgery performed there will relieve an infected condition on one of his pedal extremities. He's taking it quite cheerfully, needless to say.

A happy set of grandparents . . . why? Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Drugan of 2228 Groveport-rd. The new granddaughter is the little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Foris, same address. The former Barbare Wones is quite proudly displaying an eight pound 13½ ounce baby to her visitors at St Ann's Hospital. (She'll be able to do this at home by now, we think.)

Marge Hoptry has a new idea in the way of mixing cake frosting . . . use a skillet! (Not recommended by ye Gadabout, however!) Yep, we're always glad to pass on helpful hints to make homemaking an easier chore.

That about does it for this time and don't forget us here at GA. 1031. We'll be hoping to hear from you. Till next week.

The Gadabout.

Little Girl: We got a new baby at our house.

Little Boy: Didja turn in the old one?

Miss Campbell, Bradley Rutan Wed In Indiana

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Rutan

The bride is the daughter of Mr. F. R. Campbell, 184 E. Morrill-av, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rutan, 203 Fornoff-rd.

The new Mrs. Rutan is associated with the Puritan Packaging Co. and her husband is employed by the Columbus Jack Corporation.

The couple is residing at 184½ E. Morrill-av.

Sacrifcal Luncheon Set For Good Friday

The Good Friday annual sacrificial luncheon will be served at South Congregational Church on Good Friday, Apr. 16, at noon.

The Missionary group of the church will be in charge and Mrs. Charles S. Nichols will be the speaker. A silver offering will be received.

Good Friday evening, services will be conducted in the sanctuary at 8 p.m.

Principal To Address Siebert PTA Meeting

"Your Child Versus Summer" is the topic Paul Landquist, principal of Siebert Street and Beck Street Schools, has chosen for Siebert Parent Education study group Wednesday, Apr. 14, at 1:30 p.m.

Pre-school children will be cared for in the nursery.

COMMUNION BREAKFAST

On Sunday, Apr. 11, members of St. Leo's Court No. 1475, Catholic Order of Foresters, will perform their Easter duty by receiving Holy Communion at the 6:30 a. m. Mass at St. Leo's Church. Breakfast will be served after Mass in the school cafeteria. All adult members and Boy Rangers all requested to attend.

The Gadabout

By Priscilla LaRue Dicks

Let's see, wasn't there a rumor that Spring had arrived? Wonder where the pretty little damsel hid herself. Seems to me it's pretty chilly outside.

A bare handful of items greets us, so this pleasant task won't take long to do, believe me.

Dorothy Whitacre, the Dotty of the Whitacre ad, is due for a birthday on the 12th of this month, so a verbal bouquet to this gracious lady

Nancy Sides, a ninth grade student of Barrett Jr. High, wants to thank Mr. Darrow, her home room at Barrett, the Barrett orchestra, and Rev. Davis for the many kindnesses and remembrances shown to her at the time she lost her father, Albert Sides. Nancy's home room at Barrett is room 15, and Miss Wells is the teacher.

Mar. 27 was an important date in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gray, for it marked another year of wedded life.

Essie Buller made sure that the Gadabout knew she was no longer a p.p. in Frances Paulus' book, for she had Frances call and inform us that the planter's punch they'd joked about was duly bought and consumed last Wednesday.

Spending a wedding anniversary in the hospital doesn't seem very cheerful but that's the way Mrs. A. K. Graumlich spent her's She and the well-known funeral director have been married 46 years, as of Mar. 31. For those folks who'd like to send cards, address them to Mercy Hospital.

Mar. 31 rang bells for ye Gadabout, as that was her mom and dad's anniversary date, also.

Force of habit did it? When we discussed the stork shower to be given for Geneva Thompson in last week's column, we inadvertently called her Geneva Donner, and did not catch our error when we reread the column. Our apologies, Geneva and Clint. Geneva was a member of our household for several years, so this approaching stork visit makes us feel almost grandmotherly!

We hear tell that George Black is not an advocate of foam rubber pillows, for they fight back. His wife, Mary Jane, told us of George's duel with the aforementioned article. Seems he made the mistake of doubling it. It went boing and his neck went crack. Needless to say, George is once again using his old pillow!

Jack Feil, 447 Stanley-av, found himself in Mercy Hospital last week when his bicycle turned throw and threw him. At last reports he was getting along nicely although badly shaken up.

A sweet seventh grader at Roosevelt Jr. High has an Apr. 21 birthday in the offing and we don't want to miss this opportunity of wishing her lots more of the same. Beth Edwards is the young miss who will soon be 13 years old.

Julia Stevenson, a Morrill-av resident for many years, is now recuperating in the home of a daughter after a trip to St. Francis Hospital. Get-well cards should be addressed to 1346 Wilson-av.

'Tis meeting time again for Trudeau Guilds No. 25 and 10. The losers of the sales-tax contest feted the winners at the Tuesday meeting of Guild 25, held in the home of Maxine Crary. Guild 10 meets next Wednesday in the home of Donna Hampton. Co-hostess will be Marge Hoptry.

Mervin and Judy Edwards have reached the third year of their married life, as of last week.

Jack Speakmon of the famous performing twins, isn't doing much walking these days, and for a very good reason. A trip to Children's Hospital and the surgery performed there will relieve an infected condition on one of his pedal extremities. He's taking it quite cheerfully, needless to say.

A happy set of grandparents . . . why? Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Drugan of 2228 Groveport-rd. The new granddaughter is the little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Foris, same address. The former Barbare Wones is quite proudly displaying an eight pound 13½ ounce baby to her visitors at St Ann's Hospital. (She'll be able to do this at home by now, we think.)

Marge Hoptry has a new idea in the way of mixing cake frosting . . . use a skillet! (Not recommended by ye Gadabout, however!) Yep, we're always glad to pass on helpful hints to make homemaking an easier chore.

That about does it for this time and don't forget us here at GA. 1051. We'll be hoping to hear from you. Till next week.

The Gadabout.

Little Girl: We got a new baby at our house.

Little Boy: Didja turn in the old one?

Miss Campbell, Bradley Rutan Wed In Indiana

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Rutan

The bride is the daughter of Mr. F. R. Campbell, 184 E. Morrill-av, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rutan, 203 Fornoff-rd.

The new Mrs. Rutan is associated with the Puritan Packaging Co. and her husband is employed by the Columbus Jack Corporation.

The couple is residing at 184½ E. Morrill-av.

Sacrifcal Luncheon Set For Good Friday

The Good Friday annual sacrificial luncheon will be served at South Congregational Church on Good Friday, Apr. 16, at noon.

The Missionary group of the church will be in charge and Mrs. Charles S. Nichols will be the speaker. A silver offering will be received.

Good Friday evening services will be conducted in the sanctuary at 8 p.m.

Principal To Address Siebert PTA Meeting

"Your Child Versus Summer" is the topic Paul Lindquist, principal of Siebert Street and Beck Street Schools, has chosen for Siebert Parent Education study group Wednesday, Apr. 14, at 1:30 p.m.

Pre-school children will be cared for in the nursery.

COMMUNION BREAKFAST

On Sunday, Apr. 11, members of St. Leo's Court No. 1475, Catholic Order of Foresters, will perform their Easter duty by receiving Holy Communion at the 6:30 a. m. Mass at St. Leo's Church. Breakfast will be served after Mass in the school cafeteria. All adult members and Boy Rangers all requested to attend.

Cub Scout Pack 135 Starts Second Year

Cub Scout Pack 135 of Oakwood Methodist Church is now starting its second year. The past year was filled with many special events for the boys and the second year is going to be even better.

Last year featured trips to the Port Columbus Naval Air Station, the C&O Roundhouse, the Lockbourne Air Force Base and picnics, wiener roasts and other outings at Blendon and Blacklick Woods, plus many individual den trips and projects.

This year the many plans for the boys include their first participation in the annual Scout-O-Rama. The pack was chosen to send one den mother and four boys (one from each den) to the Mar. 25 Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon to demonstrate what they are to do at the Scout-O-Rama. It was quite a thrill to go as they were the only scouts chosen from the Central Ohio Council. Those attending were Mrs. Rebecca McCaleb, Chuckie Narcross, Jerry Baker and Paul Diles.

Chairman, Hollis Dunning, 1159 Ellsworth-av; cub master, Clarence Narcross, 1096 Sycamore-st; asst. cub master, Eldon Debus, 709 S. Champion-av; secretary, Wendell E. Lust, 622 E. Hawkins, billed as "11 yards of personality," is a featured star of RCA Victor and King records, WWVA Jamboree, and WFIL Television. For years his King records have been top sellers throughout a dozen foreign countries, a very unusual accomplishment for an American folk singer.

...PTA WILL ELECT

Corpus Christi PTA will elect new officers at the regular meeting Friday, Apr. 9. An educational movie will be shown after the meeting.

Hello:

Have you ordered your flowers yet for the palm Sunday services in your church? It is the perfect way to honor the memory of loved ones.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rohrer who have recently celebrated their 7th anniversary, and also to Mr and Mrs. Oscar Jenkins. "It's a Boy" for Mr. and Mrs. Roy Latta. Best wishes to the new little one.

Our list of convalescents is long, and we do hope each and every one is up and about by now. Best wishes to Mrs. Mary Larrick, Mrs. Don Perry, Mrs. Albert Gramlich, Mrs. James T. Perry, Jack Feil, Marie Long and Esther Sampsill. Also to little eight-year-old Norma Frey, Esther Knospel, Leona Petty, Mrs. Beall, Frank Bajus, Mrs. Earl A. Becker, Mrs. Emma Graumlich, and special best wishes to Jerome Richardson.

Our new greenhouse is completed and waiting to be filled with Easter plants. Our selection will be large of lilies, hydrangeas, hyacinths, tulips and other plants. An Easter corsage is a MUST for every gal in town, from Grandmas down to little sisters. When you give us your order, tell us if we don't ask, what the corsage will be worn with so that we can make it "to order" and it will blend in with your costume.

gorgeous landscape. Keeping in mind that we are the ones who are living with the "drawbacks", we also realize that if we were to come into the city the large amount of tax monies paid by these corporations would be dispersed evenly throughout the entire metropolitan area and all that we would have to show for it would be the factories in our back yard.

By the same token we'd stand a fat chance of making ourselves heard when we wanted to let off some steam. We're just 11,000 people, and in a metropolis of a half million our loudest protestations wouldn't sound like even a whisper. It's fairly certain that the city would not be as discriminate in their choice of locations for new industries as we ourselves would be. Let us again say that we welcome new industries, but we say we deserve the right to help develop the over-all plan and reap the benefits.

During the past week we've seen the new cruisers and they're very impressive. Elwood Webb is now a sergeant, ya'know . . . The new Galion road grader has been in operation and is a beauty. The only disappointment is that it can't cook the operator's lunch . . . The trustees will probably investigate the possibilities of launching our own water and sewage system. That is not out of the question, you'll be interested in knowing . . . The Citizens Association is preparing a statement for the press in retaliation to the annexation rumors.

H. J. Rockhold will be called to the common pleas court at 9:30 Saturday morning for a hearing on contempt charges following action taken against his trailer court . . . On Monday Mrs. Rockhold will be called before the grand jury at 1:30 p.m. . . . We're glad to have you back TOO, Kathryn Price . . . Dr. John Schott is in Room 211-south, at Doctors Hospital with a broken back. Best wishes for a speedy recovery, Doc . . . Pauline Macklin returned home Monday, and is recuperating from a major operation . . . Frank Bajus is convalescing from an operation, too . . . Mrs. Willard Brantner and her children have just returned from a vacation in Georgia where she was visiting relatives.

St. John's Evangelical Protestant Church, 59 E. Mound-st, is having its annual reunion of confirmation classes at 7:30 p.m. Palm Sunday, Apr. 11. The Silver Anniversary Class will be the class of 1929 which was the first class of Rev. Gottlieb Siegenthaler. Mrs. Helen Arnold Koetz is chairman of this class and is trying to locate all of the members. If you were in ANY of these classes and cannot attend, they are asking that you drop a card to the church, letting them know your address and some information about your family. Try to attend the service and the reception which will be held in the chapel.

Next Tuesday, Apr. 13, at 8 p.m. there will be a very important meeting of the Citizens Association. The main theme will be the topic of annexation and many facts and figures unpublished until that time will be presented to those in attendance. All members and friends of Marion Twp. should be there. If you are not a member and wish to become one that would be a good time to sign up. Come and bring your neighbor.

Candidates for the new officers will be announced and additional nominations will be asked for. Election will be held in May and it would be advisable to get acquainted with the candidates at this meeting. John Nippert, the well-oiled wheel during the past year, is being groomed for the presidency, and wisely so. After listening to the nominating committee relate how a couple of prospects for the presidency turned down the offer because they didn't think they would have the time to do it justice, John quipped, "Sure, let John do it, he doesn't have anything to do." Anybody who knows John knows how many irons he has in the fire. He's usually busier than the proverbial one-armed paper hanger. Be that as it may, we appreciate the fact that John has consented to run, and know if elected he will do a job that could not be bettered by anyone in the township. In spite of his varied activities he has always been duty-bound to the organization and has always done more than his share.

If this sounds suspiciously like we're campaigning for Nippert, you can take my word for it, we're not hurling the other candidate's feelings. He thinks John would make the best president too.

Unfortunately the Clarfield PTC is sponsoring a hillbilly jamboree at the high school the same night and we're sorry that the dates conflict. "Hawkshaw" Hawkins and "Doc" Williams and the "Border Riders" will carry the ball for the jamboree which will begin at 8 p.m. Admission is 50c and 75c.

Don't forget. Both the Citizens Association and the jamboree at the high school, next Tuesday, Apr. 13.

I'm making another plea for more calls from the readers of this column, if any. By the response I receive from my plea for more calls I guess I can assume I have only one reader—my wife. (She always tells me she likes it.) My number is GA. 6886 and for goodness sakes, please CALL. I can't make up this column without any news. I'll accept anything from when you got your last haircut to who has a hang-nail.

See you at the Citizens Association . . . They want your OPINION.
